JULIAN CALENDAR

The Festivals of the Eastern Orthodox Church are based on the Julian Calendar. (See p 2.)

THE CALENDAR

The Julian Calendar

The calendar is a method of identifying the passage of time and thereby regulating our civil life and religious observances.

Days, months, and years are based on astronomical periods. The day is the time it takes the earth to make one revolution on its axis, the month is associated with the period of rotation of the moon around the earth, while the year has to do with the rotation of the earth around the sun.

Many religious ideas and observances have been connected with the changes of the moon, and in ancient times the calendar took account of the moon rather than the seasons. From new moon to new moon is 29.530 days, and from one spring equinox to the next is 365.24219 days. Since the two are incommensurable, the modern calendar disregards the moon.

June in January sounds very well in a song but having summer coming in a winter month in actual life is not desirable.

When Julius Caesar came to power, the Roman Calendar was hopelessly confused. With the advice of the Alexandrian astronomer, Sosigenes, Julius Caesar established the Julian Calendar. The length of the year was taken as 365¼ days, and in order to account for the ¼ day, an extra day was added every fourth year. From 45 B.C. each month has had its present number of days. In the old Roman Calendar which was based on the moon an extra month was inserted to straighten out the difference between twelve lunations, 354.37 days, and 355 days, which they called a year. This was inserted when necessary after February 23rd. In the Julian Calendar the extra day was added by repeating the sixth day before the Kalends (1st) of March, whence comes our word bissextile for leap year.

Calendar trouble was not over. Due to a misunderstanding about inserting the intercalary day, by the time 8 B.C. came, the year began three days too late. Augustus rectified this by omitting all intercalations till A.D. 8 and no further change was made till the reform of Pope Gregory XIII in A.D. 1582.

The Julian Calendar is known as the "Old Style" and after the change made by Pope Gregory as the "New Style"; the difference between the two is 13 days. The Calendar so arranged is known as the "Old Style" and is now used by the Eastern Orthodox Church in Russia, Ukrainia, Syria and Palestine.

Many Canadian citizens of Russian, Greek, Ukrainian or Syrian descent, thus observe their Christmas Day on Jan. 7 Gregorian.

The Gregorian Calendar

But as the Solar Year is 11 minutes, 12 seconds less than the Julian Year of 365¼ days, it followed in course of years that the Julian Calendar became inaccurate by several days, and in 1582 this difference amounted to 10 days. Pope Gregory XIII, at the suggestion of Aloysius Lilius, an astronomer of Naples, determined to rectify this, and devised the Calendar now known as the Gregorian Calendar. He dropped or cancelled these 10 days—October 5th being called October 15th—and made centurial years Leap years only once in 4 centuries; so that whilst 1700, 1800 and 1900 were to be ordinary years, 2000 would be Leap year. This modification brought the Gregorian year into such close exactitude with the Solar year that there is only a difference of 26 seconds, which amounts to a day in 3,323 years. This is the "New Style". The Gregorian Calendar was adopted in Italy, France, Spain, Portugal and Poland in 1582, by most of the German Roman Catholic states, Holland and Flanders in 1583, Hungary in 1587. The adoption in Switzerland began in 1584 and was not completed till 1812. The German and Dutch Protestant states generally, along with Denmark adopted it in 1700. British dominions in 1752, Sweden in 1753, Japan in 1873, China in 1912, Bulgaria in 1915, Turkey and Soviet Russia in 1918, Yugoslavia in 1919, Romania and Greece in 1924, Turkey in 1927 The rules for Easter have not however, been adopted by those oriental churches that are not subject to the Papacy.

The difference between the two "Styles" will remain 13 days until A.D. 2100.

The Jewish Calendar

The Jewish Calendar from the institution of the Mosaic Law downward was a lunar one, consisting of twelve months. The cycles of religious feasts commencing with the passover depending not only on the month but on the Moon; the 14th of the month of Abid or Nisan was coincident with the full moon; and the new moons themselves were the occasions of regular festivals; the commencement of the month was generally determined by observations of the new moon, but twelve lunar months would make but 354½ days, the years would be short twelve days of the true year and it was necessary that an additional month Veader, be inserted about every third year.

The modern Jewish Calendar is based on fixed rules and not on observation. A common year may contain 353, 354 or 355 days and the Leap year 383, 384 or 385 days. The intercalary month always contains 30 days and is inserted next before the month Adar which name and place it takes. Adar itself is called second Adar or Veadar. Tishri 1 is the Jewish New Year and it cannot be a Sunday, Wednesday or Friday. Tishri 1 is not necessarily the day of new moon but is governed by a mean new moon which is calculated from the value of a mean lunation. It is complicated as compared with the Gregorian Calendar. The intercalary month is introduced seven times in every nineteen years.

The identification of the Jewish months with our own cannot be effected with precision on account of the variations existing between the lunar and solar month. The Jewish Calendar is given on page 3.

The Mohammedan Calendar

The Mohammedan Calendar is called also the Calendar of Hegira (i.e. Migration) and is attributed to the primary migration of Mohammed, the Prophet of Islam, on September 20th, 622 A.D. from Mecca, his native city in the land of Hejaz, Arabia, to the city of Medina in the north of the same land. In Medina the Prophet and Founder of the Islamic Faith died and was buried.

Each year consists of 12 lunar months, and since no intercalation is made the months go round the seasons in between 32 and 33 years. In civil life there seems to be confusion as to the beginning of the month and unless both the day of week and day of the month are stated it is impossible to give an exact interpretation to a date.

The Mohammedan Calendar is observed by all the Moslems in Arabia, Yemen, Iraq, Transjordania, Persia, Afghanistan, India, Syria, Palestine, Egypt Tripoli, Tunis, Algeria, Morocco, and in Turkey both Asiatic and European.

The year 1368, according to the Hegira Calendar began on November 2, 1948; the year 1369, on October 12, 1949, Gregorian.

Other Calendars in Use

Other calendars in use at the present day, in addition to those above, include the Coptic, Hindu, Persian.

Calendar Reform

Reform of the calendar, so that it may be balanced in structure, perpetual in form and harmonious in arrangement, has long been under discussion.

In 1937, international opinion as to the desirability of calendar reform was explored by the League of Nations. Of 45 replies received, 14 governments indicated their willingness to adopt the perpetual calendar known as The World Calendar. Only 6 governments took a definite stand against such a reform.

The World Calendar comprises equal quarters in which the first month of each has 31 days and the other two 30 days each. These quarters contain exactly 91 days, 13 weeks and 3 months, with 13 Sundays and 78 weekdays, while each month has 26 weekdays. The 365th day becomes the Year-End Day, between December 30th and January 1st. In leap years a Leap-Year Day is interposed between June 30th and July 1st. Every January 1st falls on a Sunday, as does the first day of the other quarters. Thus the calendar is symmetrical and in keeping with the solar year and the seasons.

A suggestion has been made that the Year-End Day, a world holiday dedicated to international friendship, be called United Nations Day.

The World Calendar is sponsored by the World Calendar Association, 630 Fifth Ave., New York, and by affiliated calendar reform organizations throughout the world; in Canada by The Rational Calendar Association of Canada, which is listed in this volume; see index. These associations are striving to win favor for reform by lectures and publications and suggest its adoption to start on Sunday, January 1st, 1950. This is the earliest date on which the Gregorian calendar and the New World Calendar meet.

On July 15, 1946, the Hon. Karl E. Mundt, Republican, introduced a Bill in the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, being joined by the Hon. John Kee, Democrat, for adoption of The World Calendar by the government of the United States. The proposed legislation also directed the President of the United States to seek international adoption.

The Inter-American Economic and Social Council of the Pan American Union placed The World Calendar on its agenda and referred the subject to its Committee on Commerce for further study and report.

THE WEEK

The division of the week is found only among Aryan nations and in regions into which they have penetrated. The day is, for convenience, divided into 24 equal parts and is the period of a single rotation of the earth upon its own axis.

A Solar or Astronomical day commences at midnight, and is divided into two equal portions of 12 hours each—those before noon being termed (A.M.) those after noon (P.M.).

The Chinese week consists of 5 days, which are named after iron, wood, water, feathers and earth; they divide the day into 12 parts of 2 hours each.

The Anglo-Saxons named the days of the week after the following deities; Sunday, the Sun; Monday, the Moon; Tuesday, Tuesco (God of War); Wednesday, Woden (God of Storms); Thursday, Thor (God of Thunder); Friday, Freya (Goddess of Love); Saturday, Saturn (God of Time).

The word week is from Wikon (German); = change, succession.

In The Soviet Union up to June 27, 1940 the six-day week prevailed in many factories, etc.; that is, five days of work followed by a day of rest. The free days were usually the 6th, 12th, 18th, 24th, and 30th of the month. In some industries where there is continuous production (steel mills, chemical plants, mines, etc.) there was a five-day week—that is four days of work followed by a rest day. On June 27th, 1940, by ukase of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R. the seven day week was introduced everywhere in the Soviet Union, Sunday being observed as a day of rest.

Dominical Letter

The Roman Calendar makers placed the letters A.B.C.D.E.F.G. against the day of the year. The letter which stands against the Sundays is known as the Dominical Letter. In Leap year since no letter is set opposite the added day one letter appears for January and February and the letter preceding for the remainder of the year.

Example—

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G
1948	Th.	Fri.	Sat.	Sun.	Mon.	Tu.	Wed.
Jan.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Feb.	26	27	28	29
	A	B	C	—	D	E	F
Mar.					1	2	3

Jan. 4 (Sun.) is D. D therefore is the Dominical letter for Jan. and Feb. Since no letter is assigned for Feb. 29, Sunday from then on comes under the preceding letter, C, which is the letter for the remainder of the year.

Golden Number—The calendar for the phases of the moon is nearly the same every 19 years which is known as the Metonic Cycle. The Golden Number is its number in this Metonic Cycle. To find the Golden Number for 1950 add 1 to 1950 and divide by 19. The remainder, 13, is the Golden Number.

Epact is the age of the moon on some fixed day of the calendar year. (January 1 Gregorian Calendar).

Solar Cycle

In the Julian Calendar the days of the year recurred on the same days of the week in 7 x 4 years; 28 years was called the Solar Cycle. It is little used now.

The Cycle of the Indiction, is a non-astronomical cycle of 15 years. Following Diocletian's reconquest of Egypt in A.D. 297 a provincial census was taken and repeated every 15 years.

Julian Period

This is a combination of the Solar Cycle of 28 years, the Metonic or Lunar Cycle of 19 years, and the Cycle of the Indiction, 15 years. These are all supposed to begin on January 1 of the Julian Calendar which was 4713 B.C. The Julian days are numbered consecutively from Greenwich mean noon on January 1, 4713 B.C.

STANDARD TIME ZONES IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA

SOLAR, SIDEREAL AND STANDARD TIME

Apparent Time. — By apparent noon is meant the moment when the sun is on the meridian, and apparent time is measured by the distance in degrees that the sun is east or west of the meridian. Apparent time is given by the sun dial.

Mean Time. — The interval between apparent noon on two successive days is not constant, and a clock cannot be constructed to keep apparent time. For this reason mean time is used. The length of a mean day is the average of all the apparent days throughout the year. The real sun moves about the ecliptic in one year; an imaginary mean sun is considered as moving uniformly around the celestial equator in one year. The difference between the times that the real sun and the mean sun cross the meridian (i.e. between apparent noon and mean noon) is the equation of time.

Sidereal Time. — This is time as determined from the stars. It is sidereal 0 hours when the Vernal Equinox or First of Aries is on the meridian. In accurate time-keeping the moment when a star is on the meridian is observed and the corresponding mean time is then computed with the assistance of the Nautical Almanac or by the help of the table on page 19. (See notes, pages 6-7). When a telescope is mounted equatorially the position of a body in the sky is located by means of the sidereal time.

Standard Time. —

Owing to the great breadth of the Dominion the difference in solar time in various parts of the country is adjusted by the creation of Standard Time Zones, one hour in width, fixed between arbitrary lines running north and south, 15° of longitude apart, the time observed in each zone being an exact number of hours slow from Greenwich.

Example: When it is 8 a.m. by Pacific Time it is 12 noon by Atlantic Time and 4 p.m. at Greenwich.

There are seven zones divided as follows, reckoning from Greenwich:

Newfoundland Standard Time	Newfoundland, including Labrador, 3½ Hours slow.
Atlantic Standard Time 60th Meridian Time	New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and those parts of Quebec and N.W.T. east of the 68th Meridian, 4 hours slow. (Railway time changes going west at Campbellton and Saint John, N.B.)
Eastern Standard Time 75th Meridian Time	Quebec west of the 68th Meridian and Ontario as far west as the 90th Meridian; N.W.T. between the 68th and 85th Meridian, 5 hours slow. (Railway time changes going west at Fort William and Armstrong.)
Central Standard Time 90th Meridian Time	Ontario west of the 90th Meridian, Manitoba, southeasterly part of Saskatchewan and N.W.T. between the 85th and 102nd Meridian, 6 hours slow. (Railway time changes going west at Broadview, Watrous, Arcola, Neudorf, Humboldt, Kipling, and Hudson Bay Junction.)
Mountain Standard Time 105th Meridian Time	Saskatchewan except in the southeasterly part; throughout Alberta and in N.W.T. between the 102nd and 120th Meridian, 7 hours slow. (Railway time changes going west at Jasper, Crow's Nest and Field.)
Pacific Standard Time 120th Meridian Time	Throughout British Columbia and in N.W.T. west of the 120th Meridian, 8 hours slow.
Yukon Standard Time 135th Meridian Time	Throughout Yukon Territory, 9 hours slow.

Standard Times as used by the railways in traversing these Zones are in genera use. Solar time around the globe varies four minutes with each degree of longitude.

The Standard Time Zones in Canada and the United States are shown on the map above

DAYLIGHT SAVING OR SUMMER TIME

Prior to the war, Daylight-Saving Time in Canada was a matter of local regulation. Railways ran on Standard Time. Many cities and towns adopted Daylight-Saving Time for the summer months, especially in the east, but probably most towns and rural communities throughout the Dominion observed normal (Standard) time.

In September 1940, a Dominion order-in-council required municipalities in Ontario and Quebec which had been observing daylight-saving time, to continue to do so indefinitely, throughout the year, as a power-conserving measure.

On January 26th, 1942, by Order in Council P.C. 547, Daylight Saving was made obligatory on all municipalities in Canada throughout the year.

On Sept. 30th, 1945 this order was revoked and Canada reverted to Standard time, subject, as before the war, to local regulation. In subsequent years many cities in Canada, went on Fast time from the end of April to the end of September.

Due to a power shortage in 1949, some municipalities in Ontario, e.g. Toronto, remained on D.S.T. until November 27.

In Great Britain Summer Time was originally enacted by law in 1916. An Act of 1922 specified that the time should be advanced 1 hour at 2 a.m. G.M.T. on the morning of the day following the third Saturday in April, or if that day is Easter-day, the day following the second Saturday, and should end at 2 a.m. G.M.T. on the morning of the day next following the third Saturday in September. The Act, renewed in 1924 and 1925, was made permanent and modified by substituting the first Saturday in October for third Saturday in September. The Act applies to Great Britain, Northern Ireland, Channel Islands and the Isle of Man.

During the war, Summer time in Great Britain and Northern Ireland was extended beyond its normal period, later made continuous throughout the year and finally increased an extra hour (double Summer Time) during the summer months.

In 1946 normal Summer Time was resumed and was in effect from April 14th to October 6th.

In 1947 Double British Summer Time was re-introduced and became effective between April 13th and August 10th, when normal Summer-Time, i.e., one hour in advance of Greenwich Mean Time, was resumed and remained in operation until October 31, when Normal Greenwich Time came into force again.

In 1948 British Summer Time, i.e., one hour ahead of Greenwich Mean Time was in operation from March 14th to October 31st.

In 1949 the same arrangement came into effect from April 2nd to October 30th.

In the United States Daylight Saving Time is a matter of local legislation; on February 9, 1942, legislation became effective placing the entire nation on Daylight Saving (War) Time but this legislation was rescinded on Sept. 30th, 1945.

ECLIPSES DURING 1950

In the year 1950 there will be four eclipses, two of the sun and two of the moon. Of these, only one, a total eclipse of the moon on September 25-26, will be visible generally in Canada.

1. An annular eclipse of the sun on March 18, visible in the South Atlantic and in parts of South America, Antarctica and South Africa; not visible in North America.

2. A total eclipse of the moon on April 2, visible in Europe, most of Asia, Africa, Australia, parts of South America, etc.; not visible in North America.

3. A total eclipse of the sun on September 12, visible as a total eclipse in a narrow path extending from near the North Pole across the north-eastern tip of Siberia into the North Pacific, visible as a partial eclipse in north-eastern Asia, the North Pacific, Alaska and the Yukon; not visible generally in North America.

4. A total eclipse of the moon on the night of September 25-26. The moon will enter the umbra at 21 32 E.S.T. on September 25, total eclipse will begin at 22 54 and end at 23 40, and the moon will leave the umbra at 01 02 E.S.T. on September 26. In practically all of North America all phases of the eclipse will be visible.

NOTES ON THE ASTRONOMICAL TABLES

The purpose of the following notes is to explain the tables and charts which are not self-explanatory and to illustrate the uses to which they may be put.

Sunrise, Sunset, Moonrise and Moonset (see tables pp. 9 to 15). These tables give Standard Times of risings and settings for the places to which they apply (i.e. E.S.T. for Toronto and Ottawa, C.S.T for Winnipeg, P.S.T. for Vancouver). The calculations are for the upper limb (edge) of the sun and they are made for the astronomical (sea) horizon.

Accordingly, the times will not be correct if the observer is below or above the level of his visible horizon at the point of sunrise or sunset.

The times of sunrise and sunset for a place other than those given in the table can be obtained with a fair degree of precision by proceeding as follows: Choose two places in the table which bracket your latitude; take the times of sunrise (or sunset) of each of these; change each to Local Mean Time by adding (or subtracting) 4 minutes of time per degree for the number of degrees of longitude by which that place is east (or west) of the standard meridian of its time zone. Then, by finding the change per degree of latitude difference, find the local Mean Time for your own latitude. Finally add (or subtract) 4 minutes for each degree of longitude which you are west (or east) of your standard meridian to obtain Standard Time.

If the place has a latitude nearly equal to that of one of the places listed (say within half a degree) the procedure may be simplified: For each degree by which the place is west (or east) of the listed place add (or subtract) 4 minutes to the tabulated value of the listed place. This gives the time of sunrise or sunset in the Standard Time of the listed place; change to the standard Time of the required place if it is in a different time zone.

Example: Required to find the time of sunset on Jan. 1, 1950 for Quebec City (lat. 46° 48′ N. long. 71° 13′ W).

From tables: Ottawa 16 30, Winnipeg 16 37. Ottawa is about ¾° west of 75th meridian; Winnipeg is about 7° west of 90th meridian. Therefore L.M.T. for Ottawa is 16 30 − 3 = 16 27, and L.M.T. for Winnipeg is 16 37 − 28 = 16 09. Difference in latitude of Winnipeg and Ottawa is about 5°. Thus sunset is earlier from the latitude of Ottawa northward by about 3½ minutes per degree of latitude and, since Quebec is about 1½° farther north than Ottawa, the L.M.T. of sunset at Quebec is 16 27 − 5 = 16 22. Since Quebec is about 3¾° east of the 75th meridian the E.S.T. of sunset at Quebec is 16 22 − 15 = 16 07.

Note: Since Montreal and Ottawa are at about the same latitude the E.S.T. of sunrise and sunset for Montreal may be taken as simply 9 minutes earlier than at Ottawa.

The times of moonrise and moonset are not easily obtained with precision for places other than those listed in the tables because of the more rapid motion of the moon. However, by using the Ottawa, Winnipeg or Vancouver values for Eastern, Central or Western Canada respectively, the errors will usually be less than half an hour.

Azimuth of the Sun at Rising and Setting (see table on page 18). Only twice a year, namely about March 21 and September 23, does the sun rise and set more or less exactly in the east and the west respectively. It is of interest and sometimes of value to know the position of sunrise and sunset at other times. The table on page 18 tabulates these positions in degrees east of north and west of north for sunrise and sunset respectively for a selection of latitudes and dates. For latitudes and dates other than those tabulated take simple proportions.

Time when the Sun is on the Meridian (see table on page 19). If Standard Time is to be obtained from a sun-dial or from a noon marker or, conversely if direction is to be obtained by the sun from a knowledge of time, it is necessary to know the time when the sun is on the meridian, i.e., due south. The correction to the sun-dial is given for every third day in the table on page 19. (Take simple proportions for intermediate days.) Add this to Apparent Solar Time to obtain Local Mean Time. To obtain Standard Time add (or subtract) 4 minutes per degree of longitude by which you are west (or east) of your standard meridian.

Example: At Toronto on February 3rd what is the Eastern Standard Time when a vertical peg casts a shadow due north?

It is then noon Apparent Solar Time. Correction to the sun-dial from table is +13m.50s. Therefore Local Mean Time is 12h. 13m. 50s. and since Toronto is 4⅖° west of the 75th meridian, the Eastern Standard Time is 12h. 13m. 50s. + 17m. 40s. = 12h. 31m. 30s.

Sidereal Time (see table on page 19). For any given moment the local sidereal time may be obtained with an accuracy of a second or two from the table of the Ephemeris of the Sun as follows: In this table choose the date next preceding the given moment. For this date apply the correction to the sun-dial with sign reversed to the sun's apparent right ascension, then add or subtract 12 hours. The result is the Greenwich Sidereal Time (G.S.T.) for 0h G.M.T. on the tabular date. Advance this time by the G.M.T. of the required moment and by 3m 57s per day (about 10s per hour) for the interval between the tabular date and the required moment; finally retard the time by the longitude west expressed in hours, minutes and seconds.

Example: Required to find the local sidereal time for Toronto (longitude 5h, 17m 40s W.) at 22 40 E.S.T. Sept. 11.

G.M.T. of required moment is 3 40 Sept. 12. From table 0h G.M.T. Sept. 10 is 11h 11m 07s + 2m 43s + 12h = 23h 13m 50s G.S.T. Therefore 3h 40m G.M.T. Sept. 12 is 23h 13m 50s + 3h 40m + 2 × 3m 57s + 3⅔ × 10s = 27h 02m 21s or 3h 02m 21s G.S.T. Therefore local sidereal time is 3h 02m 21s − 5h 17m 40s = 21h 44m 41s.

Altitude of the Sun at Meridian Passage (see table on page 19). For architectural or gardening purposes it may be of value to know the maximum (i.e. noon-time) altitude of the sun at various seasons. This is obtained from the table of the sun's apparent declination which is listed for every third day. (Take simple proportions for intermediate days.) Proceed as follows: Subtract your latitude (presumed in the northern hemisphere) from 90°; add or subtract (as indicated by the sign) the value of the sun's declination for the proper date.

Example: How high is the sun at noon on November 23rd at Quebec City (latitude 46° 48′)? 90° − 46° 48′ = 43° 12′. Sun's declination on Nov. 24 is −20° 24′. Therefore sun's altitude at noon is 43° 12′ − 20° 24′ = 22° 48′.

Direction obtained from the Pole Star (see table on page 19). A previous note explained how the sun may be used to obtain the north-south direction. If a theodolite or telescopic sighting device is available, a north-south line may be laid down more accurately by means of the Pole Star. This star is exactly north only twice per day, namely at upper and lower transits. The table on page 19 lists the Local Mean Time of the upper transit of Polaris for every third day. (Take simple proportions for intermediate days.) The lower transit is 11h. 58m. later. To find the corresponding Standard Time add (or subtract) 4 minutes per degree of longitude by which you are west (or east) of your standard meridian.

Example: During the night of February 15-16 when is Polaris due north at Toronto (long. 79°24′ W)?

From table, upper transit is at 16 06 L.M.T. on Feb. 15. Lower transit therefore is at 4 04 L.M.T. on Feb. 16. Toronto is about 4½° west of the 75th meridian, therefore the corresponding E.S.T. is 4 04 + 18 = 4 22.

Note: Although the table of upper transits of Polaris was calculated for longitude 90°W, little error will result in accepting these values for the whole of Canada. Working to the nearest whole minute of time the errors made in the direction of Polaris by this method will seldom exceed 10 seconds of arc.

METEORS, METEORITES, AND METEOR SHOWERS

A meteor or "shooting star" appears momentarily in the sky when a particle from beyond the earth enters the earth's atmosphere at a high velocity. Most visible meteors are caused by particles smaller than a grain of wheat, and these small particles are completely vaporized in the atmosphere at a height of about 80 miles. A spectacular meteor, known as a fire-ball, is caused by a larger body which may fall to the earth's surface in one or more pieces. Particles seen thus to fall, or subsequently found by analysis to be of this nature, are called meteorites.

Meteorites may be divided into two main classes—the irons, which are almost pure nickel-iron, and the stones. Any meteorite is characterized by a dark, smooth crust caused by the fusion of the outer part.

Meteors may be observed on any clear, moonless night at an average rate of about ten an hour. At times there occur meteor showers, when meteors are seen with much greater frequency and appear to radiate from a particular part of the sky which is called the radiant. This is an effect of perspective, the radiant being the vanishing point of the parallel tracks of the meteors. Meteor showers usually repeat themselves annually, and have nearly always been associated with the orbits of comets. When the earth passes through or near the orbit of a comet it intercepts straggling particles which cause meteors. The principal meteor showers for the northern hemisphere are listed below.

The study of meteors and meteorites adds to our knowledge of the nature and origin of the solar system and also to our knowledge of the earth's outer atmosphere.

MAGNETIC DECLINATION

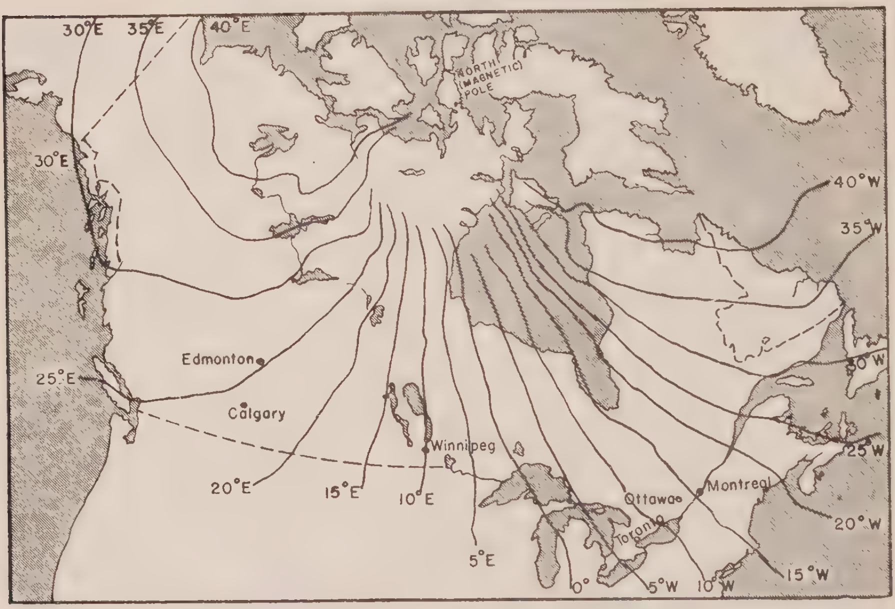

CHART OF MAGNETIC DECLINATION

A compass needle, even when unaffected by extraneous magnetic fields, does not in general point due north. The amount and direction by which its direction differs from true north is called magnetic declination or variation. The declination varies with the position of the observer and also varies slowly with time. The above chart gives the values of declination over the Dominion as of 1940. These values may be used for 1950 unless accuracy of better than 1° is required.

Example: What is the direction of the compass needle at the southern tip of Lake Manitoba?

From the chart this point is about ¼ of the way from the line of 10°E declination towards the line of 15°E declination. Therefore the declination is 11°E, i.e., the needle points 11° east of true north.

A large map of Canada showing lines of Equal Magnetic Declination and Annual Change in Canada for 1940 is obtainable from the office of the Surveyor General, Ottawa, for 25 cents.

ASTRONOMY IN CANADA

During the past fifty years Canada has established and maintained a prominent place in the field of astronomy, both professional and amateur.

Canada possesses three major astronomical observatories: the Dominion Observatory at Ottawa, the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Victoria, and the David Dunlap Observatory at Toronto. The Dominion observatories are operated under the Department of Mines and Resources and the David Dunlap Observatory is operated by the University of Toronto.

The Dominion Observatory at Ottawa has been operating since 1905. Its principal astronomical functions at the present time are the time service, solar research, and meteoric research. Its largest telescope is a 15-inch refractor.

The principal telescope of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory is a 72-inch reflector completed in 1918. With this instrument much important research concerning the motion and nature of stars has been accomplished.

The David Dunlap Observatory was completed in 1935, a gift to the University of Toronto from the late Mrs. David Dunlap in memory of her husband. The large telescope at this observatory is a 74-inch reflector. Research problems include stellar motions, stellar spectroscopy, and the study of variable stars.

The telescopes at Toronto and Victoria are exceeded in size only by the Mount Palomar 200-inch telescope, the Mount Wilson 100-inch telescope, both in California, and the 82-inch telescope of the MacDonald Observatory in Texas.

As well as these major observatories where telescopic observations are made every clear night, there are a number of observatories primarily devoted to astronomical instruction. Among these are the Hume Cronyn Memorial Observatory of the University of Western Ontario at London (10-inch refractor), the Observatory of the University of Saskatchewan at Saskatoon (7-inch refractor) and the Observatory of the Royal Astronomical Society of Quebec City (16-inch reflector).

Public visiting hours at these observatories are as follows: Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Victoria, Saturday evenings throughout the year; the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa, Saturday evenings throughout the year; David Dunlap Observatory at Toronto, Saturday evenings April 1 to October 31, Sunday afternoons July and August and Wednesday afternoons throughout the year; Hume Cronyn Observatory at London, first Saturday evening in each month; University of Saskatchewan Observatory at Saskatoon and the R.A.S.C. Observatory at Quebec, one hour every clear evening.

There are other smaller observatories at Universities and Colleges which are reserved for student instruction.

In addition to professional astronomers there are many amateurs in Canada who follow this interesting study. Most of these are members of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada (see Index), membership in which is open to all who are interested in the subject.

LEGAL WEIGHTS AND MEASURES IN CANADA

In Canada the law provides, with respect to weights, that the unit shall be the standard pound (avoirdupois) of 7,000 grains, one-sixteenth part of the standard pound shall be an ounce (437½ grains), one hundred pounds a cental, and two thousand pounds a ton, and that four hundred and eighty grains shall be an ounce troy. As regards measures–That the unit or standard measure of capacity, as well for liquids as for dry measures, shall be the gallon, containing ten standard pounds of distilled water, weighed with the water and air at a temperature of sixty-two degrees Fahrenheit with the barometer at thirty inches, the quart shall be one-fourth part of a gallon, and the pint one-eight part of the gallon, and eight gallons shall be a bushel. The 1/160th part of the gallon by volume shall be the fluid ounce.

This gallon, commonly known as the "Imperial gallon," contains 277.42 cubic inches.

The standard measure of length is the yard, one-third part of which it is provided shall be a foot, and the twelfth part of such foot shall be an inch.

The legal cord for the measurement of wood, is 128 cubic feet.

IMPERIAL MEASURE

Special note should be made of the fact that certain standards of weights and measures used in some of the states of the United States are not legal, though frequently used, in Canada. These standards are not so large, being about 16.6 per cent. smaller in capacity than the legal standards in Canada, i.e., the Imperial pint, quart and gallon. Imperial measure is 20% larger than U.S. measure.

To convert a given number of U.S. gallons into Imperial gallons, subtract 1/6th or divide by 1.2. To convert a given number of Imperial gallons into U.S. gallons, add 1/5th or multiply by 1.2.

United States liquid measure is based on a gallon containing 231 cubic inches. United States Fluid ounce = 1.04 Canadian Fluid ounce. United States Bushel = 0.9694 Canadian Bushel. The United States gallon contains 231 cubic inches.

THE FRUIT, VEGETABLES AND HONEY ACT AND REGULATIONS

Chapter 62 of the Statutes, 1935

The provisions of this Act are intended to promote orderly marketing throughout the fruit, vegetable and honey industries and to assist in the settlement of disputes through the medium of an Arbitration Board The Act is applicable to interprovincial or foreign trade only.

There follows a brief summary of the provisions of the Act and Regulations:

1. Establishment of grades or standards of quality for honey, fruits and vegetables.
2. Prescribes conditions relative to inspection, grading, marking of packages, shipment, advertisement and sale of fruit, vegetables and honey produced within or without Canada.
3. Establishment of standard packages for various kinds of fruits, vegetables and honey.
4. Provides for the detention of fruit, vegetables, honey or packages in respect of which an offence under the Act or Regulations has been committed.
5. Prescribes penalties for contravention of any provisions of the Act or Regulations.
6. Licensing of brokers, commission agents and dealers, handling fruits and vegetables.
7. Provides for a commercial fruit and vegetale inspection service at both shipping point and destination for which appropriate fees are charged for certificates issued,
8. Registration of honey packers and persons assembling honey and to prescribe fees for honey inspection certification and licensing.
9. Provides for the inspection and certification of imported produce for which a fee is charged for customs clearance purposes or to assist in determining if contract stipulations have been met.
10. The compulsory inspection and certification of fruits, vegetables and honey exported out of Canada for which a fee is charged.
11. Provides for amendment and addition to regulations through Ministerial Order.

Note: A free copy of this Act may be obtained from the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Marketing Service, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

EGGS

The regulations respecting the grading and marking of eggs, put into effect by the Dominion Government, being in use throughout Canada, are of general interest to consumers.

The Dominion Government standard grades for eggs are as follows:—A1, A, B, C,—a candling definition being specified for each grade.

Grade A.—The highest commercial grade; fresh quality eggs, clean and sound in shell; packed in three weights as follows:—

Grade A Large—Eggs weighing individually at the rate of 24 oz. or more per dozen.

Grade A Medium—Eggs weighing individually at the rate of 22 to 24 oz. per dozen.

Grade A Pullet—Eggs weighing individually at the rate of 18 to 22 oz. per dozen.

Grade B.—The second grade, reasonably clean and sound in shell, weighing individually at the rate of 22 oz. or more per dozen.

Grade B Large.—Shall weigh individually at the rate of 24 oz. or more per dozen, Grade B Medium.—Shall weigh individually at the rate of not less than 22 ounces per dozen and up to but not including 24 ounces per dozen.

Grade C.—The lowest grade, comprising all eggs, including cracks or dirty or stained eggs not permitted to be graded under Grades A and B, but which are still not of a condition unfit for human consumption.

Grade A1.—A super grade, available only on some markets. This grade is marketed only from farms holding a permit which is based on the suitability of production conditions; packed in three weights, Large, Medium and Pullet, the weights of which are the same as for Grade A except in the instance of Grade A1 Pullet, the minimum weight for which is 20 ounces.

Fresh—The word "fresh" shall be used only in conjunction with Grades A or A1.

Storage Eggs.—Cold stored eggs may be sold only in the appropriate grades B or C.

A geographical mile is the length of 1 minute of latitude. A nautical mile is the length of 1 minute of the meridian. In navigating, the Admiralty Knot is used, 6,080 ft., divided into 10 cables, the cable being assumed to be 608 feet.

Measures of Time

60 seconds = 1 minute
60 minutes = 1 hour
24 hours = 1 day
(23 h. 56 m. 4 s. of mean solar time = 1 Sidereal Day)
7 days = 1 week
52 weeks = 1 year
12 months = 1 year
365 days = 1 year
366 days = 1 leap-year
100 years = 1 century

The mean solar year is equal to 365 days, 5 hrs. 48 min. 45.7 sec., or nearly 365¼ days.

Every year whose number is divisible by 4 is a leap year, unless the number of the year ends in two ciphers, in which case the number must be divisible by 400. Thus, 2000 and 2400 will be leap years, but 1900 was not a leap year.

Solar time around the Globe varies 4 minutes with each degree of longitude.

Measurement of Ship Tonnage

Followed by the British Board of Trade; applying to all ships in the British Merchant Service, including Canadian registered vessels. The U.S. merchant service use a different method.

Gross Tonnage is the unit of volume containing 100 cubic feet in the internal volume of a vessel under the tonnage deck to which is added:—

(1) the 'tween deck space, if any, above the tonnage deck.
(2) the volume of permanently closed-in spaces above the upper deck available for cargo stores, or for passengers and crew and
(3) any excess of hatchways.

Net or Register Tonnage. The Net or Register Tonnage is the Gross Tonnage as found above less deductions for crew space, stores, navigation spaces, allowance for propelling power and other deductions allowable under the Merchant Shipping Act.

Deadweight Tonnage is the amount of cargo, bunkers, reserve feed water, domestic and sanitary water, provisions, consumable stores and effects on board, and is expressed in tons of 2240 lbs. each; or alternatively it is the difference in the displacement at a given draft and the displacement of the vessel "lightship" with water in boilers to working level and ready for steam but with none of the above mentioned items on board.

Displacement is the amount of water displaced by a vessel floating in equilibrium in still water. The weight of water displaced is equal to the total weight of the vessel with everything on board and known as a displacement tonnage. If expressed in cubic feet it is known as the volume of displacement.

BANKS IN CANADA AND THEIR BRANCHES

BANK OF CANADA

Following one of the recommendations contained in the report made to the Government in 1933 by the Royal Commission on Banking and Currency, headed by the Right Hon. Lord Macmillan, P.C., K.C., there was enacted by Parliament in the 1934 session, Chapter 43 of the Statutes of that year, incorporating the Bank of Canada as a central bank of issue and rediscount. The institution opened for business on March 11, 1935.

The Bank's functions are largely, though not entirely, regulative. It has, except as provided in the Bank Act, the sole right of note issue and is required to maintain a reserve in gold coin and bullion of 25 per cent of the amount of its outstanding notes and deposit liabilities with, however, the proviso that such reserve requirements may be suspended by the Governor in Council upon request of the Board of Directors of the Bank for certain periods not exceeding in all one year without the sanction of Parliament. Under the authority of the War Measures Act the gold reserve requirement was suspended by the Governor-in-Council effective May 1, 1940. The Bank is the custodian of the gold reserves formerly held by the Finance Department of the Government and, subject to the provisions of the Bank Act, all gold coin or bullion formerly owned by the chartered banks in Canada. As a measure for the security, defence, peace, order and welfare of Canada, the Bank in accordance with The Exchange Fund Order of 1940 sold to the Foreign Exchange Control Board all gold held in unrestricted ownership as at May 1st, 1940. The Bank acts as the fiscal agent of the Government of Canada and, by agreement, may also act as banker or fiscal agent of the government of any province.

The management consists of a Board of Directors composed of a Governor, a Deputy Governor and 11 Directors, the Deputy Minister of Finance by virtue of his office being a member of the Board.

In 1938 an amending Act was passed providing that all Directors be appointed by the Government and that the entire capital of $5,000,000 shall be owned by the Dominion of Canada.

The Bank is authorized to pay cumulative dividends of 4½%; the remainder of the profits are payable to the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada and to the Rest Fund of the Bank in specified proportions until the Rest Fund is not less than twice the amount of the paid-up capital, after which all the remaining profits are payable into the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Directors, officers and employees of chartered banks and persons employed in the public service may not hold office as a Director.

THE INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BANK

The purpose of this bank is to provide financial assistance mainly to small and medium enterprises which are demonstrably sound but which might not otherwise be able to get credit on reasonable terms and conditions. The Bank is not intended to compete with the Chartered Banks and other lending institutions, but rather to supplement the facilities offered by these institutions. It may lend to firms engaged in manufacturing, processing or refrigerating of any goods, the building of ships, or the generating and distributing of electricity. It should be noted that the Bank is not empowered to make loans to primary industries, such as, farming, fishing, construction, et cetera, or trade and service, such as, stores, garages, repair shops, etc.

The Bank may accept any form of collateral security including real property, and its loans are usually for capital assistance rather than working funds, and for a period of several years, in contrast to the typical short term loans in commercial banking.

The Industrial Development Bank is a subsidiary of the Bank of Canada, and was created by Act of Parliament on August 15th, 1944.

The Capital stock of twenty-five million was subscribed by the Bank of Canada and is fully paid up. By virtue of its power to issue bonds and debentures and other provisions of its Act of Incorporation the total resources of the Bank are one hundred millions plus four times its earned surplus.

The President of the Bank is the Governor of the Bank of Canada. The Head Office is in Ottawa, and the General Manager's Office is in Montreal.

CHARTERED BANKS

Chartered Banks in Canada are incorporated by Special Act of the Canadian Parliament and governed by the Bank Act (Chapter 30 of the Statutes of 1944), which continues in force the charters of the banks until July 1, 1954. The Act specifies clearly the transactions in which banks may or may not legally engage, and embodies regulations designed to ensure the proper conduct of the bank's affairs. They are prohibited from engaging in any trade or business, from loaning money on the security of or dealing in the shares of any bank and from loaning more than $10,000.00 to any of their officers or clerks. Subject only to the provisions of Section 88 of the Bank Act and of the Farm Improvement Loans Act, 1944 (Chapter 41 of the Statutes of 1944), banks are also prohibited from lending upon the security of immovable property, although this may be taken as additional collateral for debts already contracted to a bank in the ordinary course of its business.

The note circulation privileges formerly held by the banks were gradually reduced from January 1, 1936 to January 1, 1945 and since the latter date no bank has been permitted to issue or re-issue notes in Canada. In January, 1950, the banks paid to the Bank of Canada an amount equal to the face value of the notes issued by them for circulation in Canada and outstanding. The Bank of Canada then became liable to redeem all of these notes thereafter presented to it. The foreign note issues of a bank are limited to ten percent of its unimpaired paid up capital.

At one time in the event of the property and assets of any bank being insufficient to pay its debts and liabilities, each shareholder was liable for the deficiency to an amount equal to the par value of the shares held by him in addition to any amount not paid up on such shares. In 1934 it was provided that this liability of a shareholder, apart from any amount not paid up on his shares, should not exceed that proportion of the par value of his shares which the amount of notes which the bank was authorized to have in circulation in Canada bore to the paid-up capital of the bank. All extra liability on bank shares ceased in January, 1950, upon payment to the Bank of Canada of the outstanding Canadian note circulation balance.

INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF BANKS, (Dept. of Finance, Ottawa) C. F. Elderkin.

GOVERNMENT OF ALBERTA TREASURY BRANCHES

Treasury Branches were established in 1938 by the Government of the Province of Alberta to provide facilities for depositing money, withdrawing deposits and transferring claims on goods and services to or from other depositors.

In 1944 the services were expanded and now include most of those provided by chartered banks. Treasury Branches and Managers are included in the following list of bank branches.

LES CAISSES POPULAIRES DESJARDINS (CREDIT UNIONS) IN THE PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

Les Caisses populaires Desjardins (Credit Unions) are organized and operate under the Quebec Cooperative Syndicates Act. They receive deposits from their members. Those deposits are payable on demand. The members can borrow from the society on note or mortgage for a short or long term period. The rest of the assets is invested in first class bonds or deposited in a Central Credit Union or a Chartered Bank. These Credit Unions do not issue paper money. There were 1059 caisses populaires at the 31st of December, 1948.

For further information, apply to La Fédération des Caisses populaires Desjardins, (Société régie par la Loi des Syndicats coopératifs de Québec), Manager, C. TRUST COMPANIES AND LOAN COMPANIES IN CANADA

Trust Companies act as Executors, Trustees and Administrators under wills, or by appointment, as Trustees under marriage or other settlements, as Agent or Attorney in the management of estates of the living, as Guardian of minors or incapable persons, as Fiscal Agent for municipalities and companies, and, where so appointed, as Authorized Trustees in Bankruptcy. Some Trust Companies receive deposits and funds for guaranteed investments, and the loaning of such trust funds is restricted by law to securities authorized by the Trustee Act. The loaning of Company Funds is not so restricted.

The principal function of Loan Companies is the loaning of funds on first mortgage security, the money thus made available for development purposes being obtained mainly by the sale of debentures to the investing public and by Savings Department deposits. During and since the war years, however, there has been a substantial decrease in the amount of mortgages and real estate, and a corresponding increase in the percentage of Canadian Government bonds held.

The general rate on newspapers and periodicals printed and published in Canada and issued not less frequently than once a month, mailed by the publishers at the Post Office at the place where they are published, and addressed to regular subscribers or to newsdealers (not resident in the place of publication) in Canada, Great Britain and places within the British Empire, is a bulk rate of 1½c. per pound. This rate is subject to a number of provisos.

The postage on bonâ fidé specimen newspapers, and on papers and periodicals published less frequently than once a month, is 2 cents per lb.

8. British and Foreign Newspapers posted by Newsdealers in Canada

British and foreign publications as well as Canadian publications, if authorized by the Department may be posted by newsdealers in Canada to subscribers in Canada at the rate of 2 cents per lb. They cannot however be posted at that rate for local delivery at places where there is a free letter carrier service. Newsdealers may also post recognized Canadian newspapers and periodicals to regular subscribers in Great Britain and places within the Empire, at the bulk rate of 2 cents per pound.

9. Books, Limits of Weight, etc.

A Book Packet may contain any number of separate books. Limit of weight for post is 6 lbs. 9 ozs., but in case of a single book, a weight of 11 lbs. is allowed. Limit of size, (domestic)—in no case must the combined length and girth exceed 6 feet. For all other countries no packet may exceed 3 feet in the combined length, breadth, and depth, but the greatest dimension must not exceed 2 feet, unless in the form of a roll when the length and twice the diameter must not exceed 3 feet 3 inches, but the greatest dimension must not exceed 2 feet 8 inches.

THIRD CLASS MATTER

10. Printed Matter, Circulars, Samples, Miscellaneous Matter

Third class matter, described as under, may pass between places in the Dominion of Canada or outside of Canada upon prepayment of 1c. for each 2 oz.

Definition of Third Class Matter

Matter (other than newspapers and periodicals), wholly in print without reference to process, such as circulars, catalogues, calendars, hand-bills, books, pamphlets, printed forms, maps, paper patterns, prints, drawings, etc., the following partly-written and partly-printed matter:—militia and school returns, customs manifests, voters' lists, school or college examination papers and educational exercises passing between colleges and extra-mural students, etc. To come within the class of Third Class Matter the material printed upon must be either paper, cardboard or parchment.

Regulations re Unsealed Packages

No letter or other communication intended to serve the purpose of a letter may be sent or inclosed in any such package or thing mentioned, and the same must be sent in covers open at the ends or sides, or otherwise so put up as to admit of the contents being, if necessary, easily withdrawn for examination by the officers of the Post Office to ensure compliance with this provision (if enclosed in sealed envelopes notched at the ends or sides, or with the corners cut off, letter rate of postage will be charged).

Exception for U.S.A.

Articles of printed matter and parcel post addressed to all countries with the exception of Canada and the United States must continue to be sent as formerly in unsealed packages.

Definition of Circulars

Circulars are communications in print, or produced by a multiplying process easy to recognise, but not direct from a typewriting machine, which are issued in identical terms to several individuals. A circular may, without becoming liable to a higher rate of postage, have a written date and signature, and may have the name of the addressee repeated in writing inside. Reproductions or imitations of hand or typewritten matter, in order to be accepted as circulars, must be handed in at the post office wicket, in a number not less than twenty identical copies, separately addressed. Failure to comply with either of these conditions will subject the article to letter rate of postage.

Paper for Blind

Printed matter should be fully prepaid at the time of posting and will not be forwarded unless at least partly prepaid.

11. Samples, Canada, U.S.A. and Mexico

There must be no writing upon or in any packet of samples, except the address of the person for whom it is intended, the address of the sender, a trade mark or number and the price of the articles, or such words as may be necessary to indicate precisely the origin and nature of the merchandise.

Articles of saleable value even when intended to serve as samples, or goods sent for sale or in execution of an order, however small the quantity may be, or any article sent by one private individual to another, which are not actually trade samples, are not admissible.

13. Commercial Papers, British and Foreign Post

Commercial papers mailed in Canada, for delivery in Canada, are liable to the letter rate of postage up to a weight of 16 ozs. and 1c per 2 oz. or fraction thereof, after. To all other countries the rate is 1 cent per 2 ozs. but each packet must have a minimum prepayment of 5 cents covering a weight of 10 ozs. prepayment compulsory. CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ANNUITIES

The Annuities Act was passed in order to authorize the issue of Government Annuities for old age. Any resident of Canada may purchase a Canadian Government Annuity, employers of labour may contract for annuities for their employees, and societies incorporated for fraternal or other purposes may contract for annuities for their members. The premium rates for new annuities were increased effective April 19th, 1948, providing for greater longevity of annuitants and changing the interest rate to 3%. The change does not affect old contracts. A Canadian Government Annuity is payable for life, not transferable, cannot be alienated, forfeited or stolen. Annuities may be purchased for any sum from $10 to $1200. As an example, on or after April 19, 1948, a man aged 20 may secure an annuity at 60 of $500 a year for the rest of his life by the payment of $7.35 per month; while an immediate annuity of $500 a year, for life or 10 years certain, purchased in one amount by a man aged 60, would cost $7,155.

On March 31, 1948, there were in effect 210,935 contracts and certificates. Annuity was payable under 44,099 of these and annuity was still deferred under 166,836. The total amount of annuity payable under the vested contracts was $18,919,715 and the value of outstanding annuities, both immediate and deferred, was $429,518,235 this being also the balance at credit of the Annuities Fund as of March 31, 1948.

For full particulars apply to C. R. McCord, A/Director, Annuities Branch, Department of Labour, Ottawa.

POST OFFICES AND RAILROAD STATIONS
IN THE DOMINION OF CANADA

*The Offices printed in Italics are authorized to issue and pay Money Orders and Postal Notes, and to dispatch and Collect C.O.D. parcels. The Offices marked * are Savings Bank Offices. † Places marked thus are not Post Offices. Capital letters on right of the Electoral District column indicate the several Provinces of the Dominion, thus:—O, Ontario; Q, Quebec; NS, Nova Scotia; N B, New Brunswick; P E I, Prince Edward Island; M, Manitoba; BC, British Columbia; A, Alberta; S, Saskatchewan; NWT, Northwest Territories; Nd, Newfoundland.*

The population of all cities, towns, and organized villages is shown to the right of places, according to the Census of 1941, except for Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, where the figures are those of the 1946 census. A large number of post offices and railway points are not incorporated, consequently have no population figure shown. The population of Dominion Electoral Districts is shown under House of Commons, see index.

Elsewhere in this volume is a comparative table of census figures for cities and towns of 1000 or over.

Where a street address occurs in the centre column it indicates that the place name is the name of a sub-post office of a larger place, the street-address being that of the post office.

The numbers and names placed opposite every place indicate the Railroad, Steamship, or Airline on which the place or nearest rail, water, or air point is situated. See list of Railroads, Steamboats, and Air Lines on pages 81 to 87. For Express Companies, see pages 78 to 80.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR ELECTORS IN DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS

ELECTIONS FOR THE DOMINION HOUSE OF COMMONS

According to The Dominion Elections Act, 1938, and subject to certain exceptions, the general rule as to the qualifications of electors at a Dominion election is that every person in Canada, including Newfoundland, man or woman, is qualified to vote and entitled to be registered as an elector on the list of electors for the polling division in which such person ordinarily resides at the time of the issuing of the writ ordering a Dominion election if such person (a) is of the full age of 21 years, or will attain the full age of 21 years on or before polling day at the appropriate pending election; (b) is a British subject by birth or naturalization; (c) has been ordinarily resident in Canada or Newfoundland for the twelve months preceding polling day at the appropriate pending election, and (d) was ordinarily resident in the electoral district at the date of the issue of the writ for the appropriate pending election, and at a by-election, has continued to be ordinarily resident therein until polling day. Among persons disqualified are Indians living on a reservation, Esquimaux, prisoners, persons under restraint owing to mental disease, and Doukhobors in British Columbia. Indians, residing on an Indian reservation, and Doukhobors, residing in British Columbia, who have served in World Wars No. 1 and 2, and their wives, are entitled to vote.

Whenever an election is ordered an entire new list of electors is prepared, according to The Dominion Elections Act, 1938, under the general direction of the Chief Electoral Officer, and supervision of a returning officer who is appointed for each electoral district. There are two classes of polling divisions which are called Urban and Rural. Generally speaking urban polling divisions are those comprised in cities and towns of over 3,500 population, the other polling divisions are rural. In urban polling divisions, a pair of enumerators representing different political interests, is appointed for each polling division. They make a house-to-house visitation immediately after the issue of the writ for the appropriate pending election, to secure the necessary information to complete a list of electors for their polling division. In rural polling divisions, the list is similarly prepared by one rural enumerator. Writs for a Dominion election are issued about two months before the date fixed for polling day, except at by-elections when such writs may be issued about 6 weeks before polling day.

Chief Electoral Officer, Jules Castonguay, Ottawa.

In the case of a hotel, the tavern premises must be so constructed as to be entirely separate from the hotel proper.

ONTARIO

In Ontario spirituous liquor is sold by the bottle in Government stores operated by The Liquor Control Board. Those desiring to purchase such liquor must secure a liquor permit which authorizes the purchase and consumption in the residence of the holder of the permit. BANKRUPTCY AND INSOLVENCY

The Bankruptcy Act enables an insolvent debtor to petition the court to be declared bankrupt. By an order of the court, possession is taken of the debtor's property, and it is distributed proportionately amongst his creditors. The court has power to subsequently discharge the bankrupt from all debts existing at the time bankruptcy proceedings began. Bankruptcy law has two purposes; (a) the expeditious and economical distribution of the debtor's assets, and (b), a release of the debtor from his creditors when he has not been guilty of any misconduct or fraud, and has surrendered all his assets.

An insolvent debtor whose liabilities to creditors exceed $500 may, prior to a receiving order being made against him, make an assignment of all his property for the general benefit of his creditors. Such an assignment must be accepted by the Official Receiver, and is called an "authorized assignment". Any other assignment is void.

By a Dominion Act of 1933, called The Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act, it is provided that where a compromise, or arrangement, is proposed between the debtor company and its creditors, secured or unsecured, the court may, on the application of the company, or a creditor, or trustee in bankruptcy, or liquidator of the company, call meetings of the creditors and shareholders. If at least three-fourths in value of the creditors present at the meeting agree to a compromise or arrangement, and it is sanctioned by the court, it is binding on all creditors, and on the company, even when it has made an authorized assignment, or against which a receiving order has been made, or the company is being wound up. The Act extends, but does not limit, provisions of any instrument governing the rights of creditors, and has force notwithstanding anything in such instrument. The court may restrain proceedings under the Bankruptcy Act, or Winding-up Act. Every order made under the Act by a court of any Province may be enforced in all other Provinces. Any order made under the Act may be appealed from.

See MARRIED WOMEN.

BILLS, NOTES AND CHEQUES

These are governed by Dominion law.

A bill requiring presentment for acceptance must be presented to the drawee, or to some person authorized to accept or refuse acceptance on his behalf, at a reasonable hour on a business day and before the bill is overdue.

Where the bill is addressed to two or more drawees who are not partners, presentment must be made to all, unless one is authorized to accept for all, when presentment may be made to him only.

Where the drawee is dead, presentment may be made to his personal representative.

Where authorized by agreement or usage, presentment through the post office is sufficient.

Presentment is excused and a bill may be treated as dishonoured by non-acceptance:

(a) Where the drawee is dead;

(b) Where the drawee is a fictitious person;

(c) Where the drawee is a person not having a capacity to contract by bill;

(d) Where, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, presentment cannot be effected;

(e) Where, although the presentment has been irregular, acceptance has been refused on some other ground.

1. Where the holder of a bill or note presents it for payment he must exhibit it to the person from whom he demands payment.

2. If a place of payment is specified, the bill must be presented at such place.

3. Where a note is, in the body of it, made payable at a particular place, presentment at that place is necessary in order to render an endorser liable.

If the place specified for payment is a city, town or village, and no place therein is specified, the bill or note may be presented at the drawee's, acceptor's or promissor's known place of business or known ordinary residence therein. If there is no such place of business or residence, it may be presented at the principal post office in such city, town or village.

4. Where no place of payment is specified in a bill:

(a) If the address of the drawee or acceptor is given, the bill must be presented there.

(b) If no address is given, the bill must be presented at the drawee's or acceptor's place of business, if known, and if not, at his ordinary residence, if known.

In any other case the bill may be presented to the drawee or acceptor wherever he can be found, or at his last known place of business or residence.

Presentment for payment of a bill or cheque is dispensed with:

(a) Where presentment cannot be effected;

(b) Where the drawee is a fictitious person;

(c) By waiver of presentment.

Notice of dishonour must be given to any party entitled to notice, at his usual address, or at the place at which the bill or note is dated. Bills and notes bear interest from the date of maturity, and at the legal rate of 5%, unless the time and rate are otherwise stated on their face. On a bill payable on a certain date or after sight 3 days of grace for payment are allowed, but none on a bill or note payable on demand. When bills and notes fall due on a legal holiday they are payable the day following.

BILLS OF SALE

A bill of sale is a document by which the owner of goods and chattels transfers them to another. This is only required where immediate possession is not intended to be given. A bill of sale must be registered within the time fixed by the law of the Province in which the goods are, otherwise the sale will be void as against creditors of the owner.

Information as to where a bill of sale must be registered, is given under each Province; see Index "Registration of Instruments".

There are no Bills of Sale in Quebec.

BUILDING RESTRICTIONS

Land is frequently subject to certain restrictions; e.g., as to the class of buildings which may be erected on it; the minimum cost of such buildings; the distance of the nearest building from the street line or from other buildings; the use to which such buildings may be put, as, for example, restricting it to private residences, physicians offices, etc., and prohibiting shops, apartment houses, schools, etc. These restrictions when once inserted in a registered instrument or registered by way of caveat, must be observed by all subsequent purchasers of the land, and can only be removed or disregarded with the consent of all other interested owners, or by an application to the Court to remove or modify them. This is usually possible when the complexion of the district has changed since the restrictions were put on, or when the majority of owners of the land subject to the restrictions agree to the change. In New Brunswick building restrictions can not at present, be removed or modified by an application to the court. In Manitoba, applications to vary building restriction caveats are made to the Municipal and Public Utility Board.

BULK SALES

The purchase, sale and transfer of stocks of goods in bulk are regulated by statute in all Provinces. In Quebec they are governed by the Civil Code. A sale in bulk is a sale or transfer of stock out of the usual course of business or trade of the vendor, or whenever substantially the entire stock of the vendor, or an interest in his business or trade, is sold.

In Saskatchewan the fixtures ordinarily used in connection with a business are included in the definition of a sale in bulk.

Every person who bargains for or purchases stock in bulk, either for cash or on credit, shall, before closing the purchase and paying the price, obtain from the vendor a statement, verified by statutory declaration, containing the names and addresses of all the creditors of the vendor and the amounts due them. If such declaration is not obtained, the sale is deemed fraudulent, and is void against creditors, unless they are paid in full out of the proceeds of the sale.

Upon obtaining the declaration, the purchaser must either obtain a waiver from the creditors or pay the purchase price to a trustee for distribution among the creditors. In short one of the following alternatives must be complied with:

(i) Creditors must be paid in full;

(ii) A written waiver of the provisions of the Act must be obtained from not less than 60 per cent in number and value of the creditors having claims exceeding $50.00; or

(iii) A written waiver (in New Brunswick and Manitoba, a consent,) of the creditors as defined in (ii) must be obtained.

If the parties elect to proceed under (iii), the full purchase price must be paid to a trustee to be named by the creditors in such written consent, and if a trustee is not named by the creditors then to a trustee to be named by the vendor. In New Brunswick, a judge of the County Court is required to name a trustee, if the creditors or vendor have not named one. In Nova Scotia, any agreement for a bulk sale must be in writing, must contain an inventory, and must be filed in the Registry of Deeds within 10 days after execution. No part of the purchase price may be paid, nor may any promissory note or other security be given, within 30 days after execution of the agreement. If the purchase price is sufficient to pay in full all creditors, as shown by the statutory declaration, such price is to be paid to a trustee for distribution. If the price is not sufficient to pay all creditors in full, the written consent to the sale of 50% in number and value of the claims must be obtained.

In Saskatchewan, the waiver must represent 60% in number and amount of the claims, and there is no limit to amount.

A bulk sale is not an assignment for the benefit of creditors, nor does the mere making of it make the vendor a bankrupt or an insolvent under any Act in force for bankrupt or insolvent debtors, provided that the provisions of The Bulk Sales Act have been complied with.

There is no equivalent legislation in Newfoundland.

CHATTEL MORTGAGES

A mortgage of chattels is a contract between parties whereby the owner transfers to the mortgagee the title to the chattels upon the terms that the transfer shall be void upon payment of a sum of money, or the performance of a certain condition, at an appointed time. In the meantime the owner may keep possession of the chattels. On default of payment, or performance of the condition, the mortgagee is entitled to take possession. A mortgage must be registered within the time fixed by the law of the Province in which the chattels are, and the mortgagee must, within the time fixed by the law of that Province, file a renewal statement showing the amount then remaining due for principal and interest, otherwise the mortgage will be void as against creditors of the owner, although still good between the parties to the contract. In Newfoundland a renewal statement need not be filed. In Ontario, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Nova Scotia, when the time has expired, a judge may, under certain circumstances, extend the time for renewal; but the rights of any then creditors are not affected. In New Brunswick, if a renewal statement is not filed within one year from the filing of the chattel mortgage, a creditor of the mortgagor may, by written notice, require filing, and if the statement is not then filed within 30 days the mortgage ceases to be valid as against execution issued by such creditor. Information as to where a chattel mortgage must be registered, is given under each Province; see Index "Registration of Instruments".

A mortgage may be given to secure against liability on a promissory note, or to secure future advances.

There are no chattel mortgages in Quebec or Newfoundland.

COMPANIES

A company is a body created by law to carry on the classes of business authorized by its charter of incorporation. This may be either, (a) an Act of the Parliament of Canada; or (b) an Act of the Legislature of a Province; or (c) Letters Patent granted either by the Secretary of State at Ottawa or by the Provincial Secretary of certain Provinces; or (d) a Memorandum and Articles of Association filed, in certain other Provinces. The charter, or Memorandum and Articles, must state the amount of the authorized capital, which is usually divided into shares, either of a stated par value, or without par value, or both.

The expression "authorized capital" means nothing to an investor; neither does the "par value" of a share of stock. What really concerns him is the proportion which the number of shares he holds bears to the capital actually issued. It is now a common practice to issue shares without par value. The investor then knows the proportionate interest which he holds of the total issued capital, bearing in mind that the whole of the authorized capital may be issued at any time.

The advantages of an incorporated company over a partnership, or an individual doing business in his own name, are (a) the limited liability of the investor, (b) the right to assign shares without reference to the other members of the company, (c) that changes in the persons of its shareholders do not affect its power to carry on business.

There are two general classes of companies, viz, (a) public companies, in which a shareholder may transfer his shares to anyone, and the number of shareholders is practically unlimited, and (b) private companies, in which the right to transfer shares is restricted, the number of shareholders is limited, and any invitation to the public to subscribe for shares is prohibited. No prospectus is required for a private company.

Incorporation by an Act of the Parliament of Canada, or by Dominion Letters Patent, allows a company to transact its business throughout Canada,—subject, in some Provinces, to a restriction respecting the holding of land. Under a Provincial charter a company may carry on business only in that Province, but may obtain licenses from the other Provinces to carry on business in them. The requisite number of applicants for incorporation varies in different Provinces; in Ontario only 3 are required. Each applicant must be 21 years of age. The fees for incorporation vary in different Provinces.

A shareholder is liable to creditors of the company only for the unpaid balance, if any, due on his shares. A holder of shares of a Chartered Bank, was formerly liable for double the amount he subscribed for. For his liability at present, see article on Chartered Banks elsewhere in this volume. The ownership of the business of a company always remains in the company, no matter how often the shareholders may change from time to time. A company remains in existence until the termination of its charter. This may be by surrender or forfeiture of its charter, or by the company being wound up, or becoming insolvent.

It is a common practice for an individual to do business under the name of, say, "Smith and Company". In such case it is necessary in some Provinces (as in Ontario) to file a declaration stating the business, how long the partnership has subsisted, and that the onlymember is "John Smith," or whoever it may be. (See PARTNERSHIP).

The powers and duties of directors vary in different provinces, but among the chief of them are usually those noted below. Directors are elected by the shareholders, and have authority to administer the affairs of the company, pass by-laws to regulate the allotment, issue and transfer of stock, make calls on stock, declare dividends, determine the qualifications, appointment and duties of officers, servants and agents of the company, and remove them, compromise with its creditors, make contracts on its behalf, borrow money for its purposes, regulate the holding of meetings, and generally conduct its affairs.

In Ontario, certain by-laws must be approved by the Lieut. Governor-in-Council, and be published, before they can come into force. Dealings with lists of shareholders is restricted, and the power to do so is defined. Attempts to acquire control of a Company are subject to the approval of the Provincial Secretary.

Every director of a Dominion company is liable for six months' wages due to clerks, labourers, servants and apprentices, if it fails to pay them; and every director of an Ontario company is similarly liable for one year's wages due to labourers, servants and apprentices. An officer or director must make no secret profit out of the company. He is responsible for any mis-statement in its prospectus. He should be particularly careful in signing a note, bill or cheque for the company, as he may be held personally liable, even though he signed only as an officer or director.

Every corporation incorporated under the laws of Ontario, or doing business in the Province, must, before June 30th in each year, deliver to the Provincial Secretary, without notice or demand to that effect, a detailed return containing the information required by him, and pay the necessary fee.

Some other Provinces also require certain returns to be made and fees to be paid by companies doing business in the Province.

Information as to fees, etc., and copies of the Acts and amendments, may be obtained from the Secretary of State, Ottawa, as to Dominion incorporation, or from the Provincial Secretaries of the various Provinces respecting incorporation under Provincial law.

CONDITIONAL SALE OF FARM MACHINERY

The provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta have special statutes relating to the sale of farm machinery and the form of the contract of sale thereof. What constitutes farm machinery is defined by each of these Acts. Where the sale of farm machinery is contemplated, reference should be made to the appropriate Provincial Act.

CONDITIONAL SALE OF GOODS OTHER THAN FARM MACHINERY

All Provinces, other than Newfoundland, have somewhat similar legislation respecting conditional sales. Where possession of goods is delivered to the purchaser or hirer under a contract which provides that the ownership is to remain in the seller or lender until payment of the purchase price or part of it, such provision is invalid against a subsequent purchaser or mortgagee without notice in good fatih and for valuable consideration unless (1) The contract is in writing, signed by the purchaser or hirer or his agent and contains the terms of the sale or hiring, and describes the goods, and (2) In Ontario, within 10 days after the execution of the contract a copy is filed in the office of the clerk of the County or District Court where the purchaser or hirer resided at the time of sale or hiring. (3) In Manitoba, manufactured goods must have the manufacturer's name, or some distinguishing name marked thereon and there is no provision for registration. In Ontario a renewal statement must be filed in the same office within 3 years after the filing of the copy of the contract. The time for, and place of, registration varies in the other Provinces. In Saskatchewan, the agreement must be registered within 30 days of the delivery of the goods.

The provision respecting filing does not apply to manufactured goods which, at the time of delivery have the name and address of the seller or lender marked on them, or to a contract respecting household furniture other than musical instruments. This paragraph is not the law of New Brunswick or of Nova Scotia.

The seller or lender must deliver a copy of the contract to the purchaser or hirer within twenty days after its execution; this does not apply to Saskatchewan or Manitoba.

In Ontario, forms of notice, renewal statement and discharge are set out in the Act.

In Nova Scotia a seller of goods under a conditional sale agreement must, in order to validate the reservation of title, be licensed under "The Instalment Payments Contract Act".

In Saskatchewan the right of a vendor under a conditional sales agreement of a chattel of over $100 to recover the purchase price, is restricted to the recovery of the chattel.

Every vendor, whether manufacturer or dealer, has his own forms of hire receipt and lien note. It is advisable to read carefully, before signing, any form tendered, and have it explained fully by a solicitor if not clearly understood.

In Saskatchewan, sellers must keep an office in the Province, where information respecting conditional sales contracts may be obtained, in order to entitle them to the benefit of the section rendering registration unnecessary.

DIVORCE

The grounds for Divorce and the Courts of the different Provinces which have Acts relating to Divorce are as follows:

ALBERTA—The Supreme Court of Alberta has jurisdiction to grant divorces on proof of adultery. Rape, sodomy, and bestiality are additional grounds for divorce.

BRITISH COLUMBIA—The English Divorce Act is in force in British Columbia. Marriage may be dissolved upon proof of adultery by either husband or wife. The Supreme Court of the Province has power to grant divorce. The Court of Appeal has jurisdiction in appeals in divorce and matrimonial causes.

MANITOBA—A marriage may be dissolved on proof of adultery. The Court of King's Bench has jurisdiction to hear petitions for divorce. The Court of Appeal will hear appeals.

NEW BRUNSWICK—The Court of Divorce and Matrimonial Causes has jurisdiction to dissolve or annul a marriage on proof of adultery, consanguinity, frigidity, or impotence. An appeal can be taken to the Supreme Court.

NEWFOUNDLAND—No court can grant a divorce. Separation can only be effected by agreement.

NOVA SCOTIA—The Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes has jurisdiction to set aside a marriage on proof of adultery, impotence, cruelty, or consanguinity. An appeal can be taken to the Supreme Court.

ONTARIO—A marriage may be dissolved upon proof of adultery of either party or of certain abnormal sexual acts of the husband. A marriage may be annulled on proof of impotence or insanity, or because of fraud or duress at the time the marriage contract was entered into. The Supreme Court of Ontario has jurisdiction in divorce matters.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND—In 1945 the Chief Justice of the Island was appointed to hear cases of divorce and alimony, and new rules were enacted. The court met for the first time in May, 1946, and is continuing to function. The court now consists of the Chief Justice and 5 members of the Executive Council.

QUEBEC—There is no divorce law in the Province. A divorce can be obtained only by a private Act of the Parliament of Canada.

SASKATCHEWAN—The Court of King's Bench has jurisdiction to grant divorces on proof of adultery. An appeal can be taken to the Supreme Court.

DOWER

Dower is the provision which the laws of Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island make for a widow out of the lands of her husband, for the support of herself and their children. It is a life estate to which a wife is entitled, after the death of her husband, in one third of any lands which he owned at any time during their marriage. The right to dower does not take effect until the death of the husband, and ceases upon the death of the widow. This right may be relinquished by the wife signing a release of her right: this is called a "bar of dower", and is properly inserted in all deeds and mortgages made by the husband. A general power of attorney may be given by a wife to bar her dower in all lands which her husband now owns, or may afterwards acquire. The widow of a trustee, or of a joint tenant, is not entitled to dower. There is no dower in partnership land, but it is always a question of fact whether or not the land is partnership property. It is possible to word a conveyance to a husband so that dower does not attach, and he can then convey the land free of dower. Most of the law here given as applying to Ontario, applies also to the other Provinces.

In Manitoba, there is dower in a home only, but, in addition, where a testator has not, by his will, left his wife property, or otherwise provided for her, to the value of at least one-third of the value of his net estate, the widow is entitled to such share of his net estate as, together with any insurance payable to her, and other property received from her husband, shall equal in value one-third of the testator's net estate. Dower and the above mentioned provisions also apply in favour of a husband, in regard to his wife's property.

There is no dower in British Columbia, but a wife can, by application to the Registrar of Titles for the district in which the home of the couple is situated, cause a notice to be recorded which will prevent the husband from making any disposition of the home without the consent of the wife.

There is no dower in the Northwest Territories or the Yukon Territory, but the widow has the same right in the land of her deceased husband as if such land were personal property.

In Saskatchewan, except under the Homestead Act, there is no dower but where a person dies leaving a will and dependents, an application may be made to the court for an order making reasonable provision for maintenance.

In Alberta, under a Dower Act passed in 1948, no sale or mortgage by a married person of a homestead shall be made during the lifetime of the spouse unless the spouse consents thereto in writing, acknowledged apart from the husband or wife, as the case may be. "Homestead" is defined to mean not more than four urban lots, or a quarter section of land.

There is no dower in Newfoundland.

See MARRIED WOMEN.

HUSBAND AND WIFE

In Ontario a marriage may be solemnized only by one of the following persons, and in the presence of two adult witnesses: (a) a clergyman of a church or religious denomination; (b) certain elders, evangelists and missionaries of certain named congregations (including Brethren and Quakers), chosen for such purpose; (c) a commissioner or staff officer of the Salvation Army. A license issued by persons authorized by the government is required unless the banns are published 15 days previously.

A husband is not liable for the debts of, or contracts entered into by, his wife before their marriage.

In Manitoba, ministers, clergymen, rabbis, and certain others of religious bodies and County Court Judges may solemnize marriage. The marriage may not be solemnized until the medical certificate, required by "The Marriage Act" is produced.

In Quebec, all priests, rectors, ministers, and other officers authorized by law to keep registers of acts of civil status, are competent to solemnize marriage, but none of the officers thus authorized can be compelled to solemnize a marriage to which any impediment exists according to the doctrine and the belief of his religion and the discipline of the Church to which he belongs.

In Saskatchewan, a marriage may be solemnized by a clergyman of any church, denomination or religious body; a Salvation Army Commissioner; a commissioned officer; a Jewish rabbi; a judge or a commissioner appointed for the purpose.

In British Columbia the parties may be married by civil contract before a marriage commissioner.

In Nova Scotia, no marriage is valid unless solemnized by a person registered under The Solemnization of Marriage Act. The Registrar may register any minister or clergyman of a religious body, and any male staff officer of the Salvation Army.

In Newfoundland, marriages must be solemnized by a person in Holy Orders; or by a recognized minister of a congregation having a church or chapel; or by a person licensed to celebrate marriages.

Other than those named above there is no authority for a civil marriage in any province of Canada.

MARRIED WOMEN

Under the Bankruptcy Act, a married woman, whether carrying on a trade or business or not, may make a voluntary assignment for the benefit of her creditors, and so obtain the benefits which the Act affords to insolvent debtors.

In Ontario a married woman may bar her dower although under 21 years of age, but she cannot make a valid will until she is 21.

After her marriage a woman continues to be liable —to the extent of her separate property—for all debts contracted and all contracts entered into or wrongs committed by her before her marriage.

Under the laws of all Provinces and Territories (except the Province of Quebec) a married woman has the same right to deal with property as she would have if unmarried.

British Columbia has an Act concerning the rights of deserted wives.

The Quebec law may be summarized as follows:

Husband and wife may be either in community of property or separate as to property. In the absence of an ante-nuptial contract the property is in community.

The assets of the community consist of all the immovables the consorts acquire during marriage, of all the movables which they have on the day of the marriage or which they acquire during the marriage or which fall to them by succession or by gift, if the testator or donor has not otherwise provided. The interest and fruits of all property also fall into the community. The husband has the entire administration of the community and can sell and mortgage the property of the community without the consent of his wife. He cannot, however, without her consent dispose of the immovables which belong to her, although he administers them.

When there is separation as to property, the wife retains the administration of her property, movable and immovable. She cannot, however, alienate or hypothecate it without the consent of her husband, or, upon his refusal, the authorization of the court.

Gifts and sales between husband and wife are forbidden.

MECHANICS' LIENS—ONTARIO

Liens on Land. A Mechanic's Lien is a charge, authorized by statute, registered against any land upon which is constructed any building, erection or work, by a person who performed any work or service or placed or furnished any materials used in the construction of such building, erection or work. The amount of the charge must not exceed the sum due to such person. Except in the case of a manager, officer, or foreman, or a person whose wages are more than $10 a day, any agreement by a person employed in manual labour that the Act shall not apply, is void. The owner must retain 20% of the contract price (15% if the contract exceeds $15,000) for 30 days after the completion of the work. A lien for wages has priority over other liens to the extent of 30 days wages on the above 20% (or 15%).

Where land upon which work or services have been performed, or materials furnished, is subject to a mortgage or charge existing before the lien arose, such mortgage or charge has priority over all liens to the extent of the actual value of the land at the time the lien arose.

A lien may not be registered against a public street or highway, or for any work done by a municipality.

A lien must be registered in the registry office of the district in which the land lies, before or during the performance of the contract, or within 30 days after its completion, and must be verified by an affidavit. The fee for registration is 25 cents. Unless an action is brought within 90 days after the work or service has been completed, or materials furnished, the lien will cease to exist.

Liens on Chattels. Any person who has bestowed money, skill or materials upon any thing, by which it is altered or improved, is entitled to a lien upon such thing for the amount of money or value of the skill or materials bestowed when such amount remains unpaid for three months, and, in addition to any other remedy he may have against the owner of such thing, may sell it after giving a week's notice in a newspaper published in the municipality in which the work was done, or, if none, then in the nearest published newspaper, stating the name of the debtor, amount of debt, description of the thing to be sold, time and place of sale, and name of the auctioneer, and leaving a like notice at the last known residence of the owner. The proceeds of the sale to be applied in payment of the amount due and cost of advertising; any surplus to be paid to the person entitled, upon his application.

MORTGAGES

A mortgage may be given on either real or personal property. In the latter case it is called a "chattel mortgage," (see under that heading). A mortgage on real property, i.e., a land mortgage, must be registered in the proper office, according to whether the property is under a Land Titles Act or a Registry Act. In the latter case the seal of the mortgagor must be affixed after his signature; but in a Land Titles mortgage (called a "charge") no seal is required.

A mortgage may be made for any desired period of time, and it cannot be paid off until that period expires unless the mortgage so provides. In Manitoba, a mortgage made by other than a company, payable till a time more than five years from the date of the mortgage, may be paid off at any time after the five years by payment of principal and interest to date of payment plus three months' interest. After a mortgage has expired, it can usually be paid off only after giving the notice required by the law of the Province, and also the payment of a bonus of interest. (In Ontario, 3 months' notice or 3 months' bonus). The word "land" includes all buildings on the land; therefore all such become mortgaged under a land mortgage. Everything that a mortgagor adds to the property to improve its value becomes at once covered by the mortgage. If chattels are affixed to the land they become part of the land. If it be shewn that no valuable consideration was given for a mortgage, it can be set aside. When the mortgage money is not paid when due the mortgagee may (unless there is a Moratorium Act to prevent it) either foreclose or sell the property, and may also sue under the mortgagor's covenant, for the amount of money due. Foreclosure is the method by which, after the period of notice required by law, the mortgagee may, if not redeemed, take the property to his own use, in which case the mortgagor is entirely shut out and also subsequent encumbrancers. If the mortgagee elects to sell the property, the mortgagor is entitled to the balance, if any, remaining after the claims of the mortgagee are paid. An action on the covenant in a mortgage on land must be brought within the following times: in Ontario. Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba, 10 years; British Columbia, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island, 20 years; Quebec, 30 years.

In Provinces where there is a Moratorium Act in force, the mortgagee cannot foreclose or sell the mortgaged property during the period of the moratorium if the mortgagor keeps the interest and taxes paid up.

In Ontario the Mortgagors' and Purchasers' Relief Act (Moratorium) expired on June 30th, 1946.

NATURALIZATION AND ALIENS

The subjects of Naturalization and Aliens are under the control of the Government of Canada. The Canadian Citizenship Act deals with Citizenship, Nationality, Naturalization and the standing of Aliens.

Certificates of Canadian citizenship are granted by the Department of the Secretary of State, Ottawa—without the necessity of applying to the courts—(1) to Canadians who require proof of citizenship; (2) to persons with respect to whom there is a doubt as to citizenship; (3) to persons who were naturalized locally in Canada prior to 1914; and (4) to minors.

Any person who is not a Canadian citizen or is not otherwise a British subject, or who is not the spouse of and residing in Canada with a Canadian citizen, and who, being resident in Canada and desiring to be granted a certificate of Canadian citizenship, and being at least 18 years of age, must sign a declaration of intention to become a Canadian citizen. The declaration must be made under oath in the judicial district in which the applicant resides, and must be filed in the office of the clerk of the court not less than one nor more than five years prior to the applicant's petition for a certificate of citizenship. The declaration must be made in writing, in duplicate, and contain substantially what is required by the Act.

Application must be made through the clerk of the court for the judicial district in which the applicant resides. The application must be posted up in the clerk's office for a period of at least 3 months before it can be heard by the court. A personal appearance before the court is not essential in all cases. The judge may make other arrangements if he is satisfied that the applicant is prevented from so appearing by some good and sufficient cause. Evidence must be produced on behalf of the applicant that he is qualified.

When the application has been approved by the court, all papers are sent to Ottawa. Upon the certificate of citizenship being granted by the Secretary of State, it is then forwarded to the court for presentation to the applicant. When he appears in court for the purpose of receiving the certificate (which has been sent to the court by the Secretary of State), the applicant is required to take the Oath of Allegiance and the Renunciation of Foreign Citizenship.

Although in practice, it is only aliens who apply for citizenship through the courts, British subjects have the right to apply through the courts if they so desire, but they also have the right to apply direct to the department without the long delay necessitated by court procedure.

The applicant must declare and prove that he intends to become a Canadian citizen; that he has resided continuously in Canada for one year preceding the date of the application; that he has resided in Canada for an additional period of four years during the six years immediately preceding the date of application, unless he has served outside of Canada in the armed forces of Canada during time of war; or that the applicant is the wife of, and resides in Canada with, a Canadian citizen; that he is of good character; has an adequate knowledge of either the English or French languages, or has resided continuously in Canada for 20 years; and that he intends either to reside permanently in Canada or to enter the public service of Canada, or of one of the provinces. The applicant must also satisfy the court that he has an adequate knowledge of the responsibilities and privileges of a Canadian citizen.

Any period during which an applicant has served in the armed forces of Canada, or was employed outside of Canada in its public service, will be treated as equivalent to a period of residence in Canada.

A woman who is a Canadian citizen does not lose her nationality or citizenship automatically by marriage to an alien, and an alien woman does not acquire Canadian citizenship by marriage to a Canadian citizen. She must make application for her own certificate, with certain modifications. The spouse is not required to file the declaration of intention.

The wife of a Canadian citizen is qualified as to residence after a residence of one year, but this privilege does not apply to the husband. The husband of a Canadian citizen must establish a residence of five years in Canada before being qualified for citizenship.

A Canadian citizen automatically ceases to be such if he resides outside of Canada for six consecutive years.

A certificate of citizenship may be revoked for having (a) traded or communicated with the enemy during a war, or has engaged in any business which assists the enemy, or (b) having obtained a certificate of naturalization or of Canadian citizenship by false representation or fraud, or concealment of material circumstances, or, (c) having, since becoming a Canadian citizen, or being naturalized in Canada, been for a period of not less than six years or been ordinarily resident out of Canada, or, (d) having, if out of Canada, been convicted of treason or sedition, or has shown himself disloyal.

The subject of aliens is under the sole control of the Government and Parliament of Canada.

Under the Canadian Citizenship Act, real and personal property of every description may be taken, acquired, held and disposed of by an alien in the same manner in all respects as by a natural-born Canadian citizen; and a title to real and personal property of every description may be derived through, from or in succession to an alien in the same manner in all respects as through from or in succession to a natural-born Canadian citizen, but the Act does not qualify an alien for any office, or any municipal, parliamentary or other franchise; or to be the owner of a Canadian ship; or entitle him to any right or privilege as a Canadian citizen in respect of property, except those expressly given to him.

An alien is triable at law in the same manner as if he were a natural-born Canadian citizen, and an alien may be deported at any time for certain offences

PARTNERSHIP

A partnership is an agreement of two or more persons to place their money, effects, labour, and skill, or some or all of them, in a business, and to divide the profits and bear the loss in certain proportions. Almost every Province has special Acts dealing with partnerships. These define the liabilities and duties of partners, and are very similar in all the Provinces. The fact that two or more persons are associated in business, or even that one of them receives a share of the profits, does not necessarily constitute a partnership. A partnership agreement is not required to be in writing unless it is a partnership in land, but it is advisable that the general terms, at least, be written, in order to forestall differences that will invariably occur. If the duration of the partnership is not fixed, it may ordinarily be terminated at any time by notice given by any partner. Unless the agreement states otherwise, the interests of the partners are deemed to be equal. Each partner is an agent of the firm and of his other partners for the purposes of the business, and the act of any partner in the ordinary way of business will bind the firm and the other partners. Each partner is liable jointly with the others for all debts and obligations of the firm while he is a partner. A partner cannot be expelled by the others unless power to do so is given by the agreement. Goodwill is part of the assets of the partnership, and where the assets are sold the purchaser has the exclusive right to use the firm name, and the former partners must not solicit the firm's customers.

In Manitoba a declaration of partnership must be filed and published within one month of the formation of the partnership.

In Ontario, a declaration, signed by all persons associated for the purpose of trading, mining or manufacturing (other than butter or cheese) must be filed—within sixty days after the formation of the partnership—with the registrar of the registry division in which they carry on or intend to carry on business. The declaration must contain the full names, occupations and residences of every partner; the name under which the business is to be carried on; the time the partnership has subsisted; and as to the age of the partners. A similar declaration must be filed when any change takes place in the members of the partnership, or in the name under which it carries on business. If any partner fails to sign or file the declaration, he may incur a penalty not exceeding $100. If a person is in business alone, but uses a firm name or designation other than his own name, or with the addition to his own name of the words "and Company", or some other expression indicating that there are several members in the firm, he must file a special declaration which must be filed within sixty davs of the time when the namem or designation is first used. This also applies to Manitoba, but the time for filing the declaration is one month.

See COMPANIES, DOWER.

POWERS OF ATTORNEY

A power of attorney is an authority given by one person to another to act for him. It may be either verbal or in writing, but it is advisable to have it in writing owing to possible disputes afterwards, and also to difficulty of proof. The signature of the person giving the power should be witnessed. In most cases the power may be revoked at any time unless it is given for valuable consideration. It is revoked by the death of the person giving it, unless the power itself, or the law, provides otherwise. Any payment made and act done under a power after the death of the person who gave it, or after he has done some act to render it void, shall, notwithstanding such death or act, be valid as respects every person party to such payment or act, to whom the fact or the death, or the doing of the act, was not known at the time of such payment or act. In Manitoba, a trustee (including an executor or administrator) intending to remain out of the Province for more than one month may give a power of attorney in accordance with the provisions of The Trustee Act, but not to a co-trustee if the co-trustee is not a trust corporation.

PROMISSORY NOTES

See BILLS, NOTES AND CHEQUES.

REAL PROPERTY

In a conveyance of land, there is included, without so stating, all buildings upon it. Land is conveyed by deed or transfer, which is registered in the proper registry or Land Titles Office. The intending purchaser of land must search in such registry or Land Titles Office to ascertain whether the vendor has a good title to the land, and what mortgages or encumbrances there are against it. There are two systems of registration in Canada. Each Province has one or both systems, one being under a Land Titles Act (sometimes called the Torrens System) and the other a Registry Act. A Land Titles Act is in force in the Provinces of Ontario, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and the Northwest Territories and Yukon Territory. A Registry Act is in force in Ontario, Manitoba, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island.

In Saskatchewan real estate devolves as persona property.

Under the Land Titles Act the title to the land is practically guaranteed to the registered owner. The Land Registry Act of British Columbia is similar to the Registry Acts of the other provinces, but all property owners receive a certificate of indefeasible title. In the Province of Quebec, a deed is passed before a notary or two witnesses and then registered in the proper one of the 77 Registry Offices. The law of real property in Quebec is too complicated to detail fully here; it is advisable to consult a Quebec lawyer.

In Ontario an owner of land is only required to show a good title during the preceding forty years.

TRUSTS AND TRUSTEES

A trust is an equitable obligation binding a person (called a trustee) to deal with property over which he has control (called the trust property) for the benefit of persons (called beneficiaries), of whom he himself may be one, and any one of whom may enforce the obligation. No particular form of words is necessary in order to create a trust. Any kind of property may be the subject of a trust. No one is bound to accept the office of trustee. It is a trustee's duty to give to the trust property the same care and attention as a prudent man would give to his own personal affairs, and a trustee must make no profit, in the way of his own business, out of the estate. A trustee is authorized to represent the shares in his hands at all meetings of a company, and may vote accordingly as a shareholder, and may also be a director as long as he holds the shares in trust. Where there are two trustees, or executors or administrators, and one dies, the office and estate are continued in the survivor. Until a new trustee is appointed, the executor or administrator of a sole trustee, or of the last surviving trustee, as the case may be, may exercise any power given to, or perform any trust capable of being exercised by, the sole or last surviving trustee. The law usually allows a trustee a fair and reasonable allowance for his care, trouble and time expended in connection with the estate.

In Manitoba, a trustee (including an executor or administrator) intending to remain out of the Province for more than one month may give a power of attorney in accordance with the provisions of The Trustee Act, but not to a co-trustee if the co-trustee is not a trust corporation.

WILLS

Any person of sound mind and of the age of 21 years, may dispose by will of real and personal property. Any member of His Majesty's Naval, Military or Air forces, or any mariner or seaman at sea, on active service, may make a will, although under 21 (In New Brunswick this applies only to personal property). If the will is signed by him no witnesses are required. Any property acquired between the date of a will and the death of the testator passes under the will. Subject to certain variations in the Provinces mentioned below, the general requirement of a will are as follows: A will must be in writing, and, except in the case of the said members of His Majesty's forces must be signed at the foot or end thereof by the testator, or by some other person in his presence and by his direction; and such signature must be written or acknowledged by the testator in the actual presence of at least two witnesses present at the same time, and at the request of the testator, who shall sign their names on the will, as witnesses, in the presence of the testator. In Manitoba, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, and Quebec the witnesses must also sign in the presence of each other Where a will consists of several sheets, it is advisable that the testator and both witnesses should sign or initial each previous sheet as identification. Any alteration in the will should be initialled by the testator and each witness.

A minor may be a witness, unless incompetent, through extreme youth, to understand and testify.

It is desirable that the witnesses should be informed that they are witnessing a will A person who is taking any benefit under a will, or the wife or husband of such person, should not be a witness, for, although such person would be admitted as a witness to prove the execution of the will, a gift to such witness, or to the husband or wife of such witness, would be void. The occupation and residence of the witnesses should follow their signatures, to enlabe them more easily to be found when wanted to prove the will, and for this reason persons having permanent residences and occupations are to be preferred.

A will is revoked—among other ways—(a) by the subsequent marriage of the testator, (b) by a later will or codicil properly executed, (c) by the testator, or some person in his presence and by his direction, destroying it with the intention of revoking it. In New Brunswick a will made after April 30th, 1938, and represented to be made in contemplation of marriage, is not revoked by the subsequent marriage. This provision also applies in Manitoba, Prince Edward Island and Saskatchewan, but there is no restriction as to the date of the will.

In Nova Scotia a will is not revoked by subsequent marriage if (a) it is declared in the will to be made in contemplation of marriage, or (b) if the wife or husband elects to take under the will within one year of testator's death, or (c) in certain cases of exercise of power of appointment. In Nova Scotia this applies to Wills made after March, 1931.

In the Province of Quebec three forms of wills are recognized, namely, the authentic or notarial form; the form required for holograph wills; and the form derived from the laws of England. The notarial form is made before two notaries, or before one notary and two witnesses. A holograph will must be wholly written and signed by the testator, and requires neither notaries or witnesses. The form derived from the laws of England must be signed by the testator and acknowledged by him in the presence of two witnesses present and signing at the same time. The holograph will, and that in English form, require to be probated after the death of the testator, but the notarial form does not, as it makes complete proof of its contents. The proceedings for probate are much less complicated than in most other jurisdictions. There is no provision for Letters of Administration.

In Alberta, Manitoba, Newfoundland, Yukon and Saskatchewan a will wholly written and signed by the testator (known as a holograph will) is valid without a witness.

WITNESSES AND SEALS

A signed document is valid without a witness, but if the signature is witnessed it is easier to prove its authenticity In order, however, to register a document, a witness is necessary, as he has to make an affidavit of execution. A witness can be compelled to make proof of the execution of a document. Two witnesses are necessary in the case of a will.

In the case of a corporation no witness is required. If the seal of the corporation is affixed, with the signatures of its proper signing officers, this will be sufficient for the purpose of registration. The seal of a corporation is really its signature, and the names of the officers are merely witnesses to the seal.

The law does not require the address of a witness to a signature, but it is well to have it so that the witness may be easily found if it is necessary to prove the signature.

(Sec. 9) Where the deceased was domiciled outside of Canada at time of death any allowance made on account of debts by way of deduction from the value of the property situated in Canada, other than debts specifically charged upon the said property, shall be in the proportion that the value of the property situated in Canada bears to the value of the property of the deceased wheresoever situated.

Persons Liable for Duties

(Sec. 12) (1) Every successor shall be liable for the duty by this Act levied upon or in respect of the succession to him provided that the duty in respect of any gift of disposition inter vivos to a successor shall also be payable by and may be recovered from the executor of the property of the deceased but such liability shall be in his capacity as executor only and for an amount not exceeding the value of the interest of the successor in the property administered by the executor.

(2) Subject to the provisions of subsection 1 of this section all the duties assessed and levied under this Act shall be payable by and may be recovered from the executor of the property of the deceased, provided that the liability of any executor under this subsection shall be a liability in his capacity as executor only and for an amount not exceeding the value of the property administered by him.

(b) where the deceased was at the time of his death domiciled outside of Canada, upon or in respect of the succession to all property situated in Canada.

RATES OF DUTY

Initial Rates

(Sec. 10) There shall be assessed, levied and paid to the Receiver General of Canada, upon or in respect of each succession mentioned and described in section 6 (Duties on Successions) of this Act an initial duty at the rate set forth under the heading "Initial rates dependent on aggregate net value" in the First Schedule to this Act which corresponds to the aggregate net value, in the said Schedule, and the duty so levied shall be payable by each successor in respect of his succession: Provided that there shall be no duty levied under this section where the aggregate net value exceeds $5,000. but does not exceed $25,000.

Additional Rates

(Sec. 11) In addition to the duty imposed by section 10 of this Act, there shall be assessed, levied and paid upon or in respect of each succession mentioned and described in section 6 of this Act a duty at the rate set forth in the First Schedule to this Act which corresponds to the dutiable value in the said Schedule, as follows:—

(a) under the heading Class A of the said schedule where the dutiable value exceeds $5,000. and where the successor is the widow or child of the deceased;

(b) under the heading Class B of the said schedule where the dutiable value exceeds $1,000. and where the successor is the grandfather, grandmother, father, mother, husband, son-in-law or daughter-in-law of the deceased or a child of the deceased 18 years of age or over at the date of the death of the deceased and not dependent, at that date, upon the deceased for support on account of mental or physical infirmity;

(c) under the heading Class C of the said Schedule where the dutiable value exceeds $1,000. and where the successor is a lineal ancestor (except a grandfather, grandmother, father or mother), a brother or sister of the deceased or any descendant of a brother or sister, or a brother or sister of the father or mother of the deceased or any descendant of such brother or sister;

(d) under the heading Class D of the said Schedule where the dutiable value exceeds $1,000. and where the successor is any person in any other degree of consanguinity to the deceased than as mentioned in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section, or is a stranger in blood to the deceased.

1946 AMENDMENT

11A. Each successor may deduct from the duties otherwise payable by him under this Act in respect of a succession derived from a predecessor dying after the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and forty-six, the lesser of

(a) the duty or duties payable by him under the laws of any province or provinces in respect of such succession; or

(b) fifty per centum of the duty otherwise payable by him under this Act in respect of such succession.

(The purpose of this provision is to permit the allowance of provincial duties as against the Dominion duties up to but not exceeding one-half of the Dominion duties. It came into force on Jan. 1st, 1947).

1948 AMENDMENT

4A. Where, on the death of a predecessor on or after the first day of January, nineteen hundred and forty-eight, the aggregate net value exceeds fifty thousand dollars, if the total amount of the duties otherwise payable under this Act exceeds the amount of the difference between the aggregate net value and fifty thousand dollars,

(a) the total amount of the duties is, notwithstanding anything in this Act, an amount equal to the amount of the difference, and

(b) the amount of the duty payable by each successor is an amount equal to the proportion of the amount of the duty otherwise payable by him that the total amount of the duties payable in accordance with this subsection is of the total amount of the duties otherwise payable.

EXAMPLE

An example of the way the two classes of rates i.e., the "initial rates" and the "additional rates" apply in the case of an estate of $100,000. of dutiable value descending to two adult children. Each child's bequest is $50,000. The "Initial Rate" (dependent on aggregate net value) for $100,000 is 5%. The "Additional Rate" (dependent on dutiable value of the individual benefit) for a bequest of $50,000. in Class B (the Class for Adult Children) is 8%. The total of 5% and 8% is 13%. A total rate of 13% is thus the duty applicable to the dutiable value of each bequest of $50,000. (We have here doubled the original rates, in accordance with the 1946 amendment; but note section 11A respecting 50% deduction.)

FIRST SCHEDULE

RATES OF DUTY—DOMINION SUCCESSION DUTIES

(Partial Table Only)

The following is a partial table of rates omitting many of the intermediate steps. The complete schedule in the Act progresses by very small increases, both of values and rates. There are, for instance, 9 intermediate rates of duty between the 10% and the 12% rate shown below under Class A, and a similar close progression between other rates of duty here shown.

The rates in this schedule give effect to the 1946 amendment by which, in respect of any succession upon the death of a person after Dec. 31, 1946, the rates were doubled, with a provision for allowable deductions in respect of duties payable under the laws of any province or provinces. See above, Section 11a.

The rates appearing below apply only to successions derived from persons dying on or after the first day of January, 1948.

A schedule outlining a similar agreement was signed between Canada and the United Kingdom on June 5, 1946. In 1948 an amendement to avoid double taxation in case of convention was adopted, the wording being as follows:

4B. Where Canada has entered into a convention or agreement with another country for the avoidance of double taxation pursuant to which duties are assessable under this Act exclusively in respect of the property situated in Canada where the deceased dies domiciled in that other country, the aggregate net value for the purpose of subsections four and four A means, in the case of a predecessor who dies domiciled in that other country, the aggregate net value of the property wherever situated.

Additional duty charged on amount passing to any one person in preferred class.

Note 1—In addition to what is set out above the following will be in the Preferred Class, in so far as all Ontario Succession Duty Rates are concerned, by virtue of The Adoption Act, being Chapter 218 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario 1937:

(i) a person adopted, at any age, under The Ontario Adoption Act and taking property by will or lifetime disposition from the adopting parent;

(ii) the spouse of a person adopted and taking as in (i);

(iii) the issue of a person adopted and taking as in (i);

(iv) the adopting parent of a person adopted as in (i) who takes from the adopted person as in (i);

(v) the adopting parent of a person adopted as in (i) where such adopting parent takes from the spouse or issue of such adopted person as in (i);

Note 2—If the spouse of a person, adopted under the Ontario Adoption Act inherits in his or her own right, on intestacy, from the adopting parent, he or she will be treated for all purposes of the Succession Duty Act, according to the natural relationship.

Note 3—The issue of any person, adopted under The Ontario Adoption Act, do not inherit, as such, on the intestacy of the adopting parent but they may inherit, on such intestacy, in their own right, in which case they will be treated for all purposes of The Succession Duty Act, according to the natural relationship.

Note 4—An adopting parent who has adopted under The Ontario Adoption Act and who takes under the will of or lifetime disposition by the spouse of the person adopted is not entitled, as such, to the preferred rates. Such adopting parent will be taxed at whatever rates are applicable by reason of natural relationship, if taking by any means from such spouse.

Note 5—Where an adopting parent dies intestate, the person adopted by him under The Ontario Adoption Act, at any age, will inherit on such intestacy, the same as if he were the natural and lawful child of such parent. If under twelve years of age when so adopted, he is, of course, a "child" under The Succession Duty Act and is entitled to the preferred rates. If over twelve years of age when so adopted, he will be taxed at the appropriate rates according to the natural relationship.

Note 6—An adoption order under The Ontario Adoption Act does not deprive the person adopted from inheriting on intestacy from his natural and lawful parents or other relatives or from taking under the will of or under a lifetime disposition by any person and the person so adopted will be taxed at the appropriate rates according to the natural relationship prevailing between him and the person from whom he inherits or takes.

Note 7—Where a person adopted under The Ontario Adoption Act dies intestate, his property acquired by himself or by gift or inheritance from his adopting parent or from the kindred of such parent, shall be distributed as though he had been born in lawful wedlock to his adopting parent but the beneficiaries shall be taxed at the appropriate rates, according to the natural relationship.

Note 8—Where a person, adopted under The Ontario Adoption Act dies intestate, the property acquired from his natural parent or kindred shall be distributed the same as if no adoption order had been made and the beneficiaries shall be taxed at the appropriate rates, according to the natural relationship.

In the case of an annuity, term of years, life estate or income but where an interest in expectancy is not involved, the duty levied shall be payable in four equal, annual instalments 1, 2, 3 and 4 years respectively from the death of the deceased and for default in payment of any such instalment, there shall be added interest at the rate of 5% per annum from the date when such instalment became payable until payment.

Disposition

Note: The term "Disposition" where used in the above synopsis means lifetime disposition by the de- ceased and does not include any disposition made by his will.

Allowance for Duty Paid in Other Jurisdictions

For the purpose of avoiding double taxation on residents in Ontario an allowance shall be made for duty levied and paid on personal property situate in the jurisdictions mentioned below where the deceased owner died domiciled in Ontario, where such property passes to Ontario residents and where duty is levied on such residents, by Ontario, with respect to the transmission of such property. The allowance made by Ontario in such circumstances will be the amount of duty levied on such property by the foreign jurisdiction; provided however that if the duty levied on such property by the foreign jurisdiction exceeds the duty levied by Ontario with respect to the transmission of such property, the allowance will be the amount of the Ontario Duty.

(a) The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland;
(b) The Union of South Africa;
(c) The Commonwealth of Australia;
(d) Eire;
(e) The Dominion of New Zealand;
(f) The other Provinces of the Dominion of Canada, save and except Newfoundland.
(g) The District of Columbia; and
(h) Each of the States of the United States of America.

The allowance to be made by Ontario, as aforesaid, shall apply where the deceased died on or after June 21st, 1946 and with the object of relieving Ontario citizens as far as possible, in this respect, the allowance shall be applicable whether or not the foreign jurisdictions, or any of them, make similar provisions in converse cases.

New Provisions

I. Notwithstanding anything contained in Clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) under the above heading, "Further Exemtptions", these clauses, in so far as they apply to religious organizations, shall apply to such organizations as if the word "Canada" were substituted for the word "Ontario" wherever it appears in such clauses.

II. Notwithstanding anything set out above with respect to "Estates Exempt from Succession Duty" or with respect to "Schedule of Rates—Preferred Class", duty shall not attach to any benefits to members of the preferred class where the aggregate value does not exceed $50,000.00.

III. Notwithstanding anything contained under the above heading "When and How Duty Payable", in the case of an annuity, term of years, life estate or income which is not an interest in expectancy, the duty, with respect to such, shall be payable in a number of equal, annual instalments equal to;—
  (a) the number of years,
    (i) of expectancy of life of the person who benefits, or (ii) for which such annuity, term of years or income is to run, as the case may be; or (b) ten,
whichever is the lesser, and such instalments shall commence one year after the death of the deceased.

IV. In the case of an annuity, term of years, life estate or income which is an interest in expectancy, the duty, with respect to such, shall, if not sooner paid, be payable in a number of equal annual instalments as set out in III above and such instalments shall commence one year after the date when such annuity, term of years, life estate or income commences to be enjoyed.

V. The above new provisions are contained in The Succession Duty Amendment Act, 1949, which came into force on the first day of April 1949, and apply only where the deceased died on or after that date. Where the deceased died before April 1st, 1949, all the provisions as set out under the above heading "When and How Duty Payable" will apply.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

QUEBEC

EXEMPTIONS FROM DUTY

Where the aggregate value of the property transmitted in the direct line, ascending or descending, between consorts, between father- or mother-in-law and son- or daughter-in-law, and between stepfather or stepmother and stepson or stepdaughter, does not exceed ten thousand dollars, no duty shall be exigible on such property or on the transmission thereof. If the aggregate value of the property so transmitted exceeds ten thousand dollars, the amount of the duties exigible on such property or on the transmission thereof shall not exceed the amount of the excess and the rates fixed must consequently be reduced proportionately, where necessary. The abovementioned sum of ten thousand dollars shall be increased by one thousand dollars for each child who has survived the deceased or has left surviving descendants. However, except for the limiting effect of this proviso, if the aggregate value of the property transmitted exceeds the amount for which exemption is allowed, note that all exemption disappears.

Estates not exceeding $1,000.00 in value and passing to immediate collaterals are duty free.

When the aggregate value of the property transmitted to a stranger in blood to the deceased, who has been in the employ of the deceased for at least five years, does not exceed one thousand dollars, no duty shall be exigible on such property or on the transmission thereof.

In estates which devolved since February 22nd, 1949, legacies, gifts and subscriptions for religious, charitable or educational purposes, as well as the proceeds of life insurance policies payable to churches and cemetery associations, are tax free regardless of the domicile of the benefiting institutions.

RATES OF DUTY

On property transmitted in the direct line, ascending or descending, between consorts, between father- or mother-in-law and son- or daughter-in-law, between stepfather or stepmother and stepson or stepdaughter, and on transmission between the same persons, the rates of duty shall be as follows:

In Estates the aggregate value of which:
  Does not exceed $10,000—Nil.
  Exceeds $10,000, not exceeding $50,000—1% plus 1/25 of 1% for each full $1,000.
  Exceeds $50,000, not exceeding $100,000—1% plus 1/20 of 1% for each full $1,000.
  Exceeds $100,000—5% plus 1/100 of 1% for each full $1,000.
  Provided, however, that the total so obtained shall not exceed 15% where aggregate value of Estate exceeds $1,000,000.

Provided further that in addition to the above duty, a further duty is payable (on estates of which aggregate value exceeds $10,000) as follows;

Where the whole amount passing to one person:
  Does not exceed $50,000—1%.
  Exceeds $50,000, does not exceed $300,000—1% plus 1/100 of 1% for each full $1,000.
  Exceeds $300,000—3% plus 1/200 of 1% for each full $1,000.
  Provided, however, that the total rate so obtained shall not exceed 10%.

Higher duties provided in the case of collaterals, strangers, etc.

In 1945 an agreement was made between the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec providing for the avoidance of double taxation in regard to Succession Duties.

SASKATCHEWAN

TRADE MARKS

THE UNFAIR COMPETITION ACT, 1932

22-23 GEORGE V, CHAP. 38

A brief summary follows. A copy of the Act may be procured from The Registrar, Trade Marks Office, Ottawa Ont. It is suggested a competent attorney be consulted. The names of a number of such appear in these pages.

This Act came into force Sept. 1st, 1932, and repeals An Act respecting Trade Marks and Industrial Designs (see Chapter 201) in part as follows: Sections 3, 4 to 21 inclusive, 23 and 53 are repealed; and sections 42 to 52 are amended by striking therefrom the words "trade mark" and "trade marks" and any other words exclusively relating to said words.

TRADE MARK

TRADE MARK means a symbol which has become adapted to distinguish particular wares falling within a general category from other wares falling within the same category, and is used by any person in association with wares entering into trade or commerce for the purpose of indicating to dealers in, and/or users of such wares that they have been manufactured, sold, leased or hired by him, or that they are of a defined standard or have been produced under defined working conditions, by a defined class of persons, or in a defined territorial area, and includes any distinguishing guise capable of constituting a trade mark.

WORD MARK

WORD MARK means a trade mark consisting only of a series of letters and/or numerals and depending for its distinctiveness upon the idea or sound suggested by the sequence of the letters and/or numerals and their separation into groups, independently of the form of the letters or numerals severally or as a series.

DESIGN MARK

DESIGN MARK means a trade mark consisting of an arbitrary and in itself meaningless mark or design, or of a representation of some object or objects, or of letters or numerals in series or otherwise, or of a combination of two or more of the foregoing elements, and depending for its distinctiveness upon its form and colour, or upon the form, arrangement or colour of its several parts, independently of any idea or sound capable of being suggested by the particular sequence of the letters and/or numerals, if any, forming part, thereof, or by their separation into groups, and includes any distinguishing guise capable of constituting a trade mark.

DISTINGUISHING GUISE

DISTINGUISHING GUISE means a mode of shaping, moulding, wrapping or packing wares entering into trade or commerce which, by reason only of the sensory impression thereby given and independently of any element of utility or convenience it may have, is adapted to distinguish the wares so treated from other similar wares and is used by some person in association with his wares in such a way as to indicate to dealers in and/or users of similar wares that the wares so treated have been manufactured or sold by him.

OWNER

OWNER in relation to a trade mark, means either the person who has an exclusive right to use the mark in association with his wares in such a way as to indicate to dealers in and/or users of such wares that they have been manufactured, sold, leased or hired by him, or, in the case of a trade mark adopted for use in such a way as to indicate only that the wares in association with which it is used are of a defined standard or that they have been produced under defined working conditions, by a defined class of persons or in a defined territorial area, means the person, trade union, commercial association or administrative authority by which the said standard, working conditions, class of persons or area has been defined.

UNFAIR COMPETITION

No person shall knowingly adopt for use in Canada in connection with any wares any trade mark or any distinguishing guise which

3. (a) is already in use in Canada by any other person and which is registered pursuant to the provisions of this Act as a trade mark or distinguishing guise for the same or similar wares;
   (b) is already in use by any other person in any country of the Union other than Canada (i.e. any country which has acceded to the Union for the Protection of Industrial Property under the Convention as revised at the Hague on Nov. 6, 1925) as a trade mark or distinguishing guise for the same or similar wares, and is known in Canada in association with such wares by reason either of the distribution of the wares in Canada or of their advertisement therein in any printed publication circulated in the ordinary course among potential dealers in and/or users of such wares in Canada; or.
   (c) is similar to any trade mark or distinguishing guise in use, or in use and known as aforesaid

4. (1) The person who, in association with wares, first uses or makes known in Canada, as provided in the last preceding section, a trade mark or a distinguishing guise capable of constituting a trade mark, shall be entitled to the exclusive use in Canada of such trade mark or distinguishing guise in association with such wares, provided that such trade mark is recorded in the register existing under the Trade Mark and Design Act at the date of the coming into force of this Act, or provided that in compliance with the provisions of this Act he makes application for the registration of such trade mark within six months of the date on which this Act comes into force, or of the date of his first use thereof in Canada, or of the date upon which the trade mark or distinguishing guise was first made known in Canada, as provided in the last preceding section, and thereafter obtains and maintains registration thereof under the provisions of this Act.

TIME FOR APPLICATION

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection one of this section, the person who first uses or makes known in Canada, in association with wares a trade mark or a distinguishing guise capable of constituting a trade mark may apply for and secure registration thereof after the expiration of any of the periods of six months specified by subsection one, provided the same or a similar trade mark or distinguishing guise has not been registered by another for use in association with the same or similar wares, but such application shall not be allowed or the registration of such trade mark made before the expiration of a period of six months from the date of such application.

REGISTER OF TRADE MARKS

22.(1) There shall be kept under the supervision of the Registrar a register of trade marks in which, subject as hereinafter provided, any person may cause to be recorded any trade mark he has adopted, and notifications of any assignments, transmissions, disclaimers and judgments relating to such trade mark.

(2) The register shall specify the date upon which each of the trade marks recorded therein was registered, and shall contain an abstract of the statements contained in the applications for the registration of such marks respectively, and of any documents deposited with such applications, or filed with the Registrar subsequent to the making of the applications and affecting the right to such trade marks respectively.

23. (1) The register now existing under the Trade Mark and Design Act shall form part of the register maintained pursuant to this Act, and, subject as hereinafter provided, all entries therein shall hereafter be governed by the provisions of this Act, but shall not, if properly made under the law in force at the time they were made, be subject to be expunged or amended only because they might not properly have been made hereunder.

(2) The Registrar may at any time, and shall at the request of any applicant for the registration of a trade mark under this Act, by notice in writing require the owner of any trade mark or union label on the register at the date of the coming into force of this Act to furnish to him within four months from the date of the notice the information which would have been required on an application for the registration of such trade mark under this Act.

(3) If such information is not furnished pursuant to such notice, the Registrar shall by a further notice, fix a reasonable time within which, if the information is not furnished, the record of the registration shall be liable to be expunged, and it may be expunged accordingly by the Registrar if no objection is made by the owner of the mark, or by judgment, declaration or order of the Exchequer Court of Canada if he enters an objection.

(4) Any such notice as aforesaid shall be deemed to have been sufficiently given if sent to the person appearing from the record to be the owner of such mark addressed to him at his address as stated in the application for the registration of the mark or for the last renewal thereof, and if any other later or more accurate address is known to the Registrar, at such later or more accurate address, and also addressed to him in care of the person to whom the certificate of registration or of the last renewal thereof was sent at the time of its issue.

(5) Marks registered before the coming into force of this Act shall be treated as word marks or as design marks according to the following rules:—

- (a) Any mark consisting of words and/or numerals only without any indication of a special form or appearance shall be deemed to be a word mark;
- (b) Any other mark consisting of words and/or numerals only shall be deemed to be a word mark if at the date of its registration the words and/or numerals would have been registrable independently of any defined special form or appearance and shall also be deemed to be a design mark for reading matter presenting the special form or appearance defined;
- (c) Any mark including words and/or numerals in combination with other features shall be deemed to be a design mark having the features described in the application therefor but without any meaning being attributed to the words or numerals, which shall, however, also be deemed to constitute a word mark if and so far as they would at the date of registration have been registrable independently of any defined form or appearance and without being combined with any other feature;
- (d) Any other mark shall be deemed to be a design mark having the features described in the application therefor.

REGISTRABLE TRADE MARKS

26. (1) Subject as otherwise provided in this Act, a word mark shall be registrable if it

- (a) does not contain more than thirty letters and/or numerals divided into not more than four groups;
- (b) is not the name of a person, firm or corporation;
- (c) is not, to an English or French speaking person, clearly descriptive or misdescriptive of the character or quality of the wares in connection with which it is proposed to be used, or of the conditions of, or the persons employed in, their production, or of their place of origin;
- (d) would not if sounded be so descriptive or misdescriptive to an English or French speaking person;
- (e) is not the name in any language of any of the wares in connection with which it is to be used;
- (f) is not similar to, or to a possible translation into English or French of, some other word mark already registered for use in connection with similar wares; and
- (g) is not such as to suggest the name in French or English of some feature of a design mark already registered for use in connection with similar wares which is so characteristic of the design mark that its name would not be unlikely to be used to define or describe the wares in connection with which the design mark is used.

(2) An application for the registration of a word mark otherwise registrable shall not be refused on the ground that the mark consists of or includes a series of letters or numerals which also constitute or form part of the name of the firm or corporation by which the application for registration is made.

27. Subject as hereinafter provided, any design mark may be registered if it

- (a) is not identical with or similar to any design mark already registered for use in connection with similar wares;
- (b) is not such as to be likely to mislead dealers in and/or users of the wares in connection with which it is proposed to be used as to the character or quality of such wares or as to the conditions of or the persons employed in their production or as to their place of origin;
- (c) is not such that, by reason of one of its principal characteristics being a representation of something which obviously suggests a word mark already registered for use in connection with similar wares, it is likely that such word mark, or some word resembling the same, would be used to define or describe the wares in connection with which the design mark is used.

APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION

30. (1) Any person who desires to register a trade mark under this Act otherwise than pursuant to a judgment, order or declaration of the Exchequer Court of Canada shall make an application in writing to the Registrar in duplicate containing

- (a) a statement of the date from which the applicant or named predecessors in title has or have used the mark for the purposes defined in the application and of the countries in which the mark has been principally used since the said date;
- (b) a statement that the applicant considers that, having regard to the provisions of this Act, he was and is entitled to adopt and use the mark in Canada in connection with the wares described; and
- (c) the address of the applicant's principal office or place of business in Canada, if any, and if the applicant has no office or place of business in Canada, the address of his principal office or place of business abroad and the name and address in Canada of some person, firm or corporation to whom any notice in respect of the registration may be sent, and upon whom service of any proceedings in respect of the registration may be made with the same effect as if they had been served upon the applicant himself.

(2) If the mark is intended to indicate that the wares in association with which it is used have been manufactured, sold, leased or hired by the owner thereof the application shall so indicate and shall contain

- (a) a concise description, expressed in such terms as are ordinarily and commercially used by the applicant, of the wares with which the applicant is commercially concerned;
- (b) a concise description in like terms of the specific wares in association with which the applicant has used the mark.

(3) If the mark is intended to indicate that the wares in association with which it is used are of a defined standard, or have been produced under defined working conditions, by a defined class of persons or in a defined area, the application shall so indicate and shall contain:

- (a) a statement that the applicant is not engaged in the manufacture, sale, leasing or hiring of wares similar to any wares in association with which the mark is used;
- (b) an exact definition of what the use of the mark in association with wares is intended to indicate in respect of the standard which such wares have attained, or of the working conditions under which or the class of persons by whom they have been produced or of the area in which they have originated.

31. (1) Every application for the registration of a trade mark shall state whether the applicant requests the registration of the mark as a word mark or as a design mark.

(2) If he requests the registration of the mark as a word mark, the letters and/or numerals constituting the mark shall be set out in the application in their proper grouping.

(3) If he requests the registration of the mark as a design mark, the application shall contain such a concise description of what the applicant considers to be its principal features as to enable the Registrar properly to index the mark; any words or figures shall be referred to, if at all, only as reading matter, and shall be described as being in a specified relation to the other features of the design and/or of a described general appearance, as the case may require, and the applicant shall furnish five accurate and complete representations of the design prepared on or attached to paper of the prescribed size.

AMENDMENT OF RECORD OF REGISTRATION

42. If the person who at any time appears from the record of the registration of a trade mark to be the owner of such mark represents to the Registrar that any amendment is required to any statement theretofore recorded relating to the wares in which the owner of the mark is commercially concerned, or to the use of the mark, the address of the owner, or the person upon whom service may be made of proceedings in respect of the registration, the record shall, subject as hereinafter provided, be amended or added to accordingly.

CHANGES OF OWNERSHIP ASSIGNMENTS AND LICENSES

44. (1) Whenever it is made to appear to his satisfaction that any person who appears on the register to be an owner of a registered trade mark has ceased to be so and that some other person has become by assignment or transmission the owner of such mark, the Registrar shall note the change of ownership accordingly on the record of the registration.

(2) A registered trade mark shall not be assigned or transmitted except in connection and concurrently with an assignment or transmission of the good will of the business carried on in Canada in association with the wares for which such mark has been registered, and in any case such trade mark shall be terminate with such goodwill; provided however that any registered owner of a trade mark whose headquarters are situate in Canada and who is entitled to its exclusive use in connection with a business carried on in Canada may assign the right to use such trade mark in any other country, in association with any wares for which such trade mark is registered, in connection and concurrently with his assignment of the goodwill of the business carried on in such other country in such wares, provided that the grant of such right is forthwith recorded by the grantor of such right in the register maintained pursuant to this Act.

NOTICES OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT OR CANCELLATION AFTER NOTICE

49.(1) The Registrar may at any time, and shall at the request of any person who pays the prescribed fee, notify the person appearing from the register to be the owner of any trade mark that he considers, or that it has been represented to him that such trade mark has ceased to be used as a trade mark in Canada, or for any other specific reason to be set out in the notice, the registration of such mark should be cancelled or that an entry relating thereto should be struck out, corrected or amplified, and request him to advise whether he has any, and if any, what objection to the amendment of the register accordingly.

(2) If the person to whom such notice has been addressed agrees to the proposed amendment of the register in whole or in part, such amendment shall forthwith be made by the Registrar in accordance with such agreement.

(3) If, within three months from the despatch of such a notice as aforesaid, no reply to it has been received from the person to whom it was addressed, the Registrar shall send such person a second notice enclosing a copy of the first and stating that if, within a reasonable time to be fixed by the notice, no objection to the proposed amendment of the register is received, such amendment will be made, and, unless an objection is received within the time limited, the Registrar shall amend the register accordingly.

(4) Except as in the next following section provided, the Registrar shall not cause any amendment to be made in the register to which the person appearing therefrom to be the owner of the mark makes any objection.

RENEWAL OF REGISTRATION OF TRADE MARK

50. (1) If a mark has been on the register without renewal for the period hereinafter specified less four months, the Registrar shall take the action prescribed under the last preceding section on the ground that the person appearing from the register to be the owner thereof has ceased to use the same.

(2) In any such case the registration of the mark shall be cancelled notwithstanding objection on the part of the owner thereof, unless the prescribed fee for the renewal of the registration is paid within the time within which an objection to the cancellation of the registration might be made.

(3) The period specified in subsection one of this section shall be as follows:—

PATENTS IN CANADA

The Patent Act, 1935, Chap. 32, 25-26 Geo. V, 1935, as amended by Chap. 23 II Geo. VI, 1947 (assented to 14th May, 1947).

A synopsis of the principal provisions of The Patent Act are given below:—

For a copy of the Act apply to the Commissioner of Patents, Ottawa, who receives all applications and has charge of all records.

As it is difficult for an applicant to properly comply with the regulations of the Patent Office unless he is conversant with the process of obtaining a patent, any person contemplating obtaining a patent is advised to consult one of the patent solicitors whose cards appear in this volume.

DEFINITION OF INVENTION

The Act defines "invention" as any new and useful art, process, machine, manufacture or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement in the same.

WHO MAY OBTAIN PATENTS

Subject to the various provisions of the Act, any inventor or legal representative of an inventor, of an invention which was:

(a) not known or used by others before he invented it, and

(b) not described in any patent or in any publication printed in Canada or in any other country more than two years before presentation of the petition, and

(c) not in public use or on sale in Canada for more than two years prior to his application in Canada may obtain a patent granting him an exclusive property in such invention.

Any inventor or legal representative of an inventor who applies in Canada for a patent for an invention for which application for patent has been made in any other country by such inventor or his legal representative before the filing of the application in Canada, shall not be entitled to obtain in Canada a patent for that invention unless his application in Canada is filed:

(a) before issue of any patent to such inventor or his legal representative for the same invention in any other country; or

(b) if a patent has issued in any other country within twelve months after the filing of the first application by such inventor or his legal representative for patent for such invention in any other country.

No patent shall issue for an invention which has an illicit object in view, or for any mere scientific principle or abstract theorem.

APPLICATIONS FOR PATENTS

An applicant for a patent shall state in his application, if resident in Canada, his address in Canada. If not so resident, the name and address of some person resident in Canada who has been nominated to represent the applicant or patentee for all purposes of the Act including the service of any proceedings taken under any provision of the Act. This representative may be changed if necessary.

Each application for a patent shall be completed and prepared for examination within twelve months after the filing of the application, and in default thereof, or upon failure of the applicant to prosecute the same within six months after any examiner's action thereon of which notice shall have been given to the applicant, such application shall be deemed to have been abandoned, but it may be reinstated within twelvemonths after the date on which it was deemed to have been abandoned, if the failure to prosecute the application within the time specified was not reasonably avoidable. An application so reinstated shall retain its original filing date.

TREATY OR CONVENTION RIGHTS

Section 27 (1). provides that an application for a patent filed in Canada by any person entitled to protection under the terms of any treaty or convention relating to patents to which Canada is a party who has, or whose agent or other legal representative has, previously regularly filed an application for a patent for the same invention in any other country which by treaty, convention or law affords similar privilege to citizens of Canada, shall have the same force and effect as the same application would have if filed in Canada on the date on which the application for patent for the same invention was first filed in such other country, provided the application in this country is filed within twelve months from the earliest date on which any such application was filed in such other country or from the thirteenth day of June, 1923.

No patent shall be granted on an application for a patent for an invention which had been patented or described in a patent or publication printed in Canada or any other country more than two years before the date of the actual filing of the application in Canada, or which had been in public use or on sale in Canada for more than two years prior to such filing.

JOINT APPLICATIONS

Section 32 (1), new in 1947, provides that:

(1) Where an invention is made by two or more inventors, and one of them refuses to make application for a patent or his whereabouts cannot be ascertained after diligent enquiry, the other inventor or his legal representative may make application, and a patent may be granted in the name of the inventor who makes the application, on satisfying the Commissioner that the joint inventor has refused to make application or that his whereabouts cannot be ascertained after diligent enquiry.

Where an applicant has agreed to assign a patent when granted to another person or to a joint applicant and refuses to proceed with the application; or where disputes arise between joint applicants as to proceeding with the application, the Commissioner may grant a patent to either one of the parties. Procedure is also outlined when a joint applicant retires or is added.

EXTENSION OF TIME FOR FILING

The following new section was incorporated into the Act in 1947:

28A. (1) Subject as hereinafter provided, the Commissioner shall extend to the fifteenth day of November 1947, in favour of a patentee or applicant, such of the time limits fixed by this Act for the filing or prosecution of applications for patents, for appeals from the Commissioner or for the payment of fees, as expired after the second day of September, 1939: Provided

(a) a request for such extension is made by or on behalf of such patentee not later than the fifteenth day of November 1947, or by or on behalf of such applicant for patent before the fifteenth day of May, 1948; and

(b) such request specifies the date of the first application in any country for a patent for the same invention by such applicant or patentee or any one through whom he claims; and

(c) such patentee or applicant is a Canadian citizen or a national of a country which gives substantially reciprocal privileges to Canadian citizens.

(2) Every patent in respect of which, or in respect of the application for which, a time limit has been extended under the provisions of subsection one of this section shall expire at the date specified in the grant of such patent or at the end of twenty-two years from the date of the first application in any country for a patent for the same invention by the patentee or anyone through whom he claims, whichever date is the earlier.

(3) No claim for the infringement of any patent in respect of which, or in respect of the application for which, a time limit has been extended under the provisions of subsection one of this section, shall be made against any person or the successor in business of any person who, before the coming into force of this section had, in Canada, made, constructed, used or vended to others to be used the invention protected by such patent or against any person deriving through such person or such successor his title to any article, machine, manufacture or composition of matters so protected.

Commissioner May Extend Time

An important addition to the Act, made in 1947, which extends some of the benefits which originally were covered by the Emergency Rules and Regulations of 1939, follows:

(Section 22, chapter 23, 1947).

22. (1) On request made to him not later than the date this Act comes into force, the Commissioner may, subject to such conditions, if any, as he thinks fit to impose, extend to a date not later than the said date, the time limited by or under The Patent Act, 1935, for doing any act where he is satisfied

- (a) that the doing of the act within the time so limited was prevented by a person's being on active service or by any other circumstances arising from the existence of a state of war which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, justify an extension of the time so limited,
- (b) that, by reason of circumstances arising from the existence of a state of war, the doing of the act within the time so limited would have been or would be injurious to the rights or interests of the person by or on whose behalf the act is or was to be done or to the public interest,

(2) An extension under subsection one of this section of the time for doing any act—

- (a) may be for any period expiring not later than the date this Act comes into force; that the Commissioner thinks fit, notwithstanding that by or under any enactment in the said Act power is conferred to extend the time for doing that act for a specified period only; and
- (b) may be granted notwithstanding that such time expired before any application or request for extension was made, or that, by reason of that act not having been done for the reasons set forth in subsection one of this section within that time, the relevant application has ceased or expired, or been treated as abandoned.

Assignments—Applicants not Inventors

A patent may be granted to any person to whom an inventor has assigned or bequeathed by his last will his right to obtain it and the assignee may register such an assignment, after which the application cannot be withdrawn without the consent of the assignee.

Improvements May Be Patented

Any improvement to a patented invention may be patented.

Term of Patent

The term limit for the duration of patents issued by the Patent Office under this Act is 17 years from the date on which the patent is granted and issued but if the application for the patent was filed prior to the coming into force of this section of the Act, the term is 18 years from the date on which the patent is granted and issued.

Refusal of Patents

Where a patent is refused, the applicant may any time within 6 months' appeal the decision to the Exchequer Court. (Sec. 43)

Inventions By Public Servants

Section 46 deals with the restriction and regulations of the rights of an inventor if he is in the public service of Canada.

Government Owned Patents

Sections 19a, 19b, and 19c are new in 1947, dealing with secret patents and patents relating to Atomic Energy. Section 19A (1) provides that:

19A. (1) Any officer, servant or employee of the Crown or of a corporation which is an agent or servant of the Crown, who, acting within the scope of his duties and employment as such, invents any invention in instruments or munitions of war, shall, if so required by the Minister of National Defence, assign to such minister on behalf of His Majesty all the benefits of the invention and of any patent obtained or to be obtained for the invention; and any other person who invents any such invention may so assign to such minister on behalf of His Majesty all the benefits of the invention and of any patent obtained or to be obtained for the invention.

Provision is made that an inventor, other than those mentioned in the preceding section, shall be entitled to compensation. Persons making assignments or having knowledge thereof are deemed to have information entrusted in confidence. Other provisions deal with secrecy. Subsection (15) provides that:

The Governor in Council, if satisfied that an invention relating to any instrument or munition of war, described in any specified application for patent not assigned to the Minister of National Defence, is vital to the defence of Canada and that the publication of a patent therefor should be prevented in order to preserve the safety of the State, may order that such invention and application and all the documents relating thereto shall be treated for all purposes of this section as if the invention had been assigned or agreed to be assigned to the Minister of National Defence.

Infringement

Anyone infringing a patent shall be liable to the patentee and to all persons claiming under him for all damages sustained by the patentee or by any such person by reason of such infringement; and the Court may issue an injunction restraining the opposite party from the further use, sale, etc., of the article.

Provision is made that a person who, previous to the granting of the patent has purchased, constructed or acquired any invention shall have the right of using and selling the article, etc.

Impeachment

If any person has reasonable cause to believe that any process used or proposed to be used or any article made, used or sold or proposed to be made, used or sold by him might be alleged by any patentee to constitute an infringement of an exclusive property or privilege granted thereby, he may bring an action in the Exchequer Court of Canada against the patentee for a declaration that such process or article does not or would not constitute an infringement of such exclusive property or privilege.

Priority of Inventions

No patent or claim in a patent shall be declared invalid or void on the ground that, before the invention therein defined was made by the inventor by whom the patent was applied for it had already been known or used by some other inventor, unless it is established either that,

- (a) before the date of the application for the patent such other person had disclosed or used the invention in such manner that it had become available to the public; or that
- (b) such other person had, before the issue of the patent, made an application for patent in Canada upon which conflict proceedings should have been directed; or that
- (c) such other person had at any time made an application in Canada which by virtue of section twenty-seven of this Act had the same force and effect as if it had been filed in Canada before the issue of the patent and upon which conflict proceedings should properly have been directed had it been so filed.

Patented Article to be Marked or Stamped

Every patentee under this Act shall, if possible, stamp or engrave on each patented article sold or offered for sale by him notice of the year of the date of the patent applying to such article, thus—Patented, 1935, or as the case may be.

When, from the nature of any patented article it cannot be so stamped or engraved the patentee shall, if possible, affix to it, or to every package wherein one or more of such articles is or are enclosed, a label marked with the like notice.

When any patented article or material is, from its nature or character, such that it cannot be so stamped or engraved and cannot, reasonably, be packaged or labelled the patentee shall, in all descriptive or advertising matter published by him and relating to such patented article or material, insert the like notice.

ABUSE OF RIGHTS UNDER PATENTS

NOT WORKING A PATENTED INVENTION

The Attorney General of Canada or any person interested may at any time after the expiration of three years from the date of the grant of a patent apply to the Commissioner alleging in the case of that patent that there has been an abuse of the exclusive rights thereunder and asking for relief under this Act.

The exclusive rights under a patent shall be deemed to have been abused in any of the following circumstances:—

(a) If the patented invention (being one capable of being worked within Canada) is not being worked within Canada on a commercial scale, and no satisfactory reason can be given for such non-working:

Provided that, if an application is presented to the Commissioner on this ground, and the Commissioner is of opinion that the time which has elapsed since the grant of the patent has by reason of the nature of the invention or for any other cause been insufficient to enable the invention to be worked within Canada on a commercial scale, the Commissioner may make an order adjourning the application for such period as will in his opinion be sufficient for that purpose;

(b) If the working of the invention within Canada on a commercial scale is being prevented or hindered by the importation from abroad of the patented article by the patentee or persons claiming under him, or by persons directly or indirectly purchasing from him, or by other persons against whom the patentee is not taking or has not taken any proceedings for infringement;

(c) If the demand for the patented article in Canada, is not being met to an adequate extent and on reasonable terms;

(d) If, by reason of the refusal of the patentee to grant a licence or licences upon reasonable terms, the trade or industry of Canada or the trade of any person or class of persons trading in Canada, or the establishment of any new trade or industry in Canada, is prejudiced, and it is in the public interest that a licence or licences should be granted;

(e) If any trade or industry in Canada, or any person or class of persons engaged therein, is unfairly prejudiced by the conditions attached by the patentee, whether before or after the passing of this Act, to the purchase, hire, licence, or use of the patented article, or to the using or working of the patented process;

(f) If it is shown that the existence of the patent, being a patent for an invention relating to a process involving the use of materials not protected by the patent or for an invention relating to a substance produced by such a process, has been utilized by the patentee so as unfairly to prejudice in Canada the manufacture, use or sale of any such materials.

LICENSE WHERE INVENTION NOT BEING WORKED

If a case of abuse is established the Commissioner may order a grant to an applicant of a licence on such terms as the Commissioner may think expedient; or if he is satisfied that an invention is not being worked on a commercial scale within Canada, he may under certain circumstances order the grant of an exclusive licence to an applicant able to provide capital for the working of the patent; or he may order the patent to be revoked.

In granting an exclusive licence a royalty shall be arranged payable to the patentee.

CAVEATS

Any intending applicant for a patent who has not yet perfected his invention and is in fear of being despoiled of his idea, may file in the Patent Office a document setting forth a description of his invention so far as it has proceeded, with or without plans, at his own will; and the Commissioner, on payment of the prescribed fee shall cause that document, which shall be called a "caveat," to be preserved in secrecy with the exception that he shall deliver copies thereof whenever required by the applicant or by any judicial tribunal. The secrecy of the document shall cease when the applicant obtains a patent for his invention.

If application is made by any other person for a patent for any invention with which such "caveat" may in any respect interfere the Commissioner shall forthwith give notice of such application by mail to the person who has filed such "caveat", and such person shall, within three months after the date of mailing the notice, if he wishes to avail himself of the "caveat", file his petition and take the other steps necessary on an application for a patent, and if, in the opinion of the Commissioner, the applications are conflicting, like proceedings may be had in all respects as are by this Act provided in the case of conflicting applications.

Unless the person filing a "caveat" makes application within one year from such filing the Commissioner shall be relieved from the obligation of giving notice and the "caveat" shall thereafter remain as a simple matter of proof as to novelty or priority of invention, if required.

PATENTS ISSUED OUT OF CANADA

The Commissioner shall upon the request of any person who states in writing the name of the inventor, if available, the title of the invention and the number and date of a patent said to have been granted in another country inform such person whether an application for a patent of the same invention is pending in Canada or not.

JURISDICTION OF EXCHEQUER COURT

52A. The Exchequer Court of Canada shall have jurisdiction, on the application of the Commissioner or of any person interested, to order that any entry in the records of the Patent Office relating to the title to a patent be varied or expunged.

PATENT ATTORNEYS

A register of attorneys shall be kept in the Patent Office containing the names of all attorneys entitled to represent applicants for patents.

FEES

The principal fees are as follows:—

On filing an application for patent	$25.00
On grant of patent, payable on pain of forfeiture within six months from the date of notice of the allowance of patent	$25.00
On asking reinstatement of abandoned application under section thirty-one	$20.00
On filing an amendment after allowance of an application for patent	$5.00
On lodging a caveat	$10.00
On petition to reissue a patent after surrender	$40.00
On asking for a certified typewritten or photostat copy of patent with specification, not exceeding 20 pages, exclusive of drawings	$4.00
On filing an application for petition under sections 40, 46, 65 or 66 of the Act—for each petition mentioned therein	$10.00

Other fees provided for range from 10 cents to $5.00.

FORFEITED APPLICATIONS

73 (2) A forfeited application may be restored and a patent granted thereon on application to the Commissioner within six months from the incurrence of the forfeiture, on payment with the application for restoration, in addition to the fee payable on the grant of the patent, of a further fee of twenty dollars and the restored application shall be subject to amendment and re-examination.

COPYRIGHT IN CANADA

BY A. H. O'BRIEN, BARRISTER-AT-LAW, COUNSEL TO THE CANADIAN AUTHORS' ASSOCIATION.

LEGISLATION

Copyright in Canada is governed by The Copyright Act, in the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1927, as amended in 1931, 1935, 1936 and 1938. Canada's adherence to the Revised Convention of Berne became effective on January 1st, 1924. The Canadian legislation of 1924 closely resembles the British Copyright Act of 1911.

In 1931 Canada gave its adherence to the Convention of Rome, 1928.

All copyright legislation of the United Kingdom —in so far as it affected Canada—was repealed by a Canadian statute in 1921.

The following is a summary of the principal provisions of the Act, but persons interested can obtain a copy of the Act on application to the Commissioner of Patents, Copyright Office, Ottawa.

"COPYRIGHT" DEFINED

Copyright is the sole right to produce, reproduce or publish an original literary, dramatic, musical, or artistic work, or any substantial part thereof, in any material form whatsoever, or to present such work by cinematograph, or communicate such work by radio; or in the case of a lecture to deliver the work or any substantial part thereof in public; if the work is unpublished, to publish the work or any substantial part thereof; and shall include the sole right,

(a) to produce, reproduce, perform or publish any translation of the work;

(b) in the case of a dramatic work, to convert it into a novel or other non-dramatic work;

(c) in the case of a novel or other non-dramatic work, or of any artistic work, to convert it into a dramatic work, by way of performance in public or otherwise;

(d) in the case of a literary, dramatic, or musical work, to make any record, perforated roll, cinematograph film, or other contrivance by means of which the work may be mechanically performed or delivered; provided that the author has given such work an original character; and provided also that if such original character is absent the cinematographic production shall be protected as a photograph.

COMMENCEMENT OF COPYRIGHT

Copyright subsists upon production of the work. The author of the work is the first owner of the copyright. No formalities are required. Registration is not necessary, and is optional with the author. It is, however, prima facie evidence of copyright.

EXTENT OF COPYRIGHT

Copyright subsists in every published or unpublished original literary, dramatic, musical and artistic work, if the author was, at the date of the making of the work, a British subject or resident within His Majesty's Dominions, or a citizen or subject of a foreign country which has adhered to the Berne Convention; and if, in the case of a published work, the work was first published within His Majesty's Dominions or in such foreign country.

The Minister may, by notice in the Canada Gazette, extend the above privilege to other countries under certain conditions.

Copyright also subsists in records, perforated rolls, and other contrivances by means of which sounds may be mechanically reproduced, in like manner as if such contrivances were musical, literary or dramatic works.

Term of Copyright

The term for which copyright subsists is the life of the author and fifty years after his death, subject to certain restrictions. Provided, however, that after twenty-five years (or in the case of a copyright subsisting on June 4th, 1921, thirty years), from the author's death any person may reproduce the work upon giving notice of his intention to do so, and paying the owner of the copyright a royalty of ten per cent on the price at which he publishes the work. Photographs, records, and other contrivances are protected for fifty years from the making of the original negative or plate.

In a work of joint authorship, copyright subsists during the life of the author who dies last, and for fifty years after his death.

Authors in any country in which the terms of protection is shorter than the above, cannot claim a longer term of protection in Canada.

United States Agreement

By a reciprocal arrangement made between Canada and the United States in 1924 a Canadian citizen became able to obtain full copyright protection for his work in the United States, but he must, nevertheless, comply with all the requirements of the United States Copyright Act, such as typesetting, printing and binding within the United States any book or periodical in the English language. He must also register the work at Washington and print on the work the prescribed notice of copyright.

Citizens of the United States are entitled to the full protection of the Canadian Copyright Act without registration, notice of copyright, or other formality, such as typesetting, printing or binding.

Since June 3rd, 1949, there is copyright protection to works published outside the United States; this protection must be applied for within six months of publication. The protection extends for five years from first publication abroad, during which time the work must be wholly manufactured and copyrighted in the United States in order to qualify for further copyright protection in that country.

British Empire and Union Countries

Canadian authors, artists and composers have full copyright protection in the British Empire and the countries of the Copyright Union without registration, notice of copyright or filing of copies.

Licenses Generally

A license gives the licensee the sole right to print and publish in Canada any book in which copyright subsists, and for such term, not exceeding five years, and for the number of editions, as may be fixed by the license. A license may be obtained for publishing a book in serial form.

The license clauses do not apply to "any work the author of which is a British subject, other than a Canadian citizen, or the subject or citizen of a country which has adhered to the Berne Convention". Some of the most important provisions of this section of the Act are as follows:

(1) Any person may apply to the Minister for a license to print and publish in Canada any book wherein copyright subsists, if at any time after publication and within the duration of the copyright the owner of the copyright fails:

(a) to print the book or cause it to be printed in Canada;

(b) to supply, by means of copies so printed, the reasonable demands of the Canadian market for such book.

(2) Such application may be in such form as may be prescribed by the regulations and shall state the proposed retail price of the edition of the book proposed to be printed.

(3) Every applicant for a license shall, with his application, deposit with the Minister an amount not less than ten per cent of the retail selling price of one thousand copies of the book and not less than one hundred dollars, and such amount shall, if the application is unsuccessful, be returned to the applicant, less such deductions for fees as may be authorized by the regulations.

(4) Notice of such application shall forthwith be communicated by the Minister to the owner of the copyright

(5) If the owner of the copyright shall not, within the time fixed by the regulations, after communication of such notice give an undertaking, with such security as may be prescribed by the regulations, to procure within two months after the date of such communication, the printing in Canada of an edition of not less than one thousand copies of the book the Minister in his discretion, may grant to the applicant a license to print and publish the book upon terms to be determined by the Minister after hearing the parties or affording them an opportunity to be heard.

(6) The Minister may decide in case two or more persons apply for the same license and also upon the conditions of publication and royalty to be paid the author.

(7) The licensee must undertake to publish an edition of not less than 1000 copies, and to print the whole book without alteration or abbreviation.

Compulsory License

If, after the death of the author of a literary, dramatic, or musical work which has been published or performed in public, a complaint is made to the Governor in Council that the owner of the copyright in the work has refused to republish or to allow the republication of the work or has refused to allow the performance in public of the work, and that by reason of such refusal the work is withheld from the public, the owner of the copyright may be ordered to grant a license to reproduce the work or perform the work in public, as the case may be, on such terms and subject to such conditions as the Governor in Council may think fit.

Serial License

The Act provides for the publishing of a book in serial form and the granting of licenses for this purpose under the terms prescribed.

Assignment of Copyright

The owner of the copyright in any work may assign the right, either wholly or partially, and either generally or subject to territorial limitations, and either for the whole term of the copyright or for any other part thereof, and may grant any interest in the right by license, but no such assignment or grant shall be valid unless it is in writing signed by the owner of the right in respect of which the assignment or grant is made, or by his duly authorized agent.

An author has the right, even after he has assigned his copyright, to restrain any distortion, mutilation or other modification of his work which would be prejudicial to his honour or reputation.

Infringement of Copyright

Copyright in a work shall be deemed to be infringed by any person who, without the consent of the owner of the copyright, does anything the sole right to do which is by this Act conferred on the owner of the copyright.

The Act makes a number of exceptions from infringement.

Performing Rights

Among the exceptions from infringement, is the important one of performing rights.

"Performance", as defined by the Act, means any acoustic representation of a work or any visual representation of any dramatic action in a work, including a representation made by means of any mechanical instrument, or by radio communication.

No church, college, or school and no religious, charitable or fraternal organization shall be held liable to pay any compensation to the owner of any musical work or to any person claiming through him by reason of the public performance of any musical work in furtherance of a religious, educational or charitable object.

The performance without private profit of any musical work at any agricultural, agricultural-industrial exhibition or fair which receives a grant from or is held under Dominion, provincial or municipal authority, by the directors thereof, does not constitute an infringement of copyright.

Each society, association or company which carries on in Canada the business of acquiring copyrights of dramatico-musical or musical works or of performing rights therein, and which deals with or in the issue or grant of licenses for the performance in Canada of dramatico-musical or musical works in which copyright subsists, shall, from time to time, file with the Minister at the Copyright Office lists of all dramatico-musical and musical works, in current use in respect of which such society, association or company has authority to issue or grant performing licenses or to collect fees, charges or royalties for or in respect of the performance of its works in Canada.

Each such society, association or company, shall, on or before the first day of November, file with the Minister at the Copyright Office statements of all fees, charges or royalties which such society, association or company proposes during the next ensuing calendar year to collect in compensation for the issue or grant of licenses for or in respect of its performance in Canada.

After the receipt of such statements, the Minister shall publish them in the Canada Gazette and notify that any person having any objection to the statements of fees must lodge particulars in writing of his objection with the Minister at the Copyright Office on or before the day fixed in the notice.

As soon as practicable after the day fixed in said notice, the Minister shall refer the statements and objection to a Board known as the Copyright Appeal Board. Upon the conclusion of its consideration of the statements of fees filed and the objection received, the Copyright Appeal Board shall transmit the statements altered, revised or unchanged to the Minister certified as the approved statements, which will afterwards be published in the Canada Gazette.

The statements of fees as approved by the Copyright Appeal Board will be the fees charged as royalties which the society, association or company concerned may respectively lawfully sue for or collect in respect of the issue by it of licenses during the ensuing calendar year.

COPYRIGHT APPEAL BOARD

The Copyright Appeal Board consists of Honourable Mr. Justice Joseph T. Thorson (Chairman), Charles Stein, K.C., (Under Secretary of State), and Paul Fontaine, K.C., (of Department of Justice).

REMEDIES FOR INFRINGEMENT

Remedies for the owner of a copyright whose rights have been infringed are provided by the Act.

IMPORTATION OF COPIES

Copies made out of Canada of any work in which copyright subsists which, if made in Canada, would infringe copyright, and as to which the owner of the copyright gives notice in writing to the Department of National Revenue, that he is desirous that such copies should not be so imported into Canada, shall not be so imported.

Where the owner of a copyright has, by license or otherwise, granted the right to reproduce any book in Canada, or where a license to reproduce such book has been granted, copies of such book may not, with a certain exception, be imported into Canada.

Subject to the same exception, copies of any book in which copyright subsists may not be imported into Canada until fourteen days after publication thereof, and during such period, or any extension thereof, such copies are prohibited. Provided that if, within the said period of fourteen days, an application for a license has been made, as above provided, the Minister may, in his discretion, extend the said period, and the prohibition against importation will be continued accordingly.

Any person may import for his own use not more than two copies of any work published in any country adhering to the Berne Convention, or at any time before a work is printed or made in Canada may import copies for the use of any public library or institution of learning

REGISTRATION

The Registrar of Copyrights, at Ottawa, keeps a book in which may be entered the names or titles of works and the names and addresses of authors, and such other particulars as may be prescribed. The registers are open to inspection to any person, who may take copies of or make extracts from such entries.

Applications for registration must be made on the prescribed forms, which it is advisable to have drawn by a lawyer.

The Examiner of Plays is in the Department of the Lord Chamberlain. His sanction is necessary for the production of a play in any theatre in England at which a charge for admission is made.

THE KING'S CIVIL LIST

Immediately after the accession of His late Majesty, George V., there was passed in the Parliamentary session of 1910 the Civil List Act, an Act by which the charges on the consolidated fund for the maintenance of the King and his family are determined.

Until George III. came to the throne in 1760, the income of the sovereign was derived chiefly from Crown lands, from a variety of landed property in England and Wales, Scotland and Ireland, in which the sovereign had a life-interest, and from which he received the rents. In the feudal ages these lands constituted a princely patrimony. In later times this Crown property was greatly reduced by lavish grants to royal favorites. At the Restoration the income from Crown lands was ascertained by a committee of the House of Commons to amount to £217,900 a year, in addition to £4,000 from the Forest of Dean. By the time Charles II. had been on the throne three years he had by his lavish bestowal of the lands on favorites reduced the income to £100,000. William III., by his grants to favorites who had accompanied him from Holland, made further havoc with the Crown domains; so much so that at the accession of Queen Anne, Parliament endeavored to save the remnant by an Act (1 Anne, c. 8) which prohibited alienation of Crown lands, and enacted stringent provisions in regard to the length of the term for which they might be leased and the rents reserved.

Since then, and especially since the accession of the late King Edward VII., the income from the Crown Lands has very greatly increased, until in 1935 the total receipts by the Commissioners were nearly two million pounds, leaving, after all expenses and taxes were paid, a sum of £1,320,000 to turn over to the Exchequer.

Queen Anne, George I. and George II. derived the larger part of their income from their life-interest in the Crown property, but when George III. came to the throne he surrendered his life-interest in the Crown lands. It was turned over to the nation in return for a fixed Civil List of £800,000, subsequently increased to £900,000. George IV., William IV., Queen Victoria and Edward VII., on their accessions, surrendered their life interest in the Crown lands in return for a Civil List. The same course was taken by George V. when he came to the throne.

In 1910 the King's Civil List was fixed at the yearly sum of £470,000, which was the same amount as that granted to King Edward VII.

By Acts of Parliament (1 Edw. VIII. and 1 Geo. VI. c. 32) the Civil List was revised. By the Civil List Act of 1937, the civil list was fixed at £410,000. The charges made under these Statutes as shown in the Finance Accounts 1947-48 are as follows:

H.M. Privy Purse	£44,819
Salaries of H. M. Household and retired allowances	134,000
Expenses of H. M. Household	152,800
Royal Bounty, alms and special services	£13,200
	£344,819

In addition to the Civil List as above, provision is made for other members of the Royal Family as follows:—

The Queen Mother Mary, an annuity of £70,000.

Younger sons of their Majesties, upon attaining the age of 21, £10,000 each, increasing upon marriage to £25,000 each.

Daughters of their Majesties, other than the Princess Elizabeth, upon attaining the age of 21 or upon marriage, £6,000 each.

The Duke of Gloucester received an extra £10,000 during the minority of the Princess Elizabeth.

Princess Elizabeth, has received an annuity of £15,000 since the age of 21, which was increased after her marriage in 1947 to £40,000. £10,000 was also voted to her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. The Princess Margaret £6,000.

From the above should be deducted the net revenues of the Duchy of Cornwall which are applied against the Civil List. These revenues are estimated to amount to about £106,000 annually.

The revenue of the estates of the Duchy of Lancaster (which have been attached to the Crown since 1399), is paid over to the Keeper of His Majesty's Privy Purse.

THE GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS

THE OFFICE OF PRIME MINISTER

10, Downing Street, Whitehall, S.W.

Prime Minister.............Rt. Hon. C. R. Attlee

Until comparatively recent times the office of Prime Minister was not recognised officially. It had developed as a consequence of the establishment of responsible government under a party leader, but the Prime Minister, as such, had no official rank and no precedence. It was not until 1905 that the Prime Minister was given precedence, by Royal Warrant, next after the Archbishop of York and over every member of the Government except the Lord Chancellor. There was no salary attached to the office of Prime Minister until the passing of the Ministers of the Crown Act in 1937, and the holder usually combined with it some other appointment, such as First Lord of the Treasury, which carried a salary.

THE TREASURY

Great George Street, S.W.1.

Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury,
Rt. Hon. Clement Attlee, C.H., M.P.
Chancellor of the Exchequer,

Lords Commissioners—R. J. Taylor, M.P., J. W. Snow, M.P., J. Henderson, M.P., H. R. Adams, M.P., W. Hannan, M.P.

The Treasury is the Department which deals with all matters of public finance, home and overseas; gives sanction for expenditure by the spending departments, civil and military, and is responsible for personnel questions throughout the Civil Service. The Treasury presents the estimate of all the Civil Departments to Parliament, but, after presentation, the responsibility for defending them in Parliament rests with the Parliamentary heads of the Departments. The political control of the Treasury is nominally in the hands of a Board of Lords Commissioners, the Prime Minister being almost invariably First Lord; but in practice the responsible minister is the Chancellor of the Exchequer, who is assisted in the House of Commons by the Financial Secretary. The Parliamentary Secretary to the Treasury is the official title of the Government Chief Whip in the House of Commons and the Junior Lords of the Treasury are the Junior Whips.

THE HOME DEPARTMENT

The Home Office has the control of the London police force, and also the oversight of the police forces in the counties and municipal boroughs; and, generally speaking, the Department is responsible for the internal peace of the country. Prisons, convict establishments, criminal lunatic asylums, executions, aliens, and all matters connected with the post-judicial execution of the criminal law, come within the purview of the Home Office.

THE FOREIGN OFFICE

Downing Street, S.W.1

The Right Hon. Ernest Bevin, M.P.

and Lord Henderson

The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs is the Minister of the Crown responsible, subject always to the collective responsibility of the Cabinet, for the conduct of the foreign relations of the United Kingdom Government. He receives reports from, and issues instructions to, Foreign Service representatives abroad, and corresponds with foreign diplomatic representatives at the Court of St. James. He is the channel of communication between other government departments and private individuals in this country and foreign governments, and has, in addition, a number of duties of a formal nature. He is assisted both in Parliament and in administration by the Minister of State and the Parliamentary Under-Secretary of State.

THE COMMONWEALTH RELATIONS OFFICE

Downing Street, London, S.W.1.

In July, 1925, a Secretaryship of State for Dominion Affairs was created, and as a result the Dominions Office was set up, to take over from the Colonial Office, business connected with the self-governing Dominions including the Irish Free State (now Eire), the self-governing Colony of Southern Rhodesia, the South African High Commission Territories (Basutoland, Bechuanaland Protectorate and Swaziland), and business relating to Newfoundland. One Minister combined the duties of the new post with those of Secretary of State for the Colonies until the 13th June, 1930, when Dominion Affairs became the entire charge of a principal Secretary of State.

In July, 1947, the titles of the Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs and the Dominions Office were altered to the Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations and the Commonwealth Relations Office respectively.

Division A of the present Commonwealth Relations Office was formerly "The Dominions Office". Division B was formerly "The India Office".

THE COLONIES

Church House, Great Smith Street, S.W.1

The Colonial Office dates back to 1660, when a Committee of the Privy Council was appointed for "The Plantations", as the Colonies were then called. A Secretary of State was first appointed in 1768, but when the United States secured their independence in 1783 the office of Colonial Secretary was abolished and colonial affairs were managed from the Home Office. The War Department assumed responsibility for the Colonies from 1794 until the post of Secretary of State was revived in 1854. In 1907, a new department of the Colonial Office was set up to administer the affairs of the Dominions and the self-governing Colonies.

A separate Dominions Office was established in 1925, which became in 1947 the Commonwealth Relations office.

The Education Department exercises supervision over the various departments of state-aided education, and distributes the grants for education annually made by Parliament. These grants date from 1833 and in 1839 the Committee of Council for Education was established. The Vice-President was always of the House of Commons, and he was practically the Minister of Education. On the 1st of April, 1900, the Committee of Council for Education came to an end and its powers were transferred to the Board of Education, which consisted of a President, (the Lord President of the Council unless he was appointed President of the Board) the principal Secretaries of State (the Secretaries for Foreign Affairs, for Colonial Affairs, for the Home Office, for War, and for India), the First Commissioner of the Treasury, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Under the Education Act of 1918, the approval of the Board of Education was necessary for all schemes for the development and organization of elementary and secondary education for children under 18, drawn up by the local authorities—the County and County-borough councils—which had charge of this work. In 1944 a new Education Act was passed by Parliament. This measure, regarded as one of the most outstanding in recent British legislation, framed the complete reconstruction of the public system of education in England and Wales. The Act provided for a Ministry of Education—the first in the history of Great Britain—with effective responsibility to secure the progressive development of a national policy in education.

IMPERIAL AND COMMONWEALTH CONFERENCES

General Secretary in London to the Imperial Conference: Sir Edward E. Bridges, K.C.B., M.C., Offices of the Cabinet, Whitehall, London, S.W.1.

The "Imperial Conference" was constituted under the terms of a resolution of the "Colonial Conference," 20th April, 1907.

Prior to the Conference of 1907 there were four Colonial Conferences (three in London and one in Ottawa) in the years 1887, 1894, 1897 and 1902.

Imperial Conferences were held in: 1911, 1918, (Imperial War Conference) 1921, 1923, 1926, 1930, 1932 (Imperial Economic Conference, Ottawa) and 1937.

The Imperial Conference of 1937, held in London, discussed: (1) Foreign Affairs; (2) Defence; (3) General review of the progress of Empire Trade; (4) Colonial Affairs. No "Imperial" Conference, as such, has been held since.

On 1st November, 1939, the first of a series of informal War Conferences was held in London, attended by the British Prime Minister with Ministers of the War Cabinet and Dominion Ministers.

On October 11, 12 and 13, 1943, a conference of representatives of Britain, the Dominions and India met to form recommendations to be made to their Governments respecting post-war civil aviation. Lord Beaverbrook presided. The Canadian delegates were Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Hon. C. D. Howe and H. J. Symington, president of Trans-Canada Air Lines.

On May 1, 1944, a meeting of Dominion Premiers was opened in London for consultation on war problems and post-war plans.

In 1945, prior to the meeting of the United Nations at San Francisco, a British Commonwealth Conference was held in London, from April 5-14, 1945.

In 1946 a Conference of Dominion Prime Ministers was held in London in May-June which was attended by the Prime Minister of Canada (Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King).

During the Sessions of the Peace Conference in Paris, which opened on 29th July, the Canadian Premier with other Dominion leaders met the British Foreign Secretary of State at an informal gathering to discuss problems of the Conference in general and aspects of the five draft peace treaties of special interest to the Dominions.

Other Commonwealth Conferences took place during 1946 in which Canadian delegates participated.

Empire Conferences in 1947 in which Canada participated included a conference of representatives from British Commonwealth countries to discuss citizenship, (February); the British Commonwealth Forestry Conference (London, June); Commonwealth and Empire Health and Tuberculosis Conference (London, July); and a Conference of Empire Survey Officers (London, August).

In 1948 the African Conference was held at Lancaster House, London, from September 29th to October 6th. It marked the first time that the African peoples, represented largely by those of their own race, met together to plan the future of a large part of their continent.

Of the 68 delegates, 38 were Africans, and one or two were Indians from East Africa. Each delegation included a Government official, usually the Colonial Secretary. The other delegates were members of the local legislatures and were selected by those bodies.

A Conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers was held in London from October 11th to October 22nd. In addition to Great Britain, the countries represented were Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, Southern Rhodesia, India, Pakistan and Ceylon.

Owing to illness, the Prime Minister of Canada (Rt. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King) who reached London from Paris where he had attended the General Assembly of the United Nations, was unable to be present at this Conference although he kept in continuous touch with the discussions. The Canadian High Commissioner in London, Mr. Norman Robertson, deputised for the Prime Minister and he was joined on October 15th by Mr. St. Laurent, Canada's Acting Prime Minister who, after taking part in the consideration of questions of express interest to Canada and in the situation arising from Eire's decision to sever her link with the Crown by the repeal of Eire's External Relations Act, returned to Ottawa on October 25th.

Vital problems of common concern to the countries of the Commonwealth were reviewed. These included: Foreign affairs in relation to Communist activities in various countries; economic recovery and reconstruction in Europe and in the Near and Far East; Western Union and the Berlin impasse; Commonwealth defence; improved machinery for Commonwealth consultation; the status of High Commissioners; world trade, with particular reference to the dollar deficit and the universal need throughout the Commonwealth for more capital goods; and the maintenance of world peace.

During the same month (October 1948) a Commonwealth Parliamentary Conference was also held in London. Twenty Commonwealth Parliaments were represented including delegates from Canada. Recent constitutional developments in India and elsewhere were discussed. Other problems examined included the position and rights of back benchers, the appointment of Ministers outside Parliament, the effect of the growing power of the Executive on Parliamentary institutions, the working of the party system, and the composition and role of Second Chambers.

In 1949 the Commonwealth Prime Ministers met in London (April 22nd to April 28th) when Mr. Pearson representing Mr. St. Laurent (Canada), Mr. Chifley (Australia), Mr. Fraser (New Zealand), Dr. Malan (South Africa), Mr. Liaquat Khan (Pakistan), Mr. Nehru (India) and Mr. Senanayake (Ceylon) discussed constitutional problems relating to INDIA, under the Chairmanship of Mr. Atlee, Prime Minister of Great Britain. At the conclusion of this Conference, the following declaration was made:

> "The Governments of the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan and Ceylon, whose countries are united as Members of the British Commonwealth of Nations and owe a common allegiance to the Crown, which is also the symbol of their free association, have considered the impending constitutional changes in India.
> "The Government of India have informed the other Governments of the Commonwealth of the intention of the Indian people that under the new constitution which is about to be adopted India shall become a sovereign independent republic. The Government of India have however declared and affirmed India's desire to continue her full membership of the Commonwealth of Nations and her acceptance of The King as the symbol of the free association of its independent member nations and as such the Head of the Commonwealth.
> "The Governments of the other countries of the Commonwealth, the basis of whose membership of the Commonwealth is not hereby changed, accept and recognise India's continuing membership in accordance with the terms of this declaration.
> "Accordingly the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan and Ceylon hereby declare that they remain united as free and equal members of the Commonwealth of Nations, freely co-operating in the pursuit of peace, liberty, and progress."

These constitutional questions were the sole subject of discussion at the full meetings of the Prime Ministers. The conference declaration was acclaimed as the most important development in the history of the Commonwealth since the famous Balfour Declaration at the Imperial Conference of 1926.

PURCHASE TAX

The Finance (No. 2) Act 1940 provided for the charge of Purchase Tax on purchases of certain scheduled goods at specified rates, either at 16⅔% or 33⅓%. In general, liability to tax arises when the goods pass from the wholesaler to the retailer. Manufacturers and wholesale merchants dealing in chargeable goods must be registered. This enables them to deal with one another freely in the goods, or to export them without liability to tax. Tax becomes chargeable when the goods are sold by the registered manufacturer or wholesaler to an unregistered person, generally the retailer, or where there is no retail stage, to the public. This tax came into operation on October 21st, 1940.

In April, 1942, the rate of tax of some articles, previously taxed at the 33⅓% rate, was increased to 66⅔%. In April, 1943, tax on these same articles was increased to 100%. In April, 1947, the 66⅔% rate was again introduced for certain articles and termed the intermediate rate. As a result, there became four rates of tax: 16⅔%, 33⅓%, 66⅔% and 100%, termed reduced, basic, intermediate and higher, respectively.

In November, 1947, the rates were increased, with the exception of the 66⅔% rate on motor cars and became 33⅓%, 50%, 75% and 125%.

In April, 1948, following a comprehensive review of the tax schedules the existing schedules of goods liable to tax were repealed and a new list of chargeable goods came into force. The rates for these lists of goods are referred to as the first, second and third rates, and are 33⅓%, 66⅔% and 100% respectively.

Late information regarding the tax is set out in Notice No. 78 and related Notices, obtainable from the Commissioners of Customs and Excise, City Gate House, Finsbury Square, London, E.C.2.

INCOME TAX RATES AND DEATH DUTIES IN GREAT BRITAIN, 1949-1950

The standard rate of Income Tax in the United Kingdom (Great Britain and Northern Ireland) for the year 1949-50 imposed by the Finance Act, 1949, is 9s. 0d. in the pound.

ALLOWANCES TO INDIVIDUALS

Earned Income Allowance. One-fifth of the earned income, up to a maximum allowance of £400 for any individual. Persons aged 65 and upwards whose total income does not exceed £500 are entitled to a deduction of one-fifth of their total income, whether earned or derived from investments; in the case of married couples this relief is granted when either spouse reaches the age of 65.

The balance remaining after deducting the earned income allowance from the taxpayer's total income (as computed for Income Tax purposes) is known as the "assessable income." The following deductions are made from the assessable income:—

Additional allowance for wife's earned income four-fifths of that income up to a maximum of £110.

Child Allowance. £60 for each child under 16 years, of age, or over 16 if receiving full-time education, or, in certain circumstances, full-time vocational training.

Housekeeper Allowance. £50 for a widower's or widow's housekeeper; an unmarried person's widowed mother or other female relative taking care of children; or, in certain circumstances, a female person employed or maintained to take charge of children.

Dependent Relative Allowance. Where incapacitated by old age or infirmity, not exceeding £50. In certain other circumstances not exceeding £25.

The income remaining after deduction of these reliefs is known as the taxable income; the first £50 of taxable income is charged at 3s. in the £, the next £200 at 6s. in the £, and the remainder at the standard rate. Where the taxable income includes earned income of the wife, the amounts of taxable income chargeable at the reduced rates of 3s. and 6s. in the £ may in certain circumstances be increased to £100 and £400 respectively. Certain relief from tax is given in respect of Life Insurance Premiums paid, in accordance with statutory provisions.

A portion of the tax payable by individuals for years 1941-42 to 1945-46 has been earmarked as a post-war credit to be made available to the taxpayer after the war at a date to be determined. The post-war credit for all five years is now being made available to men taxpayers aged 65 and over and to women taxpayers aged 60 and over.

RATES OF INCOME TAX

The standard rates have been as follows from 1914:

1914	1s. 8d.	1931-33	5s. 0d.
1915	3s. 0d.	1934-35	4s. 6d.
1916-17	5s. 0d.	1936	4s. 9d.
1918-21	6s. 0d.	1937	5s. 0d.
1922	5s. 0d.	1938	5s. 6d.
1923-24	4s. 6d.	1939	7s. 0d.
1925-29	4s. 0d.	1940	8s. 6d.
1930	4s. 6d.	1941-5	10s. 0d.

SUR-TAX

On incomes in excess of £2,000 a further charge or tax is imposed, called the Sur-tax, which is payable as a deferred instalment of Income Tax on the 1st January following the year of assessment. Thus the Sur-tax in respect of the year 1948-49 is payable on the 1st January, 1950. The additional rates charged on these incomes begin at 2s. 0d. in the £ on the first £500 of the excess over £2,000, and rise by steps to the rate of 10s. 6d. in the £ payable on the excess over £20,000.

PROFITS TAX

The tax introduced in 1937 as the National Defence Contribution has, as from 1 January, 1947, been renamed the Profits Tax. The Profits Tax is imposed on the profits of all trades or businesses (excluding professions); as from 1st January, 1947 it applies only to corporate bodies and unincorporated societies and as from that date investment income is included in computing profits. The rate of tax is 25% on distributed profits and 10% on undistributed profits. If the profits are less than £2,000, no tax is payable. If the profits exceed £2,000 but are less than £12,000, an abatement is allowed.

On 27th September, 1949, the Chancellor of the Exchequer announced an increase from 25 per cent to 30 per cent on the profits tax on distributed profits.

Double Taxation Relief

A person liable to British Income Tax on any part of his income which has already suffered tax in a British Dominion is entitled to relief from British tax thereon to the extent of either (a) the Dominion rate of tax, or (b) one-half of the appropriate rate of British tax (including Sur-tax) whichever is the less.

As between the United Kingdom and Canada, however, this arrangement is superseded by a special arrangement, signed on 5th June, 1946, under which certain classes of income derived from one country by a resident of the other country are exempt from tax in the former country. Where both countries continue to tax, full relief for the double taxation is given by the country of residence of the taxpayer. The United Kingdom has a similar agreement with the United States.

Under the provisions of the Finance Act 1949, Legacy Duty and Succession Duty ceased to be chargeable on:

(a) Legacies derived from a testator or an intestate dying on or after 30th July, 1949, and Successions which were conferred on or after that date.

(b) Legacies and Successions derived from a testator or an intestate who died before 30th July, 1949, which arise on the occurrence of certain events on or after 30th July, 1949.

An agreement between the United Kingdom and Canada for avoidance of double death duties was signed on 5th June, 1946.

BRITISH CUSTOMS DUTIES ON IMPORTS

Under the British Import Duties Act, 1932, a duty of customs, known as the "general ad valorem duty", equal to 10 per cent of the value of the goods, is chargeable on all goods imported into the United Kingdom, with certain exceptions. On specified classes of goods "additional duties" are chargeable as well as the general ad valorem duty. These additional duties are imposed by Treasury Orders made in accordance with the provisions of the Import Duties Act, 1932. Certain goods are exempt.

The Ottawa Agreements Act, 1932, provided for the charge of duty on certain goods, mainly foodstuffs, of non-Empire origin.

Under the Safeguarding of Industries Act, 1921, Key Industry duty is chargeable on goods such as optical glass and optical instruments, scientific instruments and synthetic organic chemicals.

Duty is also chargeable under other enactments, the main classes of goods liable being, Beef and Veal, Beer, Hydrocarbon Oils, Silk, Spirits, Sugar, Tobacco and Wine.

Goods (except Hydrocarbon Oil) of approved Canadian origin coming within the scope of the above Acts are admitted either free of duty or at a preferential rate.

Imperial Preference

The general conditions governing admission of imported goods to Imperial Preference are that the goods must be shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of Customs and Excise to have been consigned from and grown, produced or manufactured in the British Empire. Manufactured articles are not entitled to Preference unless a prescribed proportion of their value is derived from expenditure of a prescribed kind which has been incurred in the British Empire or the United Kingdom in respect of materials grown or produced or work done in the British Empire or the United Kingdom. Different proportions of value have been prescribed for different classes of manufactured goods.

Full information as to the qualifications for and method of claiming preference may be obtained from the Secretary, H. M. Customs, City Gate House, Finsbury Square, London E.C.2, from any Collector of Customs and Excise or from H.M. Trade Commissioners and Trade Correspondents in the Overseas Dominions; also from Department of Trade and Commerce Foreign Tariffs Division, Ottawa.

Schedules of all dutiable goods and rates of duty are included in the "Customs and Excise Tariff of the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland," published periodically by H. M. Stationery Office, York House, Kingsway, London, W.C. 2, with amendments.

Import Licenses

Under the Import of Goods (Control) Orders 1940, as amended, no goods (other than goods consigned from the Channel Islands) may be imported into the United Kingdom except under the authority of a licence granted by the Board of Trade. Separate licenses are not, however, required for limited lists of goods consigned from all countries or Empire countries respectively where Open General Licences have been issued.

Details of the goods covered by these Open General licences are published from time to time in the Board of Trade Journal and in "Notices to Importers" issued by the Import Licensing Department of the Board of Trade.

THE BRITISH NAVY

The Admiralty

The Royal Navy is governed by the Board of Admiralty in Whitehall, headed by the First Lord of the Admiralty who is of cabinet rank. In addition the Board is comprised of 5 Sea Lords, a Vice Chief of Naval Staff, an assistant Chief of Naval Staff, a Civil Lord, a Parliamentary and Financial Secretary, and a Permanent Secretary. The Civil Lord and the Parliamentary and Financial Secretary are Ministers of the Government, but not in the Cabinet. The King is an Admiral of the Fleet.

The Royal Marines are administered by the Commandant General, Royal Marines, under the direction of the Board of Admiralty. Although not a member of the Board, the Commandant General has access to the various members of the Board on matters affecting the Royal Marines. The King is Captain General of the Royal Marines.

TRAINING

Officers of the Royal Navy consist of:

Officers R.N. who are permanent Service Officers.

Those of the Executive, Engineering, and Supply and Secretariat Branches are entered into Dartmouth College either between the ages of 16 years and 16 years 4 months or between the ages of 17 years 8 months and 18 years 4 months. In the Electrical Branch cadetships are obtainable between the ages of 17 and 19 years.

The full cost of tuition and board and lodging of naval cadets is borne by the Admiralty, whilst the cost of other items such as uniform, travelling expenses, laundry and pocket money is waived or charged against parents of cadets according to their financial circumstances.

There are also good opportunities for suitably qualified ratings to obtain permanent commissions in the R.N.

Ratings.

There are various methods of entry into the Lower Deck:

(a) Seaman Boy entry for boys between 15 and 16 years of age
(b) Artificer Apprentice Entry for boys between the ages of 15 years and 16 years 8 months
(c) Youth Entry for youths between the ages of 16¼ and 17½ (in a limited number of branches)
(d) Adult Entry for men between the ages of 17½ and 28 (all branches).

The duties range from those of Seaman and Stoker Mechanic through various semi-skilled branches up to those of the highly skilled Artificer, who is a fully qualified engineering tradesman. For most ratings, the full training required is given after entry.

The engagements on which ratings serve are of two classes, (i) Continuous Service, for which the man undertakes to perform 12 years active service from the date of entry or from the age of 18, whichever is the later, and (ii) Special Service, for which the man undertakes to serve 12 years; 7 years, from the age of 18, or date of entry if later, being with the Fleet, and the balance in the Royal Fleet Reserve. Men nearing the completion of their Continuous Service engagements are eligible to execute a further engagement to enable them to complete the necessary period to qualify for a long service pension.

Royal Marines.

Officers are entered as 2nd Lieutenants between the ages of 17 years 8 months and 19 years, and carry out training in naval and military subjects at R.N. and R.M. Establishments. A number of commissions are also granted to suitable Marines serving on regular engagements.

Men may enter as Marines between the ages of 17 and 28 years on similar engagements to Naval ratings. Boys may join between the ages of 15 and 15½ as Buglers or between 14 and 17 as Boy Musicians.

The duties of the Royal Marines include the provision of detachments in H.M. Ships, the provision of all Commando Units, crews of minor landing craft and certain other parties in the amphibious assault. In addition, the Royal Marines train and maintain the bands for H.M. Ships and Shore Establishments.

The Royal Naval Reserve.

This is a Reserve of officers and men with Mercantile Marine experience, which was supplemented, during the war, by granting temporary commissions to officers recruited from the Merchant Navy.

The Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve.

This is a reserve for officers and men who volunteer to serve in time of emergency with the Royal Navy and who undertake part-time Naval training at R.N.V.R. Divisional Headquarters and periods of full-time training with the Fleet.

The Royal Marine Forces Volunteer Reserve.

This reserve was instituted in November 1948. It is the Royal Marine counterpart of the R.N.V.R. and is organised on similar lines.

The Royal Naval Volunteer Supplementary Reserve.

Consists of officers who have held temporary commissions in the R.N., R.N.R. or R.N.V.R. or who served as Temporary Warrant Officers in the R.N.R. or R.N.V.R. and who undertake to come up for service with the Royal Navy on the calling out of the Reserves.

The Royal Naval and Royal Marine Emergency Reserve.

Consists of volunteer ex-service R.N. ratings and R.M. officers and other ranks under 45 years of age who undertake to come up for service in an extreme emergency.

Royal Fleet Reserve.

This is composed of ratings who have completed the Active Service portion of their Special Service engagements, men who have been discharged from the Royal Navy before completing their engagements, whose discharge has been conditional on entering the reserve, and volunteers from men who have completed Continuous Service engagements, but do not desire to continue serving to earn pensions. In addition certain ratings with at least three years service on a Hostilities Only engagement may be accepted in the reserve. Royal Fleet Reservists maintain their efficiency by periodic (at least biennial) training with the Fleet. There are no officers in this reserve.

Officers and ratings of the W.R.N.S. are liable for service overseas and during the last war, served in all five continents.

In May, 1946, it was announced that the W.R.N.S. was to continue as a permanent feature of the Royal Navy.

THE BRITISH ARMY

Before the Norman Conquest every freeman between the ages of 15 and 60 capable of bearing arms, was bound to bear arms in defence of his country at the call of the King. This national militia was partially, but never wholly, superseded by the feudal system, introduced by William I, under which lands were held in return for units of cavalry and infantry which had to serve for 40 days at the cost of the lord. In addition, kings frequently maintained mercenaries, first out of their private funds and later out of the royal revenues. Parliamentary consent to the maintenance of an army was established in the seventeenth century as a result of a struggle between the Commons and the Stuarts. The standing army became a national institution under Charles II, and the Mutiny Act, passed at the accession of William III. in 1689, formed the basis of army discipline. The Mutiny Act after enlargement and change from time to time, is now replaced by the Army Act, constitutional control being assured by the Army and Air Force (Annual) Act which goes annually before Parliament and brings the Army Act into force for one year.

The British Army is made up of (i) the Regular Forces with their Reserves, including the Supplementary Reserve and (ii) the Territorial Army including the T.A. Reserve.

ORGANIZATION

The Secretary of State for War is the President of the Army Council. The members of the council are responsible for different branches of Army organization such as, operations and training, administration and discipline, and supplies and transport.

The British Army at home and overseas is divided up into certain administrative commands. The command headquarters, commanded by a Lieut.-General controls a number of districts which are each commanded by a Maj.-General.

In time of war an Army is commanded by a General or a Lieut.-General who controls a varying number of corps down to a minimum of two corps. In addition, there are army troops consisting of supporting arms and services. An army group, composed of two or more armies, is commanded by a Field Marshal or General.

A Corps is commanded by a Lieut.-General. The headquarters controls a varying number of divisions, either Infantry, Armoured or Airborne, together with its quota of corps troops.

A Division has a fixed organisation and is commanded by a Maj.-General. There are three types of division: the Infantry Division, Armoured Division and the Airborne Division composed of two or three Brigades, and divisional troops.

An Infantry Brigade is commanded by a Brigadier and consists of three battalions and ancillary troops. The Infantry Brigade in an Armoured Division, however, has four Inf. Battalions, to balance against the four Armoured Regiments comprising the Armoured Brigade in the Armoured Division.

An Infantry Battalion is commanded by a Lieut.-Colonel and consists of battalion headquarters, headquarters company, a support company and four rifle companies. The headquarter company and support company are each commanded by a Captain. Each rifle company is commanded by a Major and consists of three platoons each commanded by a Subaltern.

Besides the major fighting arms, i.e. Royal Armoured Corps, Royal Artillery and Infantry, there are a number of technical and specialist Corps.

THE TERRITORIAL ARMY

In the 1939-1945 war, the Territorial Army and Regular Army units and formations served together in all theatres. No difference was made in organization or employment. The Territorial Army ceased to exist as a separate entity.

In 1947 the Territorial Army was reconstituted to form with the Regular Army a balanced force of all Arms. The air defence of Great Britain is entrusted almost entirely to the Territorial Army. Administrative as well as operational units of the Territorial Army of all branches and services now form a component part of the forces of the United Kingdom.

The University Training Corps (Territorial Army), formed in 1948 to replace the Senior Division of the Officers' Training Corps, enables students to undergo standardized military training with a view to obtaining commissions in the Army, including the Territorial Force, and facilitates the carrying out of part-time obligations under the National Service Act, 1947.

The modern Territorial Army is being formed on a basis of volunteers and National Service men, the former being mostly officers and N.C.Os. with war experience. It is the intention to form the National Service men into units and formations on this framework. National Service men will serve four years as reservists doing part time training in the Territorial Army after doing eighteen months full time National Service training in the Regular Army. The Land Forces of the United Kingdom will, after 1950, consists of Regular Army forces and the Territorial Army composed of both the volunteer and National Service elements, and will be available for service in the United Kingdom or anywhere abroad whenever required.

THE ARMY CADET ORGANIZATION

The Army Cadet Organization consists of two entirely voluntary movements. The Combined Cadet Force contains a Basic and a Special Army Section with predominantly military training for Cadets in schools which retain a reasonable proportion of boys of seventeen and above. The Army Cadet Force recruits from boys in industry, between the ages of fourteen and eighteen. The present strengths are: Combined Cadet Force Basic and Army Sections, about 47,000; Army Cadet Force about 95,000. The training of the schoolboy cadet, while having general educational value in the promotion of character and leadership, is predominantly designed to assist the boy towards promotion to commissioned or non-commissioned rank when he joins the Army under the National Service Act. Training in the Army Cadet Force, while similarly preparing boys for rapid promotion when they join the Army, is designed to give working lads the maximum possible assistance in general citizenship training, as well as in purely pre-service training.

Cadet training produces outstanding results among young soldiers; 80 per cent. of those selected for training for regular commissions come from ex-cadets; 75 per cent. of National Service men selected for officer training have had Cadet experience; twenty out of twenty-one ex-cadets holding Certificate A reach non-commissioned rank or are under training for commissions within a few months of joining the Army.

The Government give a direct financial grant of £1 2s. 0d. a year for each cadet who completes the statutory minimum of fifty hours spare time pre-service training; in addition, the Army provides, through the personal services of serving personnel, and through assistance in kind, for the training and administrative needs of the Combined Cadet Force and the Army Cadet Force. A wide and increasing range of free services is being made available to encourage Cadet activities and special advantages are offered to qualified ex-cadets, especially those holding Certificate A, when they join the Army.

The War Office has prepared a detailed brief showing the very wide range of support now given to Cadets, and this brief is available for detailed examination by Dominions and Colonies.

WOMEN'S SERVICES

Queen Alexandra's Royal Army Nursing Corps and the Territorial Army Nursing Service—Are responsible, under R.A.M.C. Officers, for the nursing services of the army. With their reserves, they consist of nursing officers who are state registered nurses.

Employment in both home and overseas commands includes many trades suitable to women, enabling them to replace and release men for combatant duties in the Army. They also provide at home and in certain overseas theatres personnel for "mixed" A.A. gun and searchlight units, and skilled technicians, tradeswomen and signals operators.

HOME COMMANDS

The Home Commands of the R.A.F. are as follows:

This latter Command, which was set up in July, 1945, is responsible, in conjunction with the British Army, for the enforcement of the terms of surrender in the British Zone of Occupation in Germany.

Women's Royal Air Force. Following the decision that the Women's Forces were to be continued on a voluntary basis as a permanent feature of the Forces of the Crown, provision was made under the Army and Air Force (Women's Service) Act, 1948, which was brought into operation on 1st February, 1949, for women to be commissioned and enlisted in the Royal Air Force and its reserves and auxiliaries. Women officers and airwomen accepted, under the new conditions, for the Royal Air Force are fully integrated into that force and are not organised as a separate corps.

His Majesty The King has approved the title of Women's Royal Air Force for use where it is necessary to provide collectively for women in the Royal Air Force.

The Air Force Act applies to such women in the same way as it applies to men, subject to adaptations and modifications made by Order in Council.

MALTA

Population, 1948, 305,991

Malta is a self-governing colony with a representative assembly, and responsible ministers.

Owing to its strategic importance, Malta came under British Military Control during the World War 1939-46.

Responsible Government was restored in September 1947 by Letters Patent. The new constitution gives the Maltese Legislature control over internal affairs, and reserves to the British Government control over defence and foreign policy.

On April 17, 1942, in recognition of the fortitude of the people of Malta, King George VI awarded the George Cross to the Island.

By Letters Patent dated September 5, 1947, Responsible Government was re-established in Malta and the new Legislative Assembly was opened by His Royal Highness The Duke of Gloucester on November 10, 1947. The Maltese Legislature may not pass laws touching the public safety or defence of His Majesty's dominions and the general interests of British subjects outside Malta. In addition to this general reservation certain subjects are specifically withheld from the Legislature's competence. The principal subjects so reserved are matters dealing with the defence of the Island, and naval, military or air force matters generally, aliens, immigration, currency and treaties and relations with foreign states except insofar as it may be necessary for laws to be made in Malta to enable effect to be given to any treaty extending to Malta. Laws dealing with "reserved matters" may be made by the Governor subject to His Majesty's approval, or by Order in Council.

The Governor is assisted by two Councils, the Executive Council, consisting of the Cabinet, and the Nominated Council, consisting of the Lieutenant-Governor, the Legal Secretary, (who are ex officio members) and three officers chosen from the Navy, Army and Air Force. There is a Privy Council which consists of the members of the Executive Council and the members of the Nominated Council and the Governor may, as occasion may require, appoint a Joint Committee of the Privy Council consisting of three members of the Executive Council, nominated by the Prime Minister and three members of the Nominated Council selected by the Governor.

WORLD ORGANIZATIONS

THE UNITED NATIONS

The United Nations is a world organization for the maintenance of peace and security and for the promotion of the welfare of humanity built around the wartime union of free peoples in defence of civilization.

Through a series of conferences, at Dumbarton Oaks (August-October 1944), at Yalta (February 1945) and at San Francisco (April-June 1945), the Charter of the United Nations was produced. The detailed plans for setting up the Organization under the Charter were then drawn up by the Preparatory Commission and its Executive Committee.

The main organs of the United Nations are: the General Assembly, the Security Council, the Economic and Social Council, the Trusteeship Council, the International Court of Justice, the Secretariat.

The General Assembly is composed of representatives of the 59 Member States with one vote each. It is the only organ of the United Nations on which all members are represented. It is a deliberative body where the Members have the opportunity to exchange views and state their problems.

At the Fourth Session of the General Assembly the Honourable Lester B. Pearson was Chairman of the Canadian Delegation.

The Security Council is composed of five permanent members, China, France, the United Kingdom, the United States and the Soviet Union. In addition, there are six non-permanent members elected by the General Assembly for a term of two years. The principal function of the Security Council is to examine questions endangering the maintenance of international peace and security, and to adopt and apply means to solve dangerous international situations or disputes. Each member of the Security Council has one vote. Decisions on procedural matters are made by an affirmative vote of seven members. On all other matters an affirmative vote of seven members, including the concurring votes of the five permanent members, is required (unless, in certain circumstances, a permanent member abstains from voting). Thus, the negative vote of one permanent member is sufficient to prevent the taking of a substantive decision. This is the "veto" power.

A Military Staff Committee, consisting of the Chiefs of Staff of the permanent members of the Security Council or their representatives, advises and assists the Security Council on all questions relating to the Council's military requirements for the maintenance of international peace and security, the regulation of armaments or possible disarmament.

According to a Resolution of the General Assembly, 24 January 1946, an Atomic Energy Commission was established, composed of one representative of each State on the Security Council, and of Canada, when that State is not a member of the Security Council. The purpose of the Commission is to deal with problems raised by the discovery of atomic energy and other related matters.

The Canadian Representative on the Atomic Energy Commission is General Andrew G. L. McNaughton.

The Security Council on February 13, 1947, established a Commission for Conventional Armaments, composed of representatives of all members of the Security Council, to make proposals for: the general regulation and reduction of armaments and armed forces, and practical and effective safeguards in this connection. The Commission may not, however, deal with matters being dealt with by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Economic and Social Council is composed of representatives of eighteen Member States elected by the General Assembly for a term of three years. Its function is to study and report on social and economic problems throughout the world, and to suggest means for their solution. It is authorized to enter into agreements with specialized agencies for the purpose of bringing them into relationship with the United Nations. Such agreements are subject to approval by the General Assembly. Agreements with the following agencies are in force: International Labour Organization (ILO); Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO); United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO); International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO); International Bank for Reconstruction and Development; International Monetary Fund; World Health Organization (WHO); Universal Postal Union (UPU); International Telecommunication Union (ITU); and International Refugee Organization (IRO). Agreements have also been authorized with: International Trade Organization (ITO); Inter-Governmental Maritime Consultative Organization (IMCO); and the World Meteorological Organization (WMO).

The following Commissions have been established to aid the Economic and Social Council in its work: Economic and Employment Commission, Transport and Communications Commission, Fiscal Commission, Statistical Commission, Population Commission, Social Commission, Commission on Human Rights, Commission on the Status of Women, and the Commission on Narcotic Drugs. Three regional Commissions have also been established: Economic Commission for Europe, Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East, and Economic Commission for Latin America, while a fourth—Economic Commission for the Middle East—has been proposed.

The Trusteeship Council consists of Member Nations administering territories under trusteeship, the permanent members of the Security Council which do not, and as many other Members elected by the General Assembly as may be necessary to ensure that the total number of members in the Trusteeship Council is equally divided between those which administer trust territories and those which do not. The purpose of the Council is to study and report on economic, social, educational and cultural conditions in each territory under trusteeship, and supervise the application of trusteeship agreements.

The International Court of Justice is the principal judicial organ of the United Nations. It consists of fifteen members elected for a term of nine years by the General Assembly and by the Security Council from a list of persons nominated by national groups in the Permanent Court of Arbitration.

Mr. John E. Read, Canada—is one of the judges.

The Secretariat, under a Secretary-General appointed by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council, serves the United Nations. It is divided in the following departments: Security Council Affairs; Economic Affairs; Social Affairs; Trusteeship and Information from Non-Self-Governing Territories; Public Information; Legal Affairs; Conference and General Services; Administrative and Financial Services. There is, in addition, the Executive Office of the Secretary-General.

The Interim site of the United Nations is: Lake Success, Nassau County, New York.

TABLE FOR FIGURING NET PROFITS

If your cost of doing business figured on sales is represented by one of the figures in the top horizontal line, and you advance your goods above delivered cost at one of the percentages in left hand column,—your percentage of net profit is represented by the figure at the junction of the two columns.

EXPLANATION:—If your cost of doing business is 15% of your gross sales and you mark a line at 25% above cost, your net profit is 5% on sales as shown in the diagram. If your cost of doing business is 18% and you mark a line at 60% above cost, your net profit is 19½% of sales.

RULE

Divide the cost (invoice price with freight added) by the figure in the column of "net rate per cent profit desired" on the line with per cent it cost you to do business.

EXAMPLE:

If a wagon costs	$60.00
Freight	1.20
	$61.20
You desire to make a net profit of	5%
It costs you to do business	19%

Take the figure in column 5 on line with 19 which is 76

76/61.2000/$80.50 = the selling price

THE VICTORIA CROSS

The Victoria Cross was instituted by Queen Victoria at the close of the Crimean campaign, 1856. It is a Maltese cross, made of gun metal, with a Royal Crest in the centre and underneath it an escroll bearing the inscription "For Valor," and is awarded, irrespective of rank, to members of any branch of His Majesty's services, either in the Imperial Forces or those of any British dominion, colony, dependency or protectorate, the Mercantile Marine, nurses or staffs of hospitals, or to civilians of either sex while serving in either regular or temporary capacity during naval, military, or air force operations. It is awarded only "for most conspicuous bravery or some daring or pre-eminent act of valour or self-sacrifice or extreme devotion to duty in the presence of the enemy." For additional conduct of similar bravery, a Bar is added. The ribbon was formerly red for the Army and blue for the Navy, but is now crimson for all services. An annuity of £10 a year accompanies the decoration, plus £5 a year for every Bar granted; payable to ranks below commission ranks from the date of the act which concerns the award. Navy, Army and Royal Air Force regulations provide for the annuity to be increased to the maximum of £75, including any other pension from public funds where officers and other ranks are incapable of earning a livelihood by reason of age or infirmity occasioned by a cause outside the recipient's control. Since June 17th, 1943, the financial responsibility has been assumed by the Canadian Government, and the pound sterling is deemed to have a value of $5.00 in Canadian currency where this is concerned.

TITULAR HONOURS

For some years honours involving titles have not been bestowed on Canadians living in Canada.

On May 22, 1919, during the premiership of the Rt. Hon. Robert L. Borden, a resolution adopted by the House of Commons requested His Majesty to refrain from granting titular honours to Canadian citizens in the future. This policy was reversed in 1933 when, during the premiership of the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, the Canadian Government recommended a number of such awards, which were duly granted on New Year's Day, 1934. Although titular honours were again conferred in 1935, the new administration which took office later that year under the premiership of the Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King revived the previous policy of the Government of 1919, and no titular honours have been recommended or awarded since that time.

On July 24, 1942, a Special Committee on Honours and Decorations reported to the House as follows: "As a result of their deliberations your Committee desire to make the following recommendations:

(1) That His Majesty's subjects domiciled or ordinarily resident in Canada be eligible for the award of Honours and Decorations, including awards in the Orders of Chivalry, which do not involve titles.

(2) That His Majesty's Government in Canada consider a submission to His Majesty the King, of proposals for the establishment of an Order limited in number but not involving a title, for which His Majesty's subjects domiciled or ordinarily resident in Canada shall alone be eligible."

ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD, Etc.

The Order of Baronets, the lowest hereditary rank, was instituted in 1611; a Baronet is designated "Sir John Smith, Baronet"—usually written Bart. Taking precedence of Baronets are members of The Most Honourable Privy Council, who are addressed "Right Honourable."

The Most Noble Order of the Garter, instituted 1349.—K.G.

The Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle, instituted 1687.—K.T.

The Most Illustrious Order of St. Patrick, instituted 1788,—K.P.

The Most Honourable Order of the Bath, instituted in 1399, and revived in 1725, is divided into three classes—Knights Grand Cross, G.C.B.; Knights Commanders, K.C.B.; and Companions, C.B.

The Most Exalted Order of the Star of India, instituted in 1861, is divided into three classes,—Knights Grand Commanders, G.C.S.I.; Knights Commanders, K.C.S.I.; Companions, C.S.I.

The Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George, instituted in 1818, has also three classes—Knights Grand Cross, G.C.M.G.; Knights Commanders, K.C.M.G.; Companions, C.M.G.

A MARI USQUE AD MARE

The arms are those of England, Scotland, Ireland and France, with a "difference" to mark them as Canadian, namely on the lower third of the shield, a sprig of maple on a silver shield. The crest is a lion holding in its paw a red maple leaf, a symbol of sacrifice. The supporters are, with some slight distinctions, the lion and unicorn of the Royal Arms; the lion upholds the Union Jack, and the unicorn the ancient banner of France.

The motto — A MARI USQUE AD MARE— "From sea to sea" — is an extract from the Latin version of verse 8 of the 72nd Psalm — "He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth."

There is a tradition, that the Fathers of Confederation derived the designation "Dominion" from this verse.

REMUNERATION PAID TO MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

Members of the House of Commons of Canada receive $4,000.00 as a sessional indemnity, in addition they receive an annual expense allowance of $2,000.00 per annum; the Prime Minister receives in addition to his indemnity and expense allowance as a member, a salary of $15,000.00 and a motor car allowance of $2,000.00 per annum. Cabinet Ministers receive, in addition to indemnity and expense allowance as a member, a salary of $10,000.00 and a motor car allowance of $2,000.00 per annum; the leader of the opposition receives a salary of $10,000.00 plus a motor car allowance of $2,000.00 per annum, in addition to his sessional indemnity of $4,000.00 and expense allowance of $2,000.00 per annum.

The Speaker of the House of Commons receives, in addition to his sessional indemnity of $4,000.00 and expense allowance of $2,000.00 per annum, a salary of $6,000.00 and a motor car allowance of $1,000.00 per annum. He is also entitled to $3,000.00 per annum in lieu of residence. Previous to the fire of 1916 which destroyed the old Parliament Buildings, the Speaker of the House of Commons had his residence in the Parliamentary Buildings; he now lives outside, and this amount of $3,000.00 is granted to him in lieu thereof.

The Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons receives, in addition to his sessional indemnity of $4,000.00 per annum, a salary of $4,000.00, and an allowance in lieu of apartments of $1,500.00 and the expense account granted to all members of $2,000.00.

Parliamentary Assistants to Cabinet Ministers receive, in addition to their sessional indemnity of $4,000.00 a salary of $4,000.00 per annum and an expense allowance of $2,000.00.

The expense allowance of $2,000.00 granted to all members of the House of Commons is not subject to income tax except in the case of Ministers of the Crown and the Leader of the Opposition.

In addition to the Governor-General's salary of £10,000, the estimates usually include an item for office salaries, printing, stationery and other allowances, and for travelling expenses.

The salary of the Lieutenant-Governors of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec is $10,000; of Prince Edward Island $8,000; of the other Provinces $9,000.

FEDERAL PARLIAMENT REPRESENTATION

The Parliament of the Dominion of Canada consists of the Senate and the House of Commons.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

The members of the House of Commons are elected by the people. The ordinary legal limit of duration for each Parliament is five years, sitting at least once a year. The Speaker is appointed by the House.

The House of Commons of the 20th Parliament, elected June 11th, 1945, consisted of 245 members. A Redistribution Act, passed after each census, adjusts the number of representatives in the House of Commons in accordance with rules laid down in Section 51 of The British North America Act, 1867, of the Imperial Parliament, which rules have been amended from time to time.

By the Representation Act, 1947, the total membership in the House of Commons was increased from 245 to 255 to be effective at the following general election.

In the meantime, however, under the terms of a bill assented to on February 18, 1949—An Act to approve the Terms of Union of Newfoundland with Canada—provision was made for the Province of Newfoundland to be represented by seven members in the House of Commons. This brought the number of members of the 21st Parliament, elected June 27, 1949, up to 262.

Representation of the provinces is as follows: Newfoundland 7, Prince Edward Island 4, Nova Scotia 13, New Brunswick 10, Quebec 73, Ontario 83, Manitoba 16, Saskatchewan 20, Alberta 17, British Columbia 18, Yukon 1.

THE SENATE

Senators are appointed for life; must be British subjects and 30 years of age; must own lands worth net $4,000 in the province which they represent, and must be worth $4,000 above all debts. They must be residents of the province for which elected or of the electoral division in the Province of Quebec

The Speaker is appointed by the Governor-General.

The Senate as originally constituted at Confederation consisted of 72 members. Through the addition of new provinces and the general growth of Canada it now has 102 members, the latest change in representation having been made at March 31, 1949, with the admission of Newfoundland to Confederation. By provinces, representation is as follows: Newfoundland 6, Prince Edward Island 4, Nova Scotia 10, New Brunswick 10, Quebec 24, Ontario 24, Manitoba 6, Saskatchewan 6, Albert 6, British Columbia 6; total 102.

PETITIONS TO THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

A petition to the House of Commons must be presented by a Member, and such Member shall be answerable that the petition does not contain "impertinent or improper matter". One person may petition the House of Commons. Petitions may be either written or printed. When there are three or more petitioners, the signatures of at least three shall be subscribed on the sheet containing the prayer of the petition.

Long usage both here and in the United Kingdom has sanctioned the rule that every petition should commence with the superscription "To the Honourable the House of Commons in Parliament assembled". Then should follow the formula "The Petition of the undersigned —— humbly sheweth". The subject matter of the petition then follows in the third person throughout and each paragraph should commence with the word "That".

The conclusion should be the "prayer", briefly and clearly expressing the particular object which the petitioners have in view in coming before Parliament. The petition should close with the formal words "And your petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray".

Indian Affairs Branch

The administration of Indian Affairs was under the direct control of the Imperial Government until 1860, when it was transferred to the Province of Canada. By the British North America Act Indians and lands reserved for Indians, were placed under the Dominion Government. For six years after Confederation, Indian Affairs was attached to the Department of the Secretary of State. In 1873 it was transferred to the Department of the Interior, and in 1880 a separate Department of Indian Affairs was established. On Dec. 1, 1936, under the Department of Mines and Resources Act it was replaced by the Indian Affairs Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources. The Indians today number approximatly 126,000 and are located on some 2,200 reserves comprising approximately five and a half million acres of which about 200,000 acres are under cultivation. The department operates schools for Indians comprising both day and residential institutions, the latter being conducted in co-operation with various religious denominations interested in the work of Indian education. At the present time there are 381 in all of these schools educating 21,879 children. An important part of the administration is the Indian Trust Fund, which amounts to over $19,000,000 and is derived from sales or leases of land, timber, and minerals, and from other miscellaneous sources.

DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL HEALTH AND WELFARE

The establishment of the Department of National Health and Welfare was provided for under c.22 of the Statutes of 1944, and the official announcement of the organization of the Department was made on October 13, 1944. It is composed of a Health Branch and a Welfare Branch, each under a deputy minister, and an administrative branch.

The Health Branch is responsible specifically for the Food and Drugs Act, The Opium and Narcotic Drug Act, the Quarantine Act, the Public Works Health Act, the Leprosy Act, the Proprietary or Patent Medicines Act and those sections of the Canada Shipping Act and the Immigration Act dealing with the care of sick mariners and the medical examination of prospective immigrants. It maintains a laboratory of hygiene, food and drugs laboratories and industrial health laboratory. It administers the following divisions: civil service health division, industrial health division, mental health division, division of narcotic control, food and drugs divisions, public health engineering division, quarantine, immigration medical service and treatment of sick mariners division, blindness control division, child and maternal health division, civil aviation medicine division, dental health division, epidemiology division, hospital design division, nutrition division, venereal disease control division, and Indian health services (including Eskimos).

The Health Branch is advised by a number of technical committees chief of which is the Dominion Council of Health. This Council, authorized by the National Health and Welfare Act, is the main co-ordinating agency in the public health field and advises the Minister of National Health and Welfare on the formulation of policy. The Council is composed of the Deputy Minister of National Health as chairman, the Chief Executive Officer of each provincial Health Department and five other persons. There are also Dominion-Provincial Committees of a technical and advisory nature dealing with specific health problems.

The Welfare Branch administers The Family Allowances Act which was passed in 1944 and became effective July 1, 1945. This legislation was designed to equalize, in some measure, the economic status of persons with families compared with others without similar obligations. This Branch also administers the federal government's responsibilities under the Old Age Pensions Act and the National Physical Fitness Act. Under the latter, grants to the provinces are available for the improvement of physical standards through sports, athletics and other recreational pursuits.

Actual administration of the Old Age Pensions Act is carried out by the provinces, with the federal government paying 75 per cent. of the cost of the pensions.

The war charities division administers the War Charities Act. The voluntary war relief division completed its work and ceased operation in March, 1949. These two divisions were formerly part of the Department of National War Services.

The department is responsible for the enforcement of any public health regulations made by the International Joint Commission apropos boundary waters between the United States and Canada. It maintains a directorate of health insurance studies, which administers the National Health Grants Program. The department has divisions responsible for research into public health and welfare problems and the publication of information and educational material on public health, improved sanitation, social and industrial conditions and related subjects. It is empowered to co-operate with provincial authorities in efforts made or proposed to improve public health and provide social security and welfare.

DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL REVENUE

From Confederation on July 1, 1867, until May 17 1918, Customs and Inland Revenue Acts were administered by two separate government departments known as the Department of Customs, constituted by statute (31 Vic. Chap. 43), and the Department of Inland Revenue constituted by statute (31 Vic. Chap. 49). On May 18, 1918, by Order in Council these two Departments were amalgamated and combined under the name of the Department of Customs and Inland Revenue and under one Minister of the Crown.

On April 1, 1921, the name Inland Revenue was dropped and the Department of Customs and Excise constituted (11-12 Geo. V. 26).

The collection of Income Tax was placed under the control of the Minister of Customs and Excise on April 1, 1924, and by the Department of National Revenue Act (17 Geo. V. Chap. 34) the name was changed to the Department of National Revenue.

OLD AGE PENSIONS AND PENSIONS FOR BLIND PERSONS IN CANADA

Old Age Pensions and Pensions for Blind Persons are non-contributory pensions subject to a means test and paid under a Dominion-Provincial plan. The provinces are responsible for the administration and the Dominion pays seventy-five per cent of the cost of the pensions.

A province is free to fix in its agreement with the Dominion both the maximum pension payable and the maximum income allowed within the limits specified in the Old Age Pensions Act. The Dominion's contribution, however, cannot exceed seventy-five per cent of $40 a month in any case and is payable only where the pensioner fulfils the requirements set forth in the Dominion Act and the Regulations made thereunder.

The principal requirements are age, residence and income. For an old age pensioner the age at which pension may be granted is seventy years and for a blind pensioner, twenty-one years. The Act requires that an applicant must have resided in Canada for the twenty years immediately preceding the date of the proposed commencement of the pension. Both the Act and the Regulations, however, make special provision for pensioners who have been absent during the twenty-year period. The maximum income, including pension, allowed in the case of an unmarried old age pensioner is $600 a year and in the case of a married old age pensioner, $1,080 a year. Higher amounts are allowed for blind pensioners and for married old age pensioners with spouses who are blind.

The transfer of property by an applicant or his spouse may delay the granting of a pension. The provincial pension authority must decide whether or not an assignment or transfer of property was made for the purpose of qualifying the applicant for pension or for a higher pension than he would otherwise receive.

Administration of pensions is entrusted to the authorities appointed by the respective provincial governments, to whom applications are to be made.

The federal government's administrative responsibilities are discharged by the Department of National Health and Welfare.

For Provincial Pensions Commissioners, see index under "Old Age Pensions".

THE FARMERS' CREDITORS ARRANGEMENT ACT 1943

Director—C. A. Port, Department of Finance Ottawa.

This Act was passed by Parliament July 21, 1943, and proclaimed as coming into force December 15, 1943, replacing The Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act, 1934.

The legislation is designed with a view to effecting compromises or rearrangements of the debts of farmers with the object of retaining them on the land as efficient producers and also to simplify the operation of the Bankruptcy Act with respect to farmers generally. The compromise provisions are available only to farmers in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The simplified bankruptcy provisions are available to farmers in all nine provinces.

All Clerks of the County and District Courts throughout the Dominion are Official Receivers for the purposes of the Act. In districts where the Clerk of the Court was unable to act as Official Receiver, substitutes have been appointed.

A farmer may submit a proposal to an Official Receiver who calls a meeting of creditors and endeavours to effect an amicable settlement. If successful, he applies to the County or District Court Judge for approval. If unsuccessful, a request may be signed that the Court formulate a proposal binding on all parties, subject to appeal.

An Appeal Court has been constituted in each of the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

ROYAL CANADIAN ARMY CADETS

Colonel-in-Chief: His Majesty the King

Address—Directorate of Military Training, Army Headquarters, Ottawa, Ont.

The Army Cadet organization had its beginnings in the formation of School Cadet Corps during and after the American Civil War, 1861—1866. Such Corps were first authorized by an Amendment to the Militia Act, dated 9th June 1862.

In 1942, the Department of National Defence completed plans to expand the Cadet Movement, regularize the training and, where desirable, to associate cadets with the Reserve Force.

Cadets receive a realistic pre-military training. In addition, great emphasis is placed on the development of better physique and in the study of the future obligations of Cadets as citizens.

The total strength of the R.C. Army Cadets, August, 1948, is 50,000, organized in corps and detachments. The uniform is khaki with red cap flash.

THE ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE

The Royal Canadian Air Force (formed as the C.A.F. in 1920, granted the title "Royal" in 1923, and re-organized as a permanent force on April 1, 1924). Originally consisting of two components, Regular and Auxiliary, it was expanded during the war to include a Special Reserve, a Women's Division, and the Air Cadets. The pre-war strength of the Force was approximately 4,600 officers and men; during the course of the conflict the strength rose to a maximum of over 215,000, including more than 15,000 members of the Women's Division.

The R.C.A.F.'s major task in the War was the development and administration of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, under which 131,553 aircrew personnel were trained in the Dominion for the air forces of Britain, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. Of the graduates of the training schools over 55% were members of the R.C.A.F., 32% of the R.A.F., and the remainder came from the R.A.A.F. and R.N.Z.A.F. The B.C.A.T.P. agreement, which had been signed at Ottawa in December 1939 and extended in June 1942, expired on March 31, 1945.

Between September 1939 and May 1945 units of the home establishment, operating from bases on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, in Alaska and the Aleutians, Newfoundland, Labrador and Iceland, were engaged in coastal patrol, convoy protection, anti-submarine and fighter duties. Overseas 47 R.C.A.F. squadrons served in the Western European, Mediterranean, Indian and Burmese theatres. Fourteen heavy bomber squadrons comprised No. 6 R.C.A.F. Group in Bomber Command; another was in the Pathfinder Force. Twenty day fighter, fighter-reconnaissance, fighter-bomber, night fighter and intruder squadrons fought over Western Europe as components of the 2nd Tactical Air Force and Fighter Command. Another day fighter squadron flew with the Desert Air Force in its campaigns from Egypt to Italy. In Coastal Command there were five R.C.A.F. units, including one based in Ceylon. Three transport squadrons carried troops and supplies in Western Europe and Burma, while three A.O.P. units worked with the Canadian Army in the Netherlands and Germany during the last weeks of the war. In addition to the personnel of these squadrons there were many thousands of R.C.A.F. aircrew and groundcrew who served with R.A.F. units overseas. Plans for the Force's participation in the "second phase" against Japan—in addition to the two transport squadrons and R.C.A.F. personnel serving in the Far East—were cut short by the termination of hostilities.

For a time the R.C.A.F. contributed a number of squadrons for the British Air Forces of Occupation in Germany and for transport work. The last of these was disbanded in June 1946.

PERMANENT FORCE

Overall control of the R.C.A.F. (Regular) is carried out from Air Force Headquarters, Ottawa, and the Force is divided into four Commands. Training Command, with headquarters at Trenton Ont., covers eastern Canada, and has as its main responsibility the training of air and ground personnel. It has one subdivision, Maritime Group, with headquarters at Halifax, N.S. This Group is concerned with operational responsibility for the east coast area. North West Air Command, with headquarters at Edmonton, Alta., embraces all of western Canada and most of the Far North. It has two sub-divisions, Tactical Group, with headquarters at Winnipeg, Man., and 12 Group, with headquarters at Vancouver, B.C. Activities of N.W.A.C. and its subordinate Groups also exist, Air Transport Command, with headquarters at Rockcliffe, Ont., and Air Materiel Command, with headquarters at Ottawa. A.T.C. directs and supervises the operation of R.C.A.F. transport and photographic activities, in accordance with A.F.H.Q. policy. A.M.C. directs and coordinates activities concerned with equipment, supply, aero engineering, construction engineering and aeronautical inspection throughout the R.C.A.F. Establishment for the R.C.A.F. (Regular) stands at 18,278 officers and men. Squadrons already in existence include fighter, fighter-bomber, photographic, and transport squadrons, and search and rescue flights and other special flying units also exist.

RESERVE FORCE

Ten Reserve Squadrons have been formed, at Montreal, P.Q. (2), Toronto, Ont., Hamilton, Ont., London, Ont., Winnipeg, Man., Saskatoon, Sask., Edmonton, Alta., Calgary, Alta., and Vancouver, B.C. In addition, the formation of ground Reserve Units has also commenced, the first of these being No. 1 Radar and Communication Unit, Montreal. Formation of other ground Reserve Units is taking place.

ROYAL CANADIAN AIR CADETS

The Air Cadet League of Canada was formed in November, 1940, as a voluntary civilian organization to foster and administer Air Cadets throughout Canada. The training programme for this organization was the responsibility of the R.C.A.F. and, together with the Air Cadet League, it encouraged and directed the airmindedness of Canadian youth and provided a preliminary training for potential members of the R.C.A.F. Regular and Reserve Forces. The Air Cadets became a component of the R.C.A.F. in April, 1943, and by Order in Council were renamed the Royal Canadian Air Cadets in July, 1946.

During the war, approximately 380 Squadrons were formed with a total membership of about 30,000. These numbers have been reduced and the Air Cadets are now on a peacetime basis with approximately 200 Squadrons and 15,000 Cadets. A detailed and comprehensive syllabus of training has been prepared to provide Canadian youth with a basic education in aviation and other closely associated subjects which will better fit them for peacetime pursuits

FLAGS FLOWN IN CANADA AND OVERSEAS

FLAG OF GOVERNOR GENERAL—In 1930 His late Majesty King George V approved the design of a Flag for the Governor General of Canada which would be symbolic of the position of the Governor General as the King's personal representative. The Flag so approved by His late Majesty is of the following description:

"On a blue field, the Royal Crest,—the Imperial Crown proper, thereon a lion statant-guardant or, "crowned proper—subscribed 'CANADA' in black on a yellow scroll."

THE UNION JACK is the Flag to be flown by British subjects on land in all His Majesty's dominions. With the badge of a province it is the official flag of the Lieutenant-Governor of that province. The union or union jack, is the device on the king's colour of Canadian regiments. The union jack is flown on selected forts, armouries, drill halls and other buildings occupied by the Canadian army in Canada.

(Refer also to paragraph "The Canadian Red Ensign").

THE CANADIAN RED ENSIGN, with the Shield of the Arms of the Dominion of Canada in the fly, was authorized by Admiralty Warrant of the 2nd February, 1892, to be used on board Canadian registered merchant vessels. Following the authorization of a new Coat of Arms for the Dominion of Canada in 1921, it was provided by Order in Council (P.C. 843, 26th April, 1922) that the Shield of the Arms of Canada appearing on the fly of the Canadian Red Ensign should be the Shield of the new Canadian Coat of Arms. In 1934, by Chapter 89 (1) of the Canada Shipping Act, Chapter 44, Statutes of Canada, 1934, statutory provision was made for the flying of the Canadian Red Ensign on ships of Canadian registry.

The Canadian Red Ensign may be flown by the Canadian Army, within or without Canada, when, at the discretion of the officer commanding a command, or Army Headquarters, the place or the occasion makes it desirable to fly a distinctive Canadian flag.

THE CANADIAN RED ENSIGN AS A NATIONAL FLAG

By Order in Council (P.C. 134, 26th January, 1924) the display of the Canadian Red Ensign was authorized from "all buildings owned or occupied by the Canadian Government and situated without Canada."

On Sept. 5, 1945, Order in Council P.C. 5888 was issued as follows:

"That, until such time as action is taken by Parliament for the formal adoption of a national flag, it is desirable to authorize the flying of the Canadian Red Ensign on Federal government buildings within as well as without Canada, and to remove any doubt as to the propriety of flying the Canadian Red Ensign wherever place or occasion may make it desirable to fly a distinctive Canadian flag;

Therefore, His Excellency the Governor General in Council, on the recommendation of the Prime Minister, is pleased to order and doth hereby order that the Red Ensign with the shield of the Coat of Arms of Canada in the fly (hereinafter referred to as "the Canadian Red Ensign") may be flown from buildings owned or occupied by the Federal government within and without Canada.

His Excellency in Council, on the same recommendation, is further pleased to declare and doth hereby declare that it shall be appropriate to fly the Canadian Red Ensign within and without Canada wherever place or occasion may make it desirable to fly a distinctive Canadian flag.

Nothing herein shall be deemed to alter in any way the provisions now in force with respect to the flying of the Blue Ensign with the shield of the Coat of Arms of Canada in the fly on Canadian Naval vessels and other government vessels, nor with respect to the Flying of the Canadian Red Ensign on Canadian Merchant vessels."

Up to November, 1948, no further action has been taken by the Parliament of Canada towards the adoption of a distinctive Canadian Flag.

THE CANADIAN BLUE ENSIGN, with the Shield of the Arms of the Dominion of Canada in the fly, is used on the Jack staff of all ships and vessels of the Royal Canadian Navy and has also been adopted as the official flag for vessels in the Canadian Government Service. Ships operated by provincial government departments, ships and yachts attached to Royal Yacht Clubs in Canada, and merchant ships carrying a specified number of naval reservists as part crew, may wear the Canadian Blue Ensign on authority of a Warrant to do so, issued by the Minister of National Defence.

WHITE ENSIGN—Under agreements made between the Canadian Government and the Government of the United Kingdom at the Imperial Conference 1911, Ships of War of the Dominion of Canada hoist at the stern the White Ensign as a symbol of the authority of the Crown.

NAVAL BOARD FLAG—In 1943, approval was given to a flag to be flown by the Naval Board of Canada. The design is: The Admiralty anchor in gold in the centre of the flag, on red and blue, bisected diagonally with the blue portion nearest the staff, and the red portion uppermost. The flag may be flown both day and night from naval headquarters and shall be flown both day and night in H.M.C. ships and establishments when (i) two or more members are present in their official capacities, or (ii) His Excellency The Governor General of Canada is embarked.

This flag, if flown at naval headquarters, shall only be struck at naval headquarters when the Board as a whole is absent.

R.C.A.F. ENSIGN—The flag has a light blue background with the Union Jack in the canton next the staff In the centre of the fly (away from the staff) is a red maple leaf on a white roundel superimposed on a dark blue roundel. The Royal Canadian Air Orders provide that the Royal Canadian Air Force Ensign is to be flown daily at all Royal Canadian Air Force formations, units, and detachments.

THE ROYAL CANADIAN NAVAL BADGE. It consists of a fouled anchor or, upon an oval-shaped shield of deep azure from which issue eight maple leaves or, four from the dexter side and four from the sinister, and a ninth in base below the shield erect; the shield ensigned with the Royal Crown properly coloured.

CANADIAN ARMY BADGE. A new badge for the Canadian Army was approved in 1947 by His Majesty the King. This badge is for the use of the Canadian Army as a whole and will replace the present Coat of Arms on army stationery, publications, etc. The following is a description of the approved design: Three hard maple leaves conjoined on one stem, red; upon two Crusader's swords saltirewise points upwards, blade and grip in natural colours, guards and pommels gold; ensigned with the Imperial Crown.

THE R.C.A.F. BADGE. This was approved by His Majesty the King in February, 1943. The official description of the badge is: in front of a circle inscribed with the motto PER ARDUA AD ASTRA and ensigned with the Imperial Crown, an eagle volant affronte, the head lowered and to the sinister; beneath the whole upon a scroll the words ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE.

NOVA SCOTIA FLAG. The official flag of the province of Nova Scotia is the blue cross of St. Andrew on a white field, with the Royal Lion mounted thereon. The flag was originally authorized by Charles I in 1625. In 1929, on petition of Nova Scotia, a Royal Warrant of King George V was issued, revoking the modern Arms and ordering that the original Arms granted by King Charles I be borne upon shields, banners and otherwise according to the laws of Arms. Since that time, the Nova Scotia Flag has been in continual use.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC FLAG. The official flag of the Province of Quebec was adopted by Order-in-Council No. 72 on January 1st, 1948. The flag thus adopted is generally known as the "fleurdelisé" flag. It is a white cross on a sky blue ground, with the fleur-de-lis in an upright position on the blue ground in each of the four corners of the flag.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTROL BOARD

REGULATIONS RE IMPORT AND EXPORT OF GOODS, ETC.

The following is a summary of the Foreign Exchange Control Act and Regulations in so far as they relate to the importation of goods into Canada and the export of goods from Canada. Those requiring full information should apply to a Collector of Customs and Excise, chartered bank, or to the Foreign Exchange Control Board, Ottawa, or its offices in Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver, Windsor, and St. John's.

Buying or Selling Foreign Exchange

All such transactions must be through an authorized dealer, which term includes all chartered banks.

The personnel and address of the Foreign Exchange Control Board are given elsewhere in this volume; see index.

Sterling Transactions

Under United Kingdom exchange control regulations, sterling normally may be transferred to Canada only from sterling area countries and may be transferred from Canada only to such countries. "Sterling area countries" are the United Kingdom, the British Dominions and Empire (excluding Canada), British mandated territories, protectorates and protected states, Burma, Ireland, Iraq, and Iceland.

IMPORTS

1. General

The procedure described in this Article is designed primarily to ensure that when payments are made to non-residents, either in foreign exchange or Canadian dollars, for the purchase of goods, goods to the value of the payments are in fact brought into Canada.

2. Currency of Payment for Imports

(a) In general, a resident of Canada who buys goods which have been or are to be imported into Canada within ninety days may make payment for the fair value of the goods in appropriate currency as indicated below:

(i) Imports from sterling area countries:
  (1) Sterling paid to a resident of a sterling area country; or
  (2) Canadian dollars paid to a resident of a sterling area country or a special arrangement country referred to in (ii) below.

For the list of sterling area countries, see "Sterling Transactions" above.

(ii) Imports from special arrangement countries:
  (1) Canadian dollars paid to a resident of a special arrangement or sterling area country; or
  (2) United States dollars.

"Special arrangement countries" are Egypt, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Belgium, Luxembourg, Belgian Congo, Ruanda-Urundi, Czecho-slovakia, France and the French Empire (except French Somali Coast), Netherlands and Netherlands West and East Indies, Norway, Sweden, Palestine and Transjordan.

(iii) Imports from United States dollar area countries:
  (1) United States dollars; or
  (2) Canadian dollars.

"United States dollar area countries" are all those other than sterling area and special arrangement countries.

(b) Special authority from the Foreign Exchange Control Board is necessary before an importer may obtain or use U.S. dollars, or transfer Canadian dollars to a resident of a United States dollar area country to pay for goods which have been or are to be exported to a sterling area or special arrangement country unless

(i) the goods have been or are to be processed in Canada; or

(ii) payment for the export has been or is to be received by the Canadian exporter in U.S. dollars.

3. Import Procedure

(a) Except as noted in subparagraph (b) where Customs entry for goods imported into Canada is made on Customs Entry Form B.1 (Entry for Home Consumption), B.5 (Entry for Warehouse), or B.11 (Bill of Sight or Sight Entry), an importer is required to submit F.E.C.B. Form E to Customs. Form E is designed to be made out as one of the set of Customs forms. When the Customs entry is passed, the Collector of Customs and Excise approves the related Form E and returns it to the importer as evidence for the importer to produce to his bank that goods to the value stated have been imported.

(b) Form E will not be submitted to nor approved by Customs for:

(i) goods re-entered for warehouse (Form B.5) after having been transferred from one port in Canada to another port in Canada on Customs Form B.10 (Removal Entry);

(ii) an amending or perfecting entry;

(iii) periodical publications;

(c) Supplies of Form E are available at Customs Offices.

(d) Where Customs Import Entry is made otherwise than on Customs Form B.1, B.5, or B.11—usually imports valued at less than $100—the importer is required to obtain from Customs in place of Form E, a certified copy of the Customs form or invoice used in clearing the goods through Customs.

4. Payment Procedure

A resident of Canada desiring to obtain U.S. dollars, sterling or other foreign exchange or to pay Canadian dollars to a non-resident in settlement for imports is required to apply to his bank for a permit. The application is to be made on F.E.C.B. Form F or G. respectively (unless the amount is $25 or £35 or less) and is to be supported by the Form E covering the importation of the goods or, where Form E was not required, the Customs document referred to in par. 3 (d). Where application for foreign exchange or to pay Canadian dollars is made before the goods are imported, Form E is to be surrendered to the bank, or the other Customs documents are to be exhibited to it, as soon as importation is made. The bank "matches" Forms F or G covering payments for imports with Forms E or other Customs documents evidencing the importation of the goods.

In the later printings of Form E provision is made whereby an application to a bank for foreign exchange to settle in full for goods already imported may be made on the back of the Form E itself. Where this is done, an application on Form F is not necessary.

EXPORTS

1. General

The procedure described in this Article is to ensure that when goods are exported from Canada, payment of their value is received by the exporter in an appropriate currency and, in the case of foreign exchange, is sold to an authorized dealer and thereby made available to the Board.

2. Currency of Payment for Exports

(a) In general, a resident of Canada who sells goods which have been or are to be exported is required to obtain payment of the fair value within six months of shipment in an appropriate currency as indicated below:

(i) Exports to Sterling Area Countries:
 (1) Sterling;
 (2) Canadian dollars paid from a bank account in Canada of a resident of (including a bank in) a sterling area country or a special arrangement country referred to in (b) below; or
 (3) United States dollars.

"Sterling area countries" are the United Kingdom, the British Dominions and Empire (excluding Canada), British mandated territories, protectorates and protected states, Burma, Iraq, Ireland and Iceland.

(ii) Exports to Special Arrangement Countries:
 (1) United States dollars; or
 (2) Canadian dollars paid from a bank account in Canada of a resident of (including a bank in) a special arrangement or sterling area country.

"Special arrangement countries" are Egypt, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Belgium, Luxembourg, Belgian Congo, Ruanda-Urundi, Czecho-slovakia, France and the French Empire (except French Somali Coast), Netherlands and Netherlands West and East Indies, Norway, Sweden, Palestine and Transjordan.

(iii) Exports to United States Dollar Area Countries:
United States Dollars

"United States dollar area countries" are all those other than sterling area and special arrangement countries.

(b) Exporters should note that U.S. dollars may not ordinarily be obtained or used, or Canadian dollars transferred to a resident of a United States dollar area country, to pay for goods which have been or are to be imported for re-export, without processing in Canada, to a sterling area or special arrangement country.

3. Export Procedure

Except in those cases where a Customs Export Entry is ordinarily not required (e.g. gifts up to $25 in value, other shipments up to $5 in value, travellers' baggage and effects etc.), combined Customs Export Entry and F.E.C.B. Form B.13-B is to be prepared by the exporter and delivered to the Collector of Customs and Excise at the port of exit of the goods. The exporter should hand Form B.13-B to the carrier accepting the goods for export, or if the export is by mail, to the Postmaster, for forwarding to the Collector of Customs and Excise. Three copies of the form are required for exports to Newfoundland and five copies in other cases. Where the terms of payment are in accordance with the Foreign Exchange Control Act and Regulations, the Collector (or the Postmaster) approves the Form B.13-B on behalf of the Board and sends a copy of the form to the exporter's bank.

Supplies of Form B.13-B are available at Customs Offices.

4. Proceeds of Exports

A resident of Canada who has or receives payment of any U.S. dollars, sterling or other foreign exchange is required to offer it for sale to his bank. F.E.C.B. Form C, copies of which are available at banks, is to be completed covering a sale to a bank of exchange arising from the sale of goods which have been or are to be exported where the amount is more than $100 or £35. This form is then "matched" by the bank with the copy of Form B.13-B covering the export, which the bank has received or will receive from Customs. When an exporter receives payment for an export to a "special arrangement country" in Canadian dollars the exporter's bank is notified by the bank having the account from which the payment was made, and a similar "matching" procedure is followed.

5. Exports for which No Settlement Has Been or Will Be Received

The prior approval of the Board or an authorized dealer of the Board is required in Section P of Form B.13-B for exports to countries other than Newfoundland for which no settlement has been made except in the following cases:

(a) Goods which, if being imported into Canada, would be entitled to entry under Customs tariff item 706 (including goods the property of persons accorded diplomatic privileges or of the office to which they are attached) or item 707 (goods the property of the Governor General) or item 708 (goods the property of the Imperial Government and goods exported to officers or men of the Royal Navy).

(b) Travellers' samples.

(c) Printing plates, electrotypes, matrices and similar articles used in the printing trade if being exported without charge by or for use in newspapers or periodicals, or re-exported after having been imported without charge by or for use in newspapers or periodicals.

(d) Goods of no commercial value, including samples exported for test and samples re-exported after having been imported for test.

(e) Goods exported temporarily for repairs adjustments or to be tested, such that on return to Canada they will be eligible for entry on payment of duty on the value of repairs, adjustments or tests only.

(f) Properly identified empty containers or covers which are to be returned to Canada for entry under item 709 of the Customs tariff.

(g) Animals and articles, the property of non-residents, entered ex-warehouse for export after having been imported for exhibition or convention purposes.

(h) Imported periodicals or covers of imported periodicals being re-exported from Canada.

(i) Stores, equipment and supplies exported by a railway company which operates lines in both Canada and elsewhere, provided that such stores, equipment and supplies are being exported for its own use and are not being exported for sale outside Canada.

(j) Household furniture, personal effects, professional instruments and tools of trade, passenger automobiles, bicycles and motorcycles exported by or for an individual on change of domicile, solely for the owner's or his immediate family's use and not for sale; and

(k) Gifts up to a value not exceeding $100 per shipment.

6. Special Permits

The procedure outlined above in paragraphs 3 and 4 does not apply to exporters who carry out their transactions under BD and NS permits issued by the Board.

CANADIANS TRAVELLING ABROAD

UNITED STATES IMMIGRATION REGULATIONS

The United States Immigration laws apply equally to all persons not citizens of the United States on each occasion of their entry into the United States.

Every person desiring to enter the United States for any purpose whatever, even for a limited time, must have (1) a passport from the Government to which such person owes allegiance, and (2) a visa issued by an American Consular officer; excepting Canadians and British subjects having Canadian "Domicile" who may enter without passports under certain conditions (for details see below).

Visas are of two kinds: (1) Immigration visas, which are for permanent or indefinite residence in the United States, and (2) Non-immigration visas, which are for temporary entry into the United States for definite short periods for business, pleasure, transit through, et cetera.

In connection with an application for a non-immigrant visa, native born or naturalized British subjects who are legal permanent residents of the Dominion may present, in lieu of a valid passport, an expired British or Canadian passport, a valid or expired United States non-resident aliens' border crossing identification card, or a birth or Canadian naturalization certificate. A valid passport is required however in connection with all applications for consular immigration visas.

American citizens do not require passports to reenter the United States but must satisfy the immigration officials that they are in fact United States citizens. Any person who has been legally admitted to the United States but who has not become an American citizen, and who desires to visit outside the United States, should obtain a reentry permit or a resident alien's border crossing card from the immigration authorities before leaving the United States.

BORDER CROSSING REGULATIONS

CANADIAN CITIZENS AND BRITISH SUBJECTS HAVING "CANADIAN DOMICILE"

Canadian citizens may be admitted to the United States from Canada for a period of less than 6 months without passports, visas or border-crossing cards, if the purpose of their visit is business or pleasure, upon presenting to the United States Immigration Officer satisfactory evidence of their identity and citizenship.

British subjects domiciled in Canada may be admitted without passport or visa for a maximum period of 29 days.

Satisfactory evidence of identity and nationality would comprise Canadian or British passports, whether valid or expired, or a border crossing identification card issued subsequent to November 13, 1941, whether valid or expired, Canadian birth or baptismal certificates, or Canadian certificates of naturalization.

In addition, everyone should be in possession of evidence establishing that he is in fact a bona fide temporary visitor going for less than 6 months. Letters of reference from the applicant's employer or husband's employer, or bank manager if in business for self, are the most satisfactory. Those who cannot obtain one of the documents referred to above may call in person or write to the nearest U.S. Consulate or U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service Office for further information. American consulates are located in Canada at the following places: Calgary and Edmonton, Alta; Vancouver and Victoria, B.C.; Winnipeg, Man.; St. John, N.B.; Halifax, N.S.; Hamilton, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Ottawa, and Windsor, Ont.; Montreal and Quebec City, Quebec; and Regina, Sask. Offices of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service are located in all large cities in the United States; at all border ports of entry to the United States; and IN CANADA at the following places: Sidney, Vancouver, and Victoria, B.C.; Winnipeg, Man.; St. John, N.B.; Halifax, N.S.; Toronto, Ont.; Montreal and Quebec, City, P.Q.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTROL ACT REGULATIONS RE FOREIGN CURRENCY

RESIDENTS OF CANADA

Under the Foreign Exchange Control Act, every resident of Canada, other than a chartered bank, who owns or possesses foreign exchange or is entitled to a right to immediate payment of foreign exchange is required to offer it for sale to a bank in Canada. The only exceptions are that foreign banknotes and coin having a value not exceeding $10 in the ownership or possession of a resident, and foreign exchange acquired or held by a resident pursuant to a regulation or permit, need not be sold to a bank. Similarly, a resident is required to apply to a bank in Canada, or other agent of the Foreign Exchange Control Board, for any foreign exchange he requires. United States citizens who are permanent residents of Canada are regarded as residents of Canada for purposes of exchange control but a resident who is a citizen of the United States and not also a British subject may apply to the Foreign Exchange Control Board for certain limited exemption from the provisions of the Act and Regulations.

NON-RESIDENTS OF CANADA—TOURISTS

In general, Canadian dollar bank balances in Canada of non-residents may be withdrawn in Canadian funds only, and foreign currency is not furnished at the official rates of exchange in Canada. Income from Canadian sources such as bank interest, interest and dividends on Canadian securities, net salaries earned in Canada and net rentals on property owned in Canada may be remitted to non-residents in foreign currency. In so far as foreign exchange control is concerned, non-resident tourists may enter or leave Canada freely, but may not take more currency out of Canada than they brought in.

TRAVEL OUTSIDE OF CANADA

United States

On application to a Canadian bank or other agent of the Foreign Exchange Control Board, a resident of Canada may obtain up to $150 per annum in U.S. dollars for expenses in connection with travel to the United States and other non-sterling area countries. In addition a resident may obtain up to $10 U.S. per month in U.S. dollars for visits to the United States on which he will not be taking out of Canada more than a total of $25 including not more than $10 in U.S. currency. Where the travel is necessary for genuine health or educational reasons, the traveller may obtain more than the annual allotment of $150 in U.S. dollars. Any reasonable amounts of U.S. dollars may be obtained for business travel.

Sterling Area Countries

(France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland)

For travel expenditures in sterling area countries such as the United Kingdom and British West Indies and the other countries mentioned above, applications are normally approved for any reasonable amounts of Canadian dollars or in the case of travel to sterling countries, in sterling.

Travel Permit

A travel permit on Form H must be obtained from the bank or other agent and surrendered to Customs at the time a resident traveller is leaving Canada unless the total value of banknotes, coin and travellers' cheques in the travellers' possession does not exceed $25 and not more than $10 of the total is foreign banknotes and coin and travellers' cheques payable in foreign currency.

GAME LAWS, FISHERY REGULATIONS, CLOSE SEASONS, LICENCES, &c.

The Dominion Government has the sole legislative authority over the fisheries of Canada, both coastal and inland, under which laws are made for the protection and conservation of the fisheries in all the provinces. The provinces, however, have property rights in the non-tidal fisheries. Over a period of years various arrangements have been made between the Dominion and the provinces dividing the administrative (but not the legislative) authority over fisheries. Under these arrangements the Dominion Government not only legislates but also administers the fisheries in all Canadian tidal waters except those of Quebec. In the non-tidal waters of Canada the Dominion Government administers the fisheries of the Yukon, Northwest Territories, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The non-tidal fisheries of the other provinces are administered by the provincial authorities which enforce, on behalf of the Federal Government, the Dominion-made laws regulating the fisheries as such.

Newfoundland, now a Canadian province, falls under these administrations. In Quebec the Provincial Government undertook the responsibility of enforcement of the Dominion-made laws also in respect of tidal fisheries.

Fisheries in National Parks of Canada are under the administration of the National Parks Service of the federal Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa.

For further information as to fisheries regulations apply to the Department of Fisheries, Ottawa, or, in the case of National Parks, to the National Parks Service, Ottawa. For information as to fishing licence fees in any area apply to the administrative authority indicated above.

Migratory birds are protected under a Dominion law known as the Migratory Birds Convention Act, which is administered by the Dominion Wildlife Service, Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, Canada, and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. This Act is based upon the Migratory Birds Treaty with the United States.

With this exception, and except in National Parks, game laws are under the administration of the various provinces and territories.

A Dominion Law, the Game Export Act, passed in 1941, prohibits the export of game from any province or territory without permit from the province or territory. It has been proclaimed for all provinces and territories except Prince Edward Island.

More than seventy bird sanctuaries have been established by the Dominion Government under the Migratory Birds Convention Act, referred to above. Bird sanctuaries have also been established by many of the provinces under their own laws.

Details as to closed seasons, licences, etc., are not given here, owing to the fact that regulations for the ensuing months are, in some cases, not available when this volume goes to press and where available are often subject to changes before the opening of the season.
